There were no Regular Agenda items.

Councilor Ellen Robertson informed her colleagues of proposed legislation scheduled to be introduced for expedited consideration later that evening at the Formal Session of Council, supporting an economically mixed project to be located at 500 Maury Street, which she stated was time-sensitive and requested their support.

Vice President Ann-Frances Lambert requested to be added as a co-patron of Ord. 2024-092.

There were no further comments or discussions concerning Consent Agenda items.

Other Discussion Item*Diamond District Development Project (2024) Update

Sharon Ebert, deputy chief administrative officer – Economic Development, provided Council with an update regarding the proposed Diamond District (DD) development, which included an overview of the proposed project, information regarding the development team and phase one build out, a comparison of the previous and current bond approaches for financing the new baseball stadium and the expected project timeline. A copy of the presentation and handout provided has been filed.

Councilor Andreas Addison reiterated the city's use of a special revenue bond to now finance the cost of the new baseball stadium and phase one of the DD development, which is an estimated 4 percent decrease in the interest rate from the originally proposed financing.

Councilor Katherine Jordan expressed her comfort with the current DD development presentation, however, she stated that she will be tracking the community benefits and design standards. Ms. Jordan also acknowledged the city's utilization of the state's sales tax incentive program, which is set to expire by July 1, 2024.

Councilor Cynthia Newbille highlighted the retainment of key components of the DD development project, and stressed the need for ongoing communication with partners, especially representatives of the minority business enterprise (MBE), as the project progresses. Councilor Newbille asked that city administration commit to adhere to her communication request. Ms. Newbille also asked that city administration monitor interest rates to mitigate any potential risk to the city.

Councilor Reva Trammell expressed her support for the DD development project, mentioning that the project will be a good tax revenue source and would move the city forward.

Councilor Ellen Robertson commended city administration on their persistency regarding the DD development project and acknowledged its affordable housing aspect.

Vice President Ann-Frances Lambert inquired regarding key personnel involved in the DD development project, homeownership along with the potential location, communication with MBE participants, new stadium cost, acquisition of the Sports Backers facility and affordable housing. Vice President Lambert requested that the Republic, an initiate development team partner, be reconciled prior to the city moving forward with the DD project.

Chief Administrative Officer Lincoln Saunders, along with the city's financial advisor, Davenport and Company, LLC, were available to answer questions concerning the updated DD development project.

After further discussion, Councilor Jordan reiterated that the special revenue bond approach would not count against any future bond capacity and would free up approximately $23.7 million in current capital improvement funding, which city administration along with Council could look to put into good use for funding other city priorities.

CAO Saunders stated that if the DD development project was adopted prior to the adoption of fiscal year 2025 budget, he is willing to work with Council to incorporate an amendment to the proposed budget to offset changes caused by the implementation of the special revenue bond approach.

Councilor Stephanie Lynch arrived at 5:13 p.m. and was seated.

President Kristen Nye stated that using the city's financial backing to fund the baseball stadium is a calculated risk, however, with the city's housing needs and popularity of the current baseball team, she feels the proposed DD development project is the city's best option for constructing a new facility, and she is interested to hear from the community.

Adjournment

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned at 5:14 p.m.
