DIVISION 10.1. R-63 MULTIFAMILY URBAN RESIDENTIAL DISTRICT

Sec. 30-419.1. Intent of district.

Pursuant to the general purposes of this chapter, the intent of the R-63 district is to encourage development of medium density neighborhoods comprised of a mix of residential uses and to promote a pedestrian oriented urban environment that is primarily residential in character, but that includes limited nonresidential uses that serve many of the day-to-day convenience needs of neighborhood residents and provide opportunities for residents to live and work within the neighborhood. The district is intended to be applied within or in close proximity to areas of the City that reflect an urban scale of development and afford convenient access to major employment centers and community facilities, and to encompass undeveloped or underdeveloped properties comprising areas large enough and with sufficient residential density to enable establishment of a cohesive neighborhood. The district regulations permit corner commercial uses that are limited in location, type and scale and are intended to provide for the convenience of neighborhood residents within walking distance, to respect the primary residential character of the neighborhood and to avoid traffic, parking, noise and other impacts that typically result from uses that draw patrons from outside a neighborhood. The district regulations are also intended to promote a streetscape that is urban in character by requiring minimal building setbacks uninterrupted by parking areas along principal street frontages, and to enhance public safety and encourage an active pedestrian environment appropriate to the residential character of the district by providing for windows in building façades along street frontages. Finally, the district regulations are intended to ensure adequate accessible parking, safe vehicular and pedestrian circulation, and to provide for limited interruption by driveways and vehicular traffic across public sidewalk areas along principal street frontages.

(Code 2004, § 114-419.1; Code 2015, § 30-419.1; Ord. No. 2006-197-217, § 1, 7-24-2006)

DIVISION 15. RO-3 RESIDENTIAL-OFFICE DISTRICT

Sec. 30-428. Intent of district.

Pursuant to the general purposes of this chapter, the intent of the RO-3 Residential-Office District is to encourage a high-quality, walkable urban neighborhood with a variety of office and residential uses. Commercial uses located within the district shall be clearly incidental to other primary uses, though welcoming to the general public. The district is intended to promote pedestrian traffic and reduce the effect of vehicular traffic by prohibiting surface parking lots as a permitted principal use, screening accessory parking lots and parking decks, and reducing driveways across sidewalks. Required front and side yard setbacks create spaces between buildings that soften the streetscape and provide space for landscaping and usable open space. The district regulations are also intended to enhance public safety and encourage an active urban environment by providing windows in building façades along street frontages.

In the case of a portion of a story located along a principal street frontage having less than five feet of its height above the grade level of the building façade along the street frontage, the provisions of this paragraph prohibiting parking or related circulation of vehicles shall not apply, provided that parking spaces shall be completely screened from view from the street by structural material similar to the material of the building façade. Sec. 30-446.1. Intent of district.

Pursuant to the general purposes of this chapter, the intent of the B-7 district is to encourage a broad range of mixed land uses, including residential, commercial and compatible industrial and service uses. The district regulations are intended to encourage appropriate infill development on undeveloped land, promote adaptive reuse of vacant or underutilized buildings and enable redevelopment of properties where continuation of current uses or adaptive reuse is not feasible. The district regulations are also intended to safeguard the character of adjoining properties, to maintain the predominant existing streetscape character by providing continuity of building scale and setbacks, to enhance public safety and encourage an active pedestrian environment appropriate to the mixed-use character of the district by providing for windows in building façades along street frontages. Finally, the district regulations are intended to assure adequate accessible parking and safe vehicular and pedestrian circulation, to facilitate a streetscape with minimum setbacks along principal street frontages and to provide for limited interruption by driveways and vehicular traffic across public sidewalk areas along principal street frontages.

DIVISION 27.1. RP RESEARCH PARK DISTRICT

Sec. 30-451.1. Intent of district.

Pursuant to the general purposes of this chapter, the intent of the RP Research Park District is to encourage development of a technology research park as envisioned in the downtown plan. The district regulations are intended to promote an environment that is conducive to continued development of the research park and to accommodate the unique needs of research, development and laboratory facilities related to the medical, biotechnology and other life sciences industries. Such facilities, along with offices, are the primary intended uses in the district, with secondary uses such as retail and personal services intended for the convenience of workers and visitors in the area. These convenience uses are encouraged to be located on the ground floor of buildings devoted to permitted principal uses and with active pedestrian orientation to the main street frontages in the district. Public entrances and storefront character along the streets are encouraged in order to enhance pedestrian presence in the district. The district is designed to enable flexibility of development, maximum utilization of scarce land resources and innovative and efficient means of providing needed off-street parking facilities, while affording protection from potentially incompatible development. Through the district regulations and the plan of development review process, the district is intended to encourage high-quality development that promotes continued economic investment; that provides amenities that contribute to an attractive and comfortable pedestrian environment; and that complements and does not detract from the adjacent downtown retail, office and medical areas.

