Desire to help out my city wherever needed, recognizing that the Planning Commission will continue to play a significant role in supporting the orderly growth and revitalization of its neighborhoods within the context of a draft Master Plan to be considered, new development pressures on residential areas while at the same time there are challenges in ensuring quality affordable housing. While my consulting and development work is focused on projects outside of the city and generally outside of the region, if my background and skill set would be useful in service to the city on the City Planning Commission, or any other commission, or committee, or in an ad hoc fashion of some sort, I am very interesting in being of service to our City. I am aware of the strength of the existing Commission membership, so I do not seek to be a replacement for any existing member that may be seeking re-appointment, but for any vacancy, I would be happy to serve.

I manage a statewide non partisan grassroots, organizing, political and education operation based in Richmond. Our recent accomplishments included registering 30,000 people across the state, Knocking on more than 43,000 doors, Contacting more than 65,000 voters, Managing 19 Election Day parties and creating a community organizing program that will look to address issues found in communities of color such as housing, evictions, criminal justice reform and voting rights protections. I operate this massive Department that at its peak employed more than 65 citizens many of whom live here in the City of Richmond.

As Citizen Commissioner on the Youth Commission, have studied extensively about issues such as concerns surrounding SRO's, the School to Prison Pipeline, improving our foster care system, TANF program and workforce development, Child Abuse and Sexual abuse issues among other topics.

I am also apart of the Environmental Justice Collaborative that is working to improve the disparity that environmental policies and actions have on communities of color. We identify issues and propose solutions to these issues. We strive to inform the community and educate the community members.

With New Virginia Majority I helped to run a statewide Program that registered more than 150,000 people during my tenure. I also created a rural outreach program in the Hopewell, Sussex, Em

I am the Program Manager for RVA Rapid Transit, a local nonprofit that advocates for frequent and far-reaching transit in the Richmond region. As part of my job I'm required to read and research best practices in transportation—be it for pedestrians, people on bikes, or transit riders. I work with businesses, nonprofits, and faith-based organizations to educate Richmonders on the existing bus network while organizing them to advocate for increased bus service that provides better access to jobs, education, healthy food, and friends and family. Since every transit rider begins and ends their trip as a pedestrian, I am very familiar with (and supportive of) Vision Zero and Richmond's ongoing work to reduce traffic fatalities and severe injuries to zero by 2030. Before RVA Rapid Transit, I worked for a local independent news organization and covered transportation issues, including the process leading up to City Council's approval of the Pulse. I graduated from Virginia Tech in 2002 with a Bachelors of Science in Mathematics.

Other community involvement:

In partnership with several other nonprofits, I help with a program called City Builders that's based out of the Six Points Innovation Center. City Builders works with youth to educate them on housing and transportation policy and empowers them to come up with creative policy solutions addressing some of the issues facing the Highland Park neighborhood specifically and the City in general.

I participate in a newly formed Complete Streets task force headed up by the Richmond City Health District. We're working to organize citizens, nonprofits, and other organization to advocate for safer streets for everyone.

My wife and I are proud RPS parents.

I'm a member of City Church of Richmond.

OPTIONAL

Please list additional information you would like considered, or you may attach your resume or other information.

I walk, ride my bike, and take the bus each and every week. The safety of Richmond's streets is incredibly important—and personal—to me. Every Richmonder should have the right to move about the City safely regardless of their ability level or mode of transportation.

How did you hear about or who referred you to apply for appointment to this authority, board, commission or task force?

I follow City Council, both personally and professional, so I've known about the Safe and Healthy Streets Commission since it was renamed last year. It's a topic I care a lot about and wanted to get more deeply involved at the City level.
