Other community involvement:

In 2005 I weaned myself from virtually all activity except church to be the primary caregiver for my Father who passed in November 2012. Since that time I have begun to "inch" back into community activities by serving on the Alzheimer's Board of Directors, being a member of the Baptist Ministers' Conference, and Coming To The Table (an organization fostering racial reconciliation) in addition to helping to sponsor meaningful events within a very large senior citizens' community. With the freedom and flexibility I now have -- coupled with tremendous interest -- I believe I am ready to bring the level of commitment to the Slave Trail Commission to help achieve what the greater Richmond community has long awaited: the telling, presentation and experience of historical slavery within our city.

Please list additional information you would like considered, or you may attach your resume or other information.

References can be supplied upon request. Previously I served on the Metro YMCA Board and was honored by the Durham, NC, YWCA for my community service while living in Durham. The National Council of Negro Women honored me as "A Woman In The Bethune Tradition" and I was named "An Outstanding Young Woman of America" while in seminary and listed in the Millennium Edition of "Who's Who among International Professionals". I am a graduate of Leadership Metro Richmond and was tagged by Style Magazine as one of "Seven Leaders to Watch" in 1997. President Clinton appointed me and my colleague Rob Corcoran to serve in his "Initiative on Race: ONE AMERICA IN 2000" through which we helped to develop a dialogue guide for the nation on the issues of race.

Bryan Clark Green, Ph.D., LEED AP BD+C, is an architectural historian and Director of Historic Preservation for Commonwealth Architects. His work involves documenting, analyzing and managing historic resources through an understanding of the programs, technologies and administrative systems inherent to their protection. Work both in the field and as an advocate and guide includes:

- Perform existing condition surveys and documentation
- Prepare historic structure reports investigations
- Research historic building material and preservation technologies
- Write National Register nominations (individual, historic district, and multiple property documents)
- Prepares preservation plans and historic tax credit applications

Outside of his work with Commonwealth Architects, Dr. Green remains professionally active in both education and publishing. He is an adjunct member of the L. Douglas Wilder School of Government and Public Affairs at Virginia Commonwealth University, and often gives lectures and seminars on preservation issues and historic structures. He currently serves as Chair for the City of Richmond's Commission of Architectural Review and on the Urban Design Committee. He also serves on the Commonwealth of Virginia's Citizens Advisory Council on Furnishing and Interpreting the Executive Mansion, where he is chair of the Building and Restoration Committee and a member of the executive committee. Additionally, he serves as Chair of the Society of Architectural Historians' Heritage Conservation Committee, and a member of the Board of Directors. He is an Honorary Member of the American Institute of Architects, Virginia.

Please List Your Educational Background and/or Other Expertise or Qualifications You Will Bring to This Authority, Board, Commission or Task Force:

Until last month, I worked as the Policy Associate for New Virginia Majority - a social justice organization focused on uplifting voices of communities of color and low income Virginians.

I am still very passionate as a private citizen about making the Ciity more inclusive and more equitable for all its residents.

I graduated from American University's School of Public Affairs with a Master of Public Policy in May 2014, with a concentration on social policy.