ARTICLE V. SIGN REGULATIONS

DIVISION 1. GENERALLY

Sec. 30-500. Findings; purpose and intent; interpretation.

(a) Signs obstruct views, distract motorists, displace alternative uses for land, and pose other problems that legitimately call for regulation. The purpose of this article is to regulate the size, color, illumination, movement, materials, location, height and condition of all signs placed on private property for exterior observation, thus ensuring the protection of property values, the character of the various neighborhoods, the creation of a convenient, attractive and harmonious community, protection against destruction of or encroachment upon historic areas, and the safety and welfare of pedestrians and wheeled traffic, while providing convenience to citizens and encouraging economic development. This article allows adequate communication through signage while encouraging aesthetic quality in the design, location, size and purpose of all signs. This article shall be interpreted in a manner consistent with the First Amendment guarantee of free speech. If any provision of this article is found by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such finding shall not affect the validity of other provisions of this article which can be given effect without the invalid provision.

(b) A sign placed on land or on a building for the purpose of identification, protection or directing persons to a use conducted therein shall be deemed to be an integral but accessory and subordinate part of the principal use of land or building. Therefore, the intent of this article is to establish limitations on signs in order to ensure they are appropriate to the land, building or use to which they are appurtenant and are adequate for their intended purpose while balancing the individual and community interests identified in subsection (a) of this section.

(c) These regulations are intended to promote signs that are compatible with the use of the property to which they are appurtenant, landscape and architecture of surrounding buildings, are legible and appropriate to the activity to which they pertain, are not distracting to motorists, and are constructed and maintained in a structurally sound and attractive condition.

(Code 1993, § 32-500; Code 2004, § 114-500; Code 2015, § 30-500; Ord. No. 2017-149, § 1, 9-11-2017)

Sec. 30-501. Applicability of article.

The regulations contained in this article shall be applicable to signs in all districts as specified. No sign shall be erected, placed, constructed, installed, attached, painted on, moved or altered except in conformity with all of the sections set forth in this article applicable to the particular sign in the district in which it is located.

(Code 1993, § 32-501; Code 2004, § 114-501; Code 2015, § 30-501)

Sec. 30-502. Definitions and calculation of permitted sign area.

(a) Definitions. Definitions of the various types of signs are set forth in Article XII of this chapter, together with other definitions of words and terms used in this chapter.

(b) Calculation of area of sign. For the purpose of calculating permitted sign area, the area of a sign shall be the smallest individual rectangle, triangle or circle or combination of not more than three contiguous rectangles, triangles or circles which will encompass all elements of the sign, provided that for a freestanding sign, such figures need not be contiguous. The area of a double-faced sign shall be construed to be the area of the largest single face of the sign, provided that the interior angle formed by the two faces does not exceed 30 degrees. When a sign is placed on a fence, wall or any other structure that serves a separate purpose other than support for the sign, the entire area of such structure shall not be computed as sign area.

(c) Aggregate area of all signs. When, for purposes of describing permitted sign area, the sections of this article refer to the aggregate area of all signs on a lot or the aggregate area of all signs directed toward or intended to be viewed from any street frontage, such reference shall include the sum total of the areas of all signs on the lot or the sum total of the areas of all signs directed toward or intended to be viewed from any street frontage, as the case may be, provided that such sum total shall not include the areas of signs that are specifically permitted in all districts by Section 30-505 or the area of any sign that is specifically permitted in addition to or is specifically excluded from calculation of aggregate sign area by the district sign regulations. In no case shall the area of any individual sign permitted by the sign regulations for a particular district exceed the permitted aggregate sign area in that district.

(d) Signs visible from any street frontage. When, for the purpose of describing permitted sign area, the sections of this article refer to signs visible from any street frontage, such reference shall include all signs on a lot which are located along a street frontage in such manner that the faces of the signs are oriented to and viewed from any point along the street providing such frontage, as well as signs located on a side of a building in such manner as to be viewed from the same street. For a lot having multiple street frontages, the area of signs that can be viewed from more than one street shall be attributed to the street frontage along which such signs have the more direct orientation and are more easily visible.

