Sabrina Joy-Hogg, Deputy Chief Administrative Officer (DCAO) for Finance and Administration, provided the committee with an introduction and additional background information regarding the proposed resolution.

Roland Kooch, Senior Vice President, Davenport & Company, provided the committee with an overview of the financial components regarding the proposed resolution.

Councilor Ann-Frances Lambert entered the meeting at 1:37 p.m.

Public Hearing

Richard Bishop, 8th District Council Liaison, spoke in support of RES. 2023-R050, and he provided a handout to the committee regarding cost of living increases (COLA) built into the Virginia Retirement System (VRS).

A copy of the material provided has been filed.

Louisa Meyer spoke in support of RES. 2023-R050, and stated the introduction of RES. 2023-R050 has prompted valuable insight into what employees would want their retirement plans to look like.

Robin Redmond, Deputy Director of Human Resources, spoke in support of RES. 2023-R050, and stated there are only seven Virginia municipalities that are not in VRS. Ms. Redmond also stated that entering into VRS will help bring in more employees and make Richmond City an employer of choice.

Jeffery Crawford, Program and Operations Manager for Department of Finance, spoke in support of RES. 2023-R050, and stated that potential employees won't take the risk of working for the city due to it not being a part of VRS.

Rene Almaraz, Director of Procurement Services, spoke in support of RES. 2023-R050, and stated entering into VRS will attract and retain quality candidates for employment.

Christine Wengloski spoke in support of RES. 2023-R050, and stated her decision to transition from working with the state government to the city was difficult due to the city not being a part of VRS.

Matthew Peanort, Business Services Program Manager, Richmond City Police, spoke in support of RES. 2023-R050, and addressed the loss of quality talent due to the city not being a part of VRS.

Meiling Qu, city employee, spoke in support of RES. 2023-R050, and addressed her previous contributions into VRS, and she stated the choices of asset allocations gave employees the opportunity to choose their own retirement track.

Ashley Crews, city employee, spoke in support of RES. 2023-R050, and addressed the loss of quality candidates due to the city not being a part of VRS.

Robert Steidel, Deputy Chief Administrative Officer (DCAO) for Operations, spoke in support of RES. 2023-R050, and stated he had 14 years vested into VRS before coming to work for the city. DCAO Steidel also addressed the difficulty in attracting quality employment candidates due to the city not being a part of VRS.

Sheila White, Director of Finance, spoke in support of RES. 2023-R050, and stated that the passing of the resolution will make the Richmond City an employer of choice.

Tyrome Alexander, Director of Human Resources, spoke in support of RES. 2023-R050, and stated the city entering into VRS will make the city a top employer of choice.

Rachel Berry, Human Resources Leadership and Development Specialist, spoke in support of RES. 2023-R050, and stated that the city has a multi-generational work force that should have the choice to enter into VRS.

Jessica Singer, city employee, spoke in support of RES. 2023-R050, and stated VRS offers stability and better funding opportunities due to having a COLA. Ms. Singer also stated that entering into VRS will give her the opportunity for better security for retirement.

Donetta McQueen, city employee, spoke in support of RES. 2023-R050, and stated that her contributions going into VRS will have better financial gain and more retirement stability.

Diveda Palmer, Human Resources Training and Development Division Chief, spoke in support of RES. 2023-R050, and stated that during her onboarding process the discussion of retirement benefits became an issue. Ms. Palmer also stated that the city could use VRS as a employment recruitment tool.

Megan Field, Office of the Chief Administrative Officer (CAO), Senior Policy Advisor, spoke in support of RES. 2023-R050, and stated that the current retirement plan is the least generous she has seen in any locality.

Leonard Sledge, Director of Economic Development, spoke in support of RES. 2023-R050, and stated that the city will benefit from entering into VRS in the recruitment of quality employees.

Sharon Ebert, Deputy Chief Administrative Officer for Housing and Economic Development, spoke in support of RES. 2023-R050, and stated that entering into VRS will help the city maintain and recruit top talent.

Bobby Vincent, Director of Public Works, spoke in support of RES. 2023-R050, and stated that entering into VRS will help the city maintain and recruit top talent.

April Bingham, Director of Public Utilities, spoke in support of RES. 2023-R050, and stated the employee experience is closely tied with customer experience and entering into VRS will make sure that quality employees are retained to continue to deliver services to the city.

Darryl Rivers, Department of Public Utilities Programs and Operations Supervisor, spoke in support of RES. 2023-R050, and stated that entering into VRS will allow city employees to maintain their retirement future.

