My career was in Economic Development and public sector finance. I understand how to analyze a project from the perspective of both financial viability, and municipal benefit. Additionally, I grew up in Goochland County and since retirement have lived in Henrico County (6 years) and the City of Richmond (8 years.) I've seen the area grow exponentially and change dramatically.

Throughout my career, I have worked with many different banks in the US and abroad. I started at Crestar Mortgage Company in Richmond, Virginia helping to approve home buyers. I then worked in New York and London with Morgan Stanley, HSBC, and Bank of America developing products and growing businesses, while helping people become more financially secure. While in London, I worked on several occasions with the London Police department and Royal Borough of Kensington and Chelsea to improve the safety and wellbeing of its residents and neighborhoods. I enjoy being a part of a community and helping to make it a better place to live and work. Now in Richmond, I have enjoyed watching the growth of Scotts Addition and its surrounding areas. It is most impressive to see how far Richmond has come in the last 30yrs and to see all the potential to continue to grow and be a preeminent place for people to move and enjoy for years to come. I am also impressed with the continued growth of the Carytown area. As Vice President, COO, and Secretary at Thomas Hines, Inc. I get to see firsthand how investment in Carytown has improved the area and made a better environment for its users. My father was head of the Carytown Association when I was younger and instilled in me the importance of keeping the area lively and under constant development. My background as a solutions provider to individuals and large-scale businesses and institutions has allowed me to think strategically, solve complex challenges, obtain knowledge of risk management, understand and conceptualize complex contract negotiation, business growth and development, as well as assess sound business opportunities and growth potential. I have a deep understanding of key concepts in strategy, marketing, accounting, finance, and entrepreneurship, running large teams, and working with large groups to create, share, and execute multi-million-dollar budgets, plans, and visions. I would truly appreciate the opportunity to be a member of the Economic Development Authority. My background in finance and real estate would dovetail well with the vision and direction of the EDA. I know I would be able to add value and help others on the committee to help Richmond flourish over the coming years.

While I haven't had the opportunity to engage in formal community roles in the past, I'm now in a new position that offers greater flexibility and the ability to commit my time and energy to civic involvement. I've been looking for meaningful ways to give back locally, and I see this as a great opportunity to use my professional skillset in service to the Richmond community.

(OPTIONAL) Please List Additional Information You Would Like Considered, or You May Copy and Paste Your Short Resume.

Now that I'm in a role that offers greater flexibility, I'm intentionally creating space to contribute more directly to my community. I've long been interested in civic engagement, particularly around economic development, small business support, and financial empowerment. I see this opportunity as a way to connect my professional experience with my desire to give back locally in a meaningful, sustained way. As someone who lives and works in Richmond, I care deeply about the city's future and would be honored to support the thoughtful growth and economic vitality of our community through this service.

Currently, I serve on the ChamberRVA Economic Inclusion Committee. I am the Founder and CEO of The Well Collective, a Richmond-based nonprofit dedicated to enhancing well-being and quality of life by advancing education, leadership development, and social engagement. In this role, I have built strong collaborations with Richmond Public Schools, the City of Richmond Department of Parks and Recreation, the Richmond Region Tourism Foundation, and numerous community-based organizations to expand access to resources, strengthen community capacity, and foster restorative practices that support economic and social vitality.

For 10 years from 2015-2025, I operated as BareSOUL Wellness, a health and wellness small business, where I served with local institutions to address health disparities and implement youth and adult leadership programming designed to promote equity, resilience, and long-term community impact. I've served on the University of Richmond Robins School Executive Advisory Council (2021-2025), Robinson Theater Board of Directors (2018-2022), Whole School Mindfulness Board of Directors (2020-2024), Leadership Metro Richmond (Class of 2019). I have operated a business in the city of Richmond for the past 10 years, and look forward to continuing to create opportunity for inclusive economic development that supports a thriving city of Richmond.

Please List Your Educational Background and/or Other Expertise or Qualifications You Will Bring to This Authority, Board, Commission or Task Force:

During my time as a student at William & Mary, I served as a class senator in the student government. In this role, I regularly engaged with student groups and campus communities to determine how best to allocate university-provided funding to enhance student life. This included conducting listening sessions, attending club meetings, and holding informal conversations with student leaders to better understand their needs and priorities. These insights informed the proposals and initiatives I developed to improve the student experience. I believe this hands-on experience in collaborative budgeting and community engagement has prepared me well to serve Richmond's diverse communities on the Participatory Budgeting Steering Commission. Additionally, I completed a graduate course in budgeting and finance for public sector organizations through Virginia Tech's public policy program. This course focused on how public sector budgeting—particularly in Virginia—differs from traditional private-sector financial practices. The knowledge I gained from this experience further strengthens my ability to contribute meaningfully to the commission's work. I also served on the City of Williamsburg's Social Services Advisory Board, where I helped develop an annual budget proposal for nonprofit funding allocations, which was submitted to the Williamsburg City Council. This process required careful

List other city of Richmond Authorities, Boards, Commissions or Task Forces you currently or have previously served on. Please give date(s) and office(s) held, if applicable.

I currently serve on the City of Richmond's Social Services Advisory Board and began in this role in March of this year. Additionally, I served on the City of Williamsburg Social Services Advisory Board for a period of two years from 2022-2024.

Other Community Involvement:

Since moving to Richmond, I have become actively involved in several community organizations that serve vulnerable populations. I volunteer regularly with Beyond Boundaries and SOAR365, which has allowed me to engage directly with individuals with disabilities and special needs in the Richmond area.

I have also worked closely in building a relationship with Partnership for the Future, a Richmond-based nonprofit that supports low-income students in building college and career readiness, as a part of my fellowship I am completing. Through this partnership, I have helped organize a career workshop and introduced students to careers in state and local public service, among other enrichment activities.

In addition, I serve as a Court Appointed Special Advocate (CASA) for the City of Richmond.

Please List Your Educational Background and/or Other Expertise or Qualifications You Will Bring to This Authority, Board, Commission or Task Force:

I've been in the area since 2012, attending college at Randolph-Macon and then living in Richmond City ever since. My career has largely been based in finance/accounting, and I've had the chance to work for local startups such as Need Supply and Common House, two places that were major draws for the city. While Need Supply is no longer operational, we've seen new fashion outlets arise that make RVA a unique shopping destination. As for Common House, they are rooted in hospitality and creating an elegant experience. Other mid-sized cities are entertaining similar concepts, but for Richmond, I believe the next step is investing in more boutique hotels and stays to boost tourism. We have Shenandoah Mansions, but that seems to be in limbo. I do my best to pay attention to what is going on in this city, and I believe I can help us continue to make progress.

Authorities, Boards, Commissions, and Task Forces Application

I'm also starting a new business, East End Fish Co., a seafood counter concept based in the Church Hill area. I have worked with various small business organizations such as Start Up Virginia, the SBDC, the 1717 Collective, and VCU's Da Vinci Center, which have all helped make me a better entrepreneur. Throughout the development process of my business, I've learned I really enjoy connecting with the local community and other business owners, and I want to see this city thrive.

List other city of Richmond Authorities, Boards, Commissions or Task Forces you currently or have previously served on. Please give date(s) and office(s) held, if applicable.

Other Community Involvement:

As a new business owner in the East End, I'm looking to develop events and ways to engage with our community and other business owners. I'm currently working with The Market at 25th in order to bring in more local products, food vendors, and customers to expand the reach of the grocery store. I'm connected with a larger network in the seafood industry, and I'm trying to help Virginia find its seafood identity and improve our infrastructure to match other coastal states.