(e) Buildings greater than one story in height. In the case of a building greater than one story in height where permitted sign area is determined by building frontage along a street, the permitted aggregate sign area shall be calculated based on the frontage of the ground floor of the building or buildings located on the lot. Stories other than the ground floor shall not be considered to be separate buildings. The location of permitted signs on such building shall be governed by the district sign regulations and other applicable provisions of this article and shall not be limited to the ground floor of the building.

(Code 1993, § 32-502(1)—(4); Code 2004, § 114-502; Code 2015, § 30-502; Ord. No. 2006-329-2007-11, § 1, 1-8-2007; Ord. No. 2011-205-2012-1, § 1, 1-9-2012; Ord. No. 2017-149, § 1, 9-11-2017)

The owner of the property shall bear the burden of establishing the nonconforming status of a sign and of the physical characteristics and location of such a sign. Upon notice from the zoning administrator, a property owner shall submit verification that the sign lawfully existed at the time of erection. Failure to provide such verification shall be cause for an order to remove the sign or to bring the sign into compliance with the current provisions of this chapter.

(b) No nonconforming sign shall be enlarged, and no feature of a nonconforming sign, such as illumination, shall be increased.

(c) No provision of this section shall be interpreted or construed to prevent the keeping in good repair of a nonconforming sign. Nonconforming signs shall not be extended, structurally reconstructed, or altered in any manner except that a sign face may be changed if the new face is equal to or reduced in height or sign area, either or both.

(d) No nonconforming sign shall be moved any distance on the same lot or to any other lot unless such change in location will make the sign conform in all respects to the provisions of this article.

(e) A nonconforming sign that is destroyed or damaged by any casualty to an extent not exceeding 50 percent of its area may be restored within two years after such destruction or damage but shall not be enlarged in any manner. If such sign is so destroyed or damaged to an extent exceeding 50 percent, it shall not be reconstructed but may be replaced with a sign that is in full accordance with the provisions of this article.

(f) A nonconforming sign which is changed to becoming conforming or which is replaced by a conforming sign shall no longer be deemed nonconforming, and thereafter such sign shall be in accordance with the provisions of this article.

(g) A nonconforming sign structure shall be subject to the removal provisions of this chapter. In addition, a nonconforming sign structure shall be removed if the use to which it is accessory has not been in operation for a period of two years or more. The owner or lessee of the property shall remove such a sign structure. If the owner or lessee fails to remove the sign structure, the zoning administrator shall give the owner written notice that the sign must be removed within 15 days after the notice is given. If the owner fails to comply with this notice, the zoning administrator may enter the property upon which the sign is located and remove any such sign or may initiate such action as may be necessary to bring the sign into compliance with this provision. The cost of such removal shall be chargeable to the owner of the property.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (a) of this section, the following signs, displays, and devices, shall not require a certificate of zoning compliance:

(1) Noncommercial flags and banners containing no commercial message, logo, or name of a business or product and not displayed in connection with a commercial promotion or for purposes of attracting attention to a commercial activity.

(4) The off-street parking requirements set forth in Article VII of this chapter shall be met for each dwelling unit, provided that any nonconforming parking feature existing at the time of the division may continue unless the Zoning Administrator determines that the resulting lot is capable of accommodating additional off-street parking.

(6) Applicable requirements of the Virginia Uniform Statewide Building Code shall be met.

(7) The division shall comply with the applicable requirements of Chapter 25 regarding the subdivision of land.

Such plaza shall be accessible to the public and available for their use and shall abut a public pedestrian way or shall be connected directly therewith by an entrance of not less than ten feet in width. Each overall horizontal dimension of such plaza shall be not less than 20 feet. Not more than two-thirds of the area of such plaza may be devoted to planting areas, fountains and other features not generally accessible to pedestrians.

(2) Building setback means the building setback, including sidewalk widening, a plaza, a landscaped area or an arcade provided at ground level on the property in addition to minimum required yards. Such area shall be provided adjacent to public streets and shall run not less than two-thirds the length of the building wall which it adjoins. Such area shall not be used for the parking or circulation of motor vehicles.

(3) Arcade or open walkway means an arcade or improved open walkway with a minimum width of 15 feet and a minimum unobstructed height of ten feet running completely through a building or complex of buildings and providing a direct connection between public streets or pedestrian plazas and functioning as a logical pedestrian route from one street frontage or public pedestrian area to a major destination point such as a shopping area, parking garage or plaza. (5) Reduction in lot coverage means a reduction in the portion of a lot covered by buildings above a height of 35 feet, provided that the overall width or depth of a building is reduced by not less than 20 percent of the corresponding lot dimension. Such reduction in building dimensions shall be in addition to applicable yard requirements.