Carl Scott, Richmond Coalition of Police (RCOP) Vice President, requested the committee to continue consideration of RES. 2023-R050. Mr. Scott stated the transition from RRS to VRS is monumental, and that incomplete data adds more questions to the policies. Mr. Scott also stated that more questions need to be answered before transitioning into VRS.

Bill Pantele, RCOP representative, requested the committee to continue consideration of RES. 2023-R050. Mr. Pantele stated that the transition to VRS is very complex and should not be rushed.

Chris Waldron, Richmond City Police Department, spoke to his concerns regarding RES. 2023-R050, and stated his concerns about the city having potential difficulty in maintaining employees due to employees being able to transition to different localities that offer VRS.

Keith Andes, Richmond Professional Firefighter Association IAFF Local #955 President, stated his concerns regarding RES. 2023-R050, and stated additional employee informational meetings should be scheduled before moving forward with the transition into VRS.

Councilor Katherine Jordan inquired if city administration could speak to providing additional information sessions to answer employee questions regarding transitioning to VRS. Member Jordan also inquired about implications of having a January 1st start date versus July 1st.

Sabrina Joy-Hogg, Deputy Chief Administrative Officer (DCAO) for Finance and Administration, stated the transition into VRS can wait until July 1st, but would require city administration to reanalyze all of the financial components. DCAO Joy-Hogg also stated that there is an email account in place to provide answers to further questions. DCAO Joy-Hogg further stated that city employees who choose to transition into VRS will have the opportunity to have individual training and counseling sessions with VRS. DCAO Joy-Hogg noted that over 1,000 employees were in attendance over the course of several information sessions.

Vice Chair Ellen Robertson stated that the transition to VRS is a complex process and stated her appreciation to city administration for undertaking the transition. Ms. Robertson also stated that she would like for all city employees to have all questions answered to make the transition easier.

Councilor Ann-Frances Lambert stated that she wanted to make sure that front-line employees who could not attend information sessions are given the most updated information to make their choices. Ms. Lambert also stated she was informed that supervisors of front-line employees did not allow them to attend information sessions.

Chair Cynthia Newbille asked for clarity regarding upcoming transitional steps into VRS.

DCAO Sabrina Joy-Hogg stated that once the transition is made to VRS, employees will have to opportunity to meet with financial advisors to make the best informed choices for their retirement. DCAO Joy-Hogg also stated that current employees will have one year to choose to move into VRS.

There were no further comments or discussions and Vice Chair Ellen Robertson moved to forward RES. 2023-R050 to Council with the recommendation to approve, which was seconded and was unanimously approved.

The following resolution was considered:

5. RES. 2023-R048 To express the Mayor's and City Council's support, should the voters of Richmond approve a referendum for the development and operation of a destination resort and casino in the city of Richmond, for the dedication of gaming tax revenue received from such destination resort and casino to the establishment and funding of a Child Care and Education Trust Fund, and to appropriate funding of approximately $14,000,000.00 for the construction of new early childhood care centers at T. B. Smith Community Center and Southside Community Center, $8,000,000.00 for Department of Parks, Recreation, and Community Facilities projects across the city, and an immediate investment of $4,500,000.00 into the Child Care and Education Trust Fund to expand access to affordable early childhood care and education programs across the City, totaling $26,000,000.00, as soon as Fall, 2024.

Eva Colen, Manager of the Office of Children and Families, provided the committee with an introduction and additional background information regarding the proposed resolution.

Public Hearing

There were no public hearing speakers.

Member Katherine Jordan stated she had concerns about a funding source that is not yet available.

Councilor Ann-Frances Lambert inquired about available North of the James River childcare centers and why the centers are not included in the proposed resolution.

Eva Colen stated there are providers throughout the city that are currently in operation with closed classrooms due to lack of funding available to provide an adequate work force, but that the 8th and 9th districts had no established child care centers.

Vice Chair Ellen Robertson inquired about population growth of children ages zero to five years old.

Maggie Anderson, Mayor's Office Chief of Staff, stated that city administration is still trying to gather the data for the population growth.

Eva Colen stated that data set has not been a critical component and the city is only looking at the current population in need of services.

Vice Chair Robertson expressed disappointment regarding city administration not being able to provide the requested data regarding population growth of children.

Jeanna Capito, Prenatal to Five Fiscal Strategies, Ann Payes, Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of Thrive Birth to Five, and Robert Bolling, Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of Child Savers, provided the committee with additional information regarding RES. 2023-R048.
