RE: To designate the 1000 Block of N Lombardy Street in honor of Coach Howard Hopkins.

CNL-2026-0056

PURPOSE: To designate the 1000 Block of N Lombardy Street in honor of Coach Howard Hopkins.

BACKGROUND: Honorary street naming is reserved for individuals whose lives reflect sustained, meaningful contributions to the City of Richmond, and Coach Howard Hopkins exemplifies that standard through decades of service as an educator, coach, mentor, and community leader in Richmond Public Schools and the broader Richmond community. Coach Hopkins moved to Richmond in 1967 and dedicated approximately thirty years of service to Richmond Public Schools before retiring in 1997. During his career, he served as a teacher, coach, athletic director, and administrator at numerous Richmond schools including Maggie L. Walker High School, Marshall Walker, Armstrong High School, Franklin Military Academy, Huguenot High School, Albert Hill Middle School, Richmond Technical Center, and Richmond Community High School.

Coach Hopkins is particularly recognized for his role at Maggie L. Walker High School and for helping preserve and share the history of the Armstrong-Walker Classic, a cornerstone cultural tradition in Richmond's Black community for more than four decades. As assistant football coach at Maggie Walker from 1967 to 1978, Coach Hopkins helped shape generations of student athletes and civic leaders while contributing to one of Richmond's most celebrated community traditions. The Armstrong-Walker Classic served as far more than a football game; alumni and community members describe it as a citywide reunion and a source of dignity, pride, and unity for Richmond's Black community during segregation and beyond.

In interviews reflecting on Richmond’s cultural history, Coach Hopkins described the atmosphere surrounding the Classic as “electric,” recalling packed stadiums, bands, cheerleaders, and a strong sense of community pride and unity. He has continued to preserve and celebrate this history through organizing and supporting the Armstrong/Walker Football Classic Legacy Parade and related community events that reconnect alumni and educate younger generations about Richmond’s history. His mentorship extended beyond athletics, with former students and athletes describing him as a thoughtful educator, mentor, and role model who emphasized teamwork, determination, and community.

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT: This nomination is brought forward by Pierre Johnson, a former football player, student, and friend of Coach Hopkins.

ALIGNMENT WITH STRATEGIC INITIATIVES: This amendment directly advances key goals within the City of Richmond’s Mayoral Action Plan (MAP), which translates the Mayor’s seven pillars for a thriving Richmond into measurable goals and outcomes across city policy areas.

A City That Tells its Stories

Goal C: Share and document Richmond’s rich cultural history. This honorary naming directly advances the City’s goal of telling a more complete and truthful story of Richmond by recognizing the contributions of Black educators, coaches, and community leaders whose work shaped generations of Richmond residents and strengthened community identity during and after segregation. Honoring Coach Howard Hopkins also preserves and elevates the history of the Armstrong-Walker Classic and its significance to Richmond’s Black community and civic life.

FISCAL IMPACT: DPW estimates that each honorary street sign costs approximately $800 for manufacturing, installation, and some contingency although actual costs may vary. Funds are sufficient in the agency’s FY26 operating budget to cover adoption of this ordinance.

DESIRED EFFECTIVE DATE: Upon adoption.