(6) Enclosed parking means parking spaces provided within a main building and exclusively serving the occupants of such building.

(7) Dwelling use means total floor area devoted to dwelling or lodging units which are not available for occupancy for periods of less than one week, when such area is located within a main building and above the first story of such building. Floor area eligible for such bonus shall be subject to the exclusions set forth in the definition of the term "floor area" in Section 30-1220.

DIVISION 10.1. AFFORDABLE DWELLING UNITS*

Cross reference—Affordable housing administrative provisions, § 16-19 et seq.

Sec. 30-691. Intent statement.

Pursuant to the general purposes of this chapter and the provisions of Code of Virginia, § 15.2-2305, and in furtherance of the purpose of providing affordable shelter for all residents of the City, the intent of this division is to provide for a voluntary affordable housing dwelling unit program that addresses housing needs, promotes a full range of housing choices, and encourages the construction and continued existence of housing affordable to low and moderate income citizens by providing for increases in density and other incentives to the applicant in exchange for the applicant providing such affordable housing. The provisions of this division are intended to be applied in accordance with affordable dwelling unit program administrative provisions adopted by the City Council.

(Code 2004, § 114-691; Code 2015, § 30-691; Ord. No. 2007-187-203, § 1, 9-10-2007)

Sec. 30-691.1. Applicability.

(a) Generally. Subject to the limitations and provisions set forth in Section 30-691.2, the provisions of this division shall be applicable to any site or portion thereof developed or to be developed for purposes of dwelling units as defined in Article XII of this chapter. For purposes of these provisions, a site may include a single lot, a combination of contiguous lots, or a combination of lots that are contiguous except for intervening streets or alleys, when such combination of lots is to be developed under the same ownership and/or control pursuant to an overall development plan.

(b) Program is voluntary. Participation in the affordable dwelling unit program shall be at the sole discretion of the applicant, and an applicant's decision not to apply under the program shall not affect the applicant's ability to obtain density increases pursuant to other applicable provisions of this Code.

(c) Qualifying affordable dwelling units. For purposes of this division, affordable housing is affordable dwelling units that qualify for application of the density bonus features set forth in this division and shall be dwelling units that are affordable for purchase by households whose income is no more than 80 percent of the area median income in the Richmond-Petersburg Metropolitan Statistical Area and affordable for rental by households whose income is no more than 60 percent of the area median income in the Richmond-Petersburg Metropolitan Statistical Area, except as such percentages of the area median income may be adjusted with the approval of the City Council for purposes of avoiding potential economic loss by the owner or applicant as provided in Chapter 16, Article II.

(d) Dwelling units to be developed under current zoning. If a site is proposed to be developed pursuant to the current zoning classification of the site, and no rezoning, special use permit or community unit plan is proposed to change the type or density of dwelling units or the lot sizes permitted to be developed on the site, the current zoning district regulations shall be used as the basis upon which the eligible density bonus features and number of qualifying affordable dwelling units are applied.

(e) Dwelling units to be developed pursuant to rezoning. In the case of a site that is proposed to be developed subject to approval of a change in the zoning classification of the site, the zoning district regulations resulting after such change in the zoning classification shall be used as the basis upon which the eligible density bonus features and qualifying number of affordable dwelling units are applied.

(f) Dwelling units to be developed pursuant to special use or community unit plan. Nothing contained in this division shall be construed to prohibit an applicant from voluntarily providing affordable dwelling units as part of a special use permit or community unit plan application.

(Code 2004, § 114-691.1; Code 2015, § 30-691.1; Ord. No. 2007-187-203, § 1, 9-10-2007; Ord. No. 2008-40-60, § 1, 3-24-2008)

Sec. 30-691.2. Density bonus features and qualifying affordable dwelling units.

The following modifications to applicable zoning district requirements shall be known as density bonus features, and shall be permitted as means to enable increased density of development when affordable dwelling units are provided on a site. In a case where a density bonus feature to be applied to a site is less than the maximum percentage authorized by this section, the percentage of affordable dwelling units or the percentage of floor area devoted to affordable dwelling units necessary to qualify for such bonus feature shall be reduced proportionately, as rounded to the nearest whole percentage.

