“Design is an interpretive art focusing on the integration of architecture and the environment.”

David Johannas has over 35 years of experience in architecture, interior projects and planning throughout North America. His work encompasses a variety of innovations in urban design involving mixed-use, high-end residential and retail, with a particular interest in historic preservation and adaptive reuse.

After graduating from the University of Oregon in 1975, David received a wide range of experience working with different scale architectural offices in Edmonton, Alberta, New York City (including Martin Dorf, Peter Marino, and Gensler), Denver, Colorado and Richmond, Virginia. He established his own practice in 2000. At UC Berkeley David studied under the auspices of Christopher Alexander. He apprenticed with Richard and Dion Neutra of Los Angeles.

Architecture has been a life pursuit for David. He has maintained fervor toward the design of buildings, responding to the fashion trends of modern architecture, while maintaining his own design philosophy. He has a wide range of experience with public and private sector clients in North America and has worked extensively in the Richmond area. He and his wife reside in Richmond's historic Byrd Park Neighborhood.

WORK EXPERIENCE

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Groundwork RVA (December 2013-present)

Groundwork RVA revives underserved Richmond communities by empowering high school-age “Green Teams” to take an active role in facilitating environmental, economic, and social wellbeing in their neighborhoods through the transformation of blighted and neglected open spaces into public assets. Responsibilities include oversight of the organization’s programs, financial operations, projects, development and staff management.

PROGRAM MANAGER, Storefront for Community Design

While employed by BAM Architects; Richmond, VA. December 2010 – April 2013

Giles was the founding director of the 501(c)3 organization Storefront for Community Design. Storefront serves residents, business owners, civic groups, local governments, and property developers in Richmond by providing architectural and urban planning design services, such as architectural rendering and community facilitation for new construction projects. The position entails engaging neighborhoods in community revitalization, working with local government, fundraising, overseeing an architectural consultation program, coordination of over 100 volunteers, and financial management.

Completed projects (see www.storefrontrichmond.org for full documents):

- City of Richmond Sidewalk Café Guidelines (Adopted by the City of Richmond, December 2012)
- Eastview Community Vision Statement
- St. Elizabeth’s Site Redevelopment Plan

Authorities, Boards, Commissions and Task Forces Application

- Carver Community Workshop Series
- Robinson Street Visioning
- Greater Fulton Futures Commercial Corridor Improvement Plan

ASSOCIATE URBAN PLANNER

BAM Architects; Richmond, VA. 2010-2012

This position entailed supporting BAM Architects' design team as a Spanish translator in urban design projects in south side Richmond, as well as assisting in design development for public infrastructure projects such as the Martin Luther King Bridge green way transformation and the development of Gabriel Prosser Park. Working at BAM Architects Ms. Harnsberger worked with a design and urban planning team to found Storefront for Community Design.

PROGRAM DIRECTOR

Alliance to Conserve Old Richmond Neighborhoods; Richmond, VA. 2008-December 2010

This position entailed planning, promotion, and execution of city-wide public educational events with a focus on neighborhoods, housing, and facilitating the renovation of vacant properties. Development, grant applications, and fund-raising were additional responsibilities. Other work included event promotion; arranging neighborhood architectural bicycle tours; historic tax credit consulting services; and cooperation with local government to respond to neighborhood needs.

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

- City of Richmond Urban Design Committee
- Storefront for Community Design Board of Directors

I graduated from American University's Master of Public Policy Program in May 2014. My graduate research focus was the effects of mental health policies on communities of color, women, and low-income individuals. In my policy role with New Virginia Majority, my daily work centers around criminal justice reform and mass incarceration, implications of climate justice (the effects of environmental hazards and climate change on those without the means to escape them), and health care access. Despite relocating to both Chicago and Washington, DC for a brief period, I am a native Richmonder who loves this city and knows its residents very well. Social justice is my life's work. I believe my knowledge of Richmond and expertise in these subject areas makes me an ideal candidate to serve on the Task Force on the Establishment of a Human Rights Commission.

I am an active and engaged member of my community. I served on the board of Maymont Civic League, I created a Friends of group to help establish a new community park (see Boards in the next question), and I am a frequent volunteer for Bike Walk RVA of Sportsbackers. I am also the proud parent of a Richmond Public Schools student (a Kindergartener at Patrick Henry!).

I have a BA in Biology from Reed College in Portland, Oregon, and for the past 8 years I have been working for Sustainable Organic Integrated Livelihoods (SOIL), a US non-profit organization that designs and builds ecological sanitation systems in Haiti. In my current position for SOIL I am able to work remotely and for the past 4 years my family and I have made a home in Richmond while I "commute" to work over Skype. Previously I have experience working for a range of international relief organizations including the United Nations and Mercy Corps.

In my professional and personal life I am dedicated to supporting the advancement of human rights, and I take a holistic view that in addition to the inalienable rights of humans listed in the United Nations Declaration of Human Rights, human rights include the right to clean air and clean water.
