

Come and Knock on our Doors!

When the Beloit Inn was remodeled this past year to become the new Ironworks Hotel, dozens of metal doors were replaced and left without homes. Visit Beloit and Friends of Riverfront had an idea to bring the doors to life again and went to work finding artists in the Stataline area. At the time, it seemed like a simple plan...

460 bolts, 368 screws, more than 50 artists, a caravan of moving trucks, 4 tubes of liquid nails, countless hours of painting, and one structural engineering firm later, all 46 doors are installed and ready to go! Begin your journey through the City of Beloit, continue to South Beloit and be inspired by the original designs of local artists, professional painters, students of all ages, and an elementary school class that really loves tigers!

Knock on our Doors in Beloit and South Beloit this summer. The Gateway to Wisconsin is now your Doorway to the Arts!

Visit Beloit thanks the City of Beloit, the City of South Beloit and all our sponsors and friends who made this project possible.