(1) Sites located in R, RO and HO districts.

a. Single-family detached dwellings. The minimum required lot area, lot width and side yard width applicable to single-family detached dwellings shall be reduced by up to 20 percent, provided that not less than 11 percent of the total number of single-family detached dwellings developed on the site, including the optional density increase, are affordable dwelling units, and provided further that in no case shall the lot area be less than 3,000 square feet, nor shall the lot width be less than 25 feet, nor shall any side yard be less than three feet in width.

b. Single-family attached dwellings. In districts where maximum permitted average density is applicable to single-family attached dwellings, such density shall be increased by up to 20 percent, provided that not less than 11 percent of the total number of single-family attached dwellings developed on the site, including the optional density increase, are affordable dwelling units.

c. Two-family detached dwellings. The minimum required lot area, lot width and side yard width applicable to two-family detached dwellings shall be reduced by up to 20 percent, provided that not less than 11 percent of the total number of two-family detached dwellings developed on the site, including the optional density increase, are affordable dwelling units, and provided further that in no case shall the lot area be less than 3,600 square feet, nor shall the lot width be less than 27 feet, nor shall any side yard be less than three feet in width.

d. Two-family attached dwellings. The minimum required lot area and lot width applicable to two-family attached dwellings shall be reduced by up to 20 percent, provided that not less than 11 percent of the total number of two-family attached dwellings developed on the site, including the optional density increase, are affordable dwelling units, and provided further that in no case shall the lot area be less than 2,600 square feet, nor shall the lot width be less than 23 feet.

e. Multifamily dwelling lot area. In districts where a minimum required lot area per dwelling unit is applicable to multifamily dwellings, the following shall apply:

1. Where 23 or fewer multifamily dwelling units are permitted on a site before application of any density bonus feature, the permitted number of such units shall be increased by up to 15 percent, provided that not less than nine percent of the total number of multifamily dwelling units developed on the site, including the optional density increase, are affordable dwelling units.

2. Where 24 or more multifamily dwelling units are permitted on a site before application of any density bonus feature, the permitted number of such units shall be increased by up to ten percent, provided that not less than six percent of the total number of multifamily dwelling units developed on the site, including the optional density increase, are affordable dwelling units.

f. Multifamily dwelling floor area ratio. In districts where a maximum floor area ratio is applicable to multifamily dwellings, the permitted floor area shall be increased by up to ten percent, provided that not less than six percent of the total multifamily floor area developed on the site, including the optional floor area increase, is devoted to affordable dwelling units.

(2) Sites located in UB and B-1 districts; dwelling use floor area. The maximum permitted floor area devoted to dwelling use shall be increased by up to 20 percent, provided that not less than 11 percent of the total dwelling use floor area, including the optional floor area increase, is devoted to affordable dwelling units.

(3) Sites located in B-2 and B-3 districts.

a. Dwelling use floor area. The maximum permitted floor area devoted to dwelling use shall be increased by up to 20 percent, provided that not less than 11 percent of the total dwelling use floor area, including the optional floor area increase, is devoted to affordable dwelling units.

b. Building height. The maximum permitted building height shall be increased by 12 feet when at least ten percent of the floor area permitted for dwelling use in the building is devoted to affordable dwelling units.

(4) Sites located in the B-4 district; dwelling use floor area. The maximum permitted floor area applicable to dwelling use shall be increased by up to ten percent, provided that not less than six percent of the total dwelling use floor area, including the optional floor area increase, is devoted to affordable dwelling units.

(Code 2004, § 114-691.2; Code 2015, § 30-691.2; Ord. No. 2007-187-203, § 1, 9-10-2007)

Sec. 30-691.3. Calculation of numbers of dwelling units.

In the case of density bonus features for an increase in average density of single-family attached dwellings on a site or an increase in the number of multifamily dwelling units on a site, the following rules shall apply in the calculation of numbers of dwelling units:

(1) Number of dwelling units permitted before application of bonus feature. When calculation of the number of dwelling units permitted on a site before application of the density bonus feature results in a fractional number, the permitted number of dwelling units shall be the lower whole number.

(2) Number of additional dwelling units or affordable dwelling units. When calculation of the number of additional dwelling units resulting from application of the density bonus feature results in a fractional number, or when calculation of the number of affordable dwelling units necessary to qualify for such bonus feature results in a fractional number, the number of additional dwelling units or number of affordable dwelling units shall be the nearest whole number.

(Code 2004, § 114-691.3; Code 2015, § 30-691.3; Ord. No. 2007-187-203, § 1, 9-10-2007)

Sec. 30-691.4. Distribution and physical compatibility of affordable dwelling units.

Affordable dwelling units intended to qualify for density bonus features shall comply with the following criteria. For purposes of this section, dwelling unit type shall be construed to mean any of the dwelling uses defined in Article XII of this chapter that are permitted on the site, and including the number of bedrooms contained therein.

(1) Distribution. Affordable dwelling units of the given dwelling unit type shall be located on a site so as to be interspersed among the market rate dwelling units of the same dwelling unit type on the site, and shall not be concentrated together or otherwise separated from market rate dwelling units.

(2) Physical compatibility. The exterior appearance of affordable dwelling units shall be similar to and compatible with the typical exterior appearance of market rate units of the same dwelling unit type on the site by provision of similar architectural style and similar exterior building materials, finishes and quality of construction, except as may be adjusted with the approval of the City Council's designee for purposes of avoiding potential economic loss by the owner or applicant as provided in Chapter 16, Article II.

(3) Dwelling unit types and sizes. The number of market rate dwelling units of a given dwelling unit type on the site shall be not less than the number of affordable dwelling units of the same dwelling unit type. The floor area of affordable dwelling units shall comprise not less than 80 percent of the typical floor area of market rate dwelling units of the same dwelling unit type, provided that no affordable dwelling unit bedroom shall contain less than 100 square feet of floor area.

(Code 2004, § 114-691.4; Code 2015, § 30-691.4; Ord. No. 2007-187-203, § 1, 9-10-2007; Ord. No. 2008-40-60, § 1, 3-24-2008)

Sec. 30-691.5. Phasing of development.

On any site where dwelling units are to be developed in phases, affordable dwelling units intended to qualify for density bonus features shall be developed in accordance with the following provisions:

(1) Phasing plan. A phasing plan describing the phasing of construction of affordable dwelling units and market rate dwelling units shall be submitted with the plan of development.

(2) Certificates of use and occupancy. Certificates of use and occupancy shall not be approved for more than 50 percent of the market rate dwelling units constructed on the site until certificates of use and occupancy are approved for at least 50 percent of the affordable dwelling units constructed on the site. Certificates of use and occupancy shall not be approved for more than 80 percent of the market rate dwelling units constructed on the site until certificates of use and occupancy are approved for 100 percent of the affordable dwelling units constructed on the site.

(Code 2004, § 114-691.5; Code 2015, § 30-691.5; Ord. No. 2007-187-203, § 1, 9-10-2007)

Sec. 30-691.6. Other incentives.

(a) Fee reduction. Applicants participating in the affordable dwelling unit program shall be eligible for a reduction of those development fees specified in this chapter that are otherwise applicable, to the extent that such fees shall be reduced by a percentage amount equal to the percentage of affordable dwelling units provided.

(b) Expedited consideration. Applications proposing the development of affordable dwelling units pursuant to this program shall be given expedited consideration relative to other applications proposing residential development.

(Code 2004, § 114-691.6; Code 2015, § 30-691.6; Ord. No. 2007-187-203, § 1, 9-10-2007)

Sec. 30-691.7. Plan of development.

(a) Plan of development required. In addition to plan of development requirements that may otherwise be applicable in the district in which the site is located, a plan of development shall be required as set forth in Article X of this chapter for all affordable dwelling units intended to qualify for density bonus features authorized by this division.

(b) Indication of affordable dwelling units on plans. All affordable dwelling units intended to qualify for density bonus features authorized by this division shall be indicated on plans accompanying the plan of development, together with such additional information as necessary to determine compliance with the provisions of this division.

(c) Approval of plan of development. No plan of development for a site that includes any of the density bonus features authorized by this division shall be approved by the Director of Planning and Development Review until the affordable dwelling unit program Administrator has provided written certification to the Director that the program criteria necessary to qualify for such density bonus features are met.

(Code 2004, § 114-691.7; Code 2015, § 30-691.7; Ord. No. 2007-187-203, § 1, 9-10-2007; Ord. No. 2009-221-2010-9, § 1, 1-25-2010)

Sec. 30-691.8. Certification of affordable dwelling unit program applicability.

In order for any of the density bonus features authorized by this division to be applicable to a site, the requirements of the affordable dwelling unit program administrative provisions established by the City Council shall be met. The Zoning Administrator shall not approve any application for a building permit, certificate of use and occupancy or certificate of zoning compliance that includes any of the density bonus features authorized by this division until the affordable dwelling unit program administrator has provided written certification to the Zoning Administrator that the program criteria necessary to qualify for such density bonus features are met.

Sec. 30-691.9. Processing timeframe.

The City shall have no more than 280 days in which to process site or subdivision plans proposing the development or construction of affordable dwelling units under the affordable dwelling unit program. The calculation of such periods of review shall include only the time that plans are in review, and shall not include such time as may be required for revision or modification in order to comply with lawful requirements set forth in applicable ordinances and regulations.

(Code 2004, § 114-691.9; Code 2015, § 30-691.9; Ord. No. 2007-187-203, § 1, 9-10-2007)

DIVISION 11. WIRELESS TELECOMMUNICATIONS FACILITIES, MICROWAVE RELAY STATIONS, AND RADIO AND TELEVISION BROADCAST ANTENNAS

Sec. 30-692. Purpose of division.

This division is for the purpose of setting forth requirements for the location and design of wireless communications facilities, microwave relay facilities, and radio and television broadcast antennas.

(Code 1993, § 32-692; Code 2004, § 114-692; Code 2015, § 30-692; Ord. No. 2017-106, § 1, 6-26-2017)

Sec. 30-692.1. Intent statement.

The growth of commercial wireless communications has resulted in a need for additional antenna sites, with such need marked by not only the number of facilities required, but also the geographic distribution. Other technological changes in the traditional radio and television broadcast industry and in the use of microwave voice and data transmission are resulting in similar increased demand for antenna sites. These services of the utilities and communications sector have merit and value for the community and region as a whole, but can also result in facilities which are in conflict with the existing or planned character of the surrounding area. It is the intent of the City to create an expanded range of opportunities to accommodate continued growth of the services, while guiding the design of the facilities in a manner that takes into account the existing or planned character around a proposed site. These opportunities include the establishment of facilities through installation on existing buildings (alternative support structures), the establishment of new facilities through the construction of new monopoles, flexibility for the use of properties which may be nonconforming or may already be subject to special use permits or community unit plans, and greater flexibility for the development of facilities on City property where larger sites or existing nonresidential uses may result in a less intrusive installation when compared to other nearby properties.

(Code 1993, § 32-692.1; Code 2004, § 114-692.1; Code 2015, § 30-692.1; Ord. No. 2018-157, § 1, 6-25-2018)

Sec. 30-692.1:1. Definitions.

The following words, terms and phrases, when used in this division, shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this section, except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning:

Administrative review-eligible project means a project that provides for:

(1) The installation or construction of a new structure that is not more than 50 feet above ground level, provided that the structure with attached wireless facilities is (i) not more than ten feet above the tallest existing utility pole located within 500 feet of the new structure within the same public right-of-way or within that existing line of utility poles; (ii) not located within the boundaries of a local, State or Federal historic district; (iii) not located inside the jurisdictional boundaries of a locality having expended a total amount equal to or greater than 35 percent of its general fund operating revenue, as shown in the most recent comprehensive annual financial report, on undergrounding projects since 1980; and (iv) designed to support small cell facilities; or

(2) The co-location on any alternative support structure of a wireless facility that is not a small cell facility.

Alternative support structure means any structure that is installed or approved for installation at the time a wireless services provider or wireless infrastructure provider provides notice to the City of an agreement with the owner of the structure to co-locate equipment on that structure. The term "alternative support structure" includes any structure that is currently supporting, designed to support, or capable of supporting the attachment of wireless facilities, including towers, buildings, utility poles, light poles, flag poles, signs, and water towers.

Antenna means communications equipment that transmits or receives electromagnetic radio signals used in the provision of any type of wireless communications services.

Base station means a station that includes a structure that currently supports or houses an antenna, transceiver, coaxial cables, power cables, or other associated equipment at a specific site that is authorized to communicate with mobile stations, generally consisting of radio transceivers, antennas, coaxial cables, power supplies, and other associated electronics.

Co-locate means to install, mount, maintain, modify, operate, or replace a wireless facility on, under, within, or adjacent to a base station, building, alternative support structure, utility pole, or wireless support structure. The term "co-location" has a corresponding meaning.

Director means the Director of Planning and Development Review or the designee thereof.

Micro-wireless facility means a small cell facility that is not larger in dimension than 24 inches in length, 15 inches in width, and 12 inches in height and that has an exterior antenna, if any, not longer than 11 inches.

New structure means a freestanding wireless support structure, as opposed to a co-located wireless facility, that has not been installed or constructed, or approved for installation or construction, at the time a wireless services provider or wireless infrastructure provider applies to a locality for any required zoning approval.

Project means (i) the installation or construction by a wireless services provider or wireless infrastructure provider of a new structure or (ii) the co-location on any alternative support structure of a wireless facility that is not a small cell facility. The term "project" does not include the installation of a small cell facility by a wireless services provider or wireless infrastructure provider on an alternative support structure to which the provisions of Section 30-692.7 apply.

Small cell facility means a wireless facility that meets both of the following qualifications: (i) each antenna is located inside an enclosure of no more than six cubic feet in volume, or, in the case of an antenna that has exposed elements, the antenna and all of its exposed elements could fit within an imaginary enclosure of no more than six cubic feet and (ii) all other wireless equipment associated with the facility has a cumulative volume of no more than 28 cubic feet, or such higher limit as is established by the Federal Communications Commission. The following types of associated equipment are not included in the calculation of equipment volume: electric meter, concealment, telecommunications demarcation boxes, back-up power systems, grounding equipment, power transfer switches, cut-off switches, and vertical cable runs for the connection of power and other services.

Small cell facility co-location permit means a permit authorizing a wireless service provider or wireless infrastructure provider to co-locate a small cell facility on an alternative support structure.

Standard process project means any project other than an administrative review-eligible project.

Utility pole means a structure owned, operated, or owned and operated by a public utility, local government, or the Commonwealth that is designed specifically for and used to carry lines, cables, or wires for communications, cable television, or electricity.

Water tower means a water storage tank, a standpipe, or an elevated tank situated on a support structure, originally constructed for use as a reservoir or facility to store or deliver water.

Wireless facility means equipment at a fixed location that enables wireless communications between user equipment and a communications network, including (i) equipment associated with wireless services, such as private, broadcast, and public safety services, as well as unlicensed wireless services and fixed wireless services, such as microwave backhaul, and (ii) radio transceivers, antennas, coaxial or fiber-optic cable, regular and backup power supplies, and comparable equipment, such as microwave relay facilities, regardless of technological configuration.

Wireless infrastructure provider means any person that builds or installs transmission equipment, wireless facilities, or wireless support structures, but that is not a wireless services provider.

Wireless services means (i) "personal wireless services" as defined in 47 USC 332(c)(7)(C)(i); (ii) "personal wireless service facilities" as defined in 47 USC 332(c)(7)(C)(ii), including commercial mobile services as defined in 47 USC 332(d), provided to personal mobile communication devices through wireless facilities; and (iii) any other fixed or mobile wireless service, using licensed or unlicensed spectrum, provided using wireless facilities.

Wireless services provider means a provider of wireless services.

Wireless support structure means a freestanding structure, such as a monopole, tower, either guyed or self-supporting, or suitable alternative support structure or other structure designed to support or capable of supporting wireless facilities. The term "wireless support structure" does not include any telephone or electrical utility pole or any tower used for the distribution or transmission of electrical service.

Sec. 30-692.1:2. Applications for the installation or construction of projects.

(a) All applications to install or construct projects in the City shall be submitted to the Director in the form of a plan of development, all documentation required in Section 30-692.2, and any other documentation the Director may require. Applicants shall pay all applicable fees as set forth in this Code.

(b) Applicants for standard process projects whose proposed projects do not meet applicable criteria of this division may either modify their proposed projects to comply with this division or seek initial approval for their projects by separate application for a special use permit, variance, or other available means of zoning approval. Applicants shall pay all applicable fees as set forth in this Code. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this chapter, applicants desiring to install or construct administrative review-eligible projects shall not be required to obtain a special exception, special use permit, or variance.

(c) The City shall notify the applicable project applicant by email within ten business days after receiving an incomplete application for any purpose described in subsection (a) or (b) of this section. Such notice shall specify any additional information required to complete the application. Failure by the City to so provide this notice will render the application complete.

(d) Unless the City and applicant mutually agree to extend the application review period, the City shall approve or disapprove a complete application for any purpose described in subsection (a) or (b) of this section within the following periods of time:

(1) For a new structure, within the lesser of 150 days of receipt of the completed application or the period required by Federal law for such approval or disapproval;

(2) For the co-location of any wireless facility that is not a small cell facility, within the lesser of 90 days of receipt of the completed application or the period required by Federal law for such approval or disapproval, unless the application constitutes an eligible facilities request as defined in 47 USC 1455(a).

Failure by the City to approve any such complete applications within the applicable periods above shall render such applications approved.

(e) Following disapproval by the City of any application described in subsection (a) or (b) of this section, the City shall provide the applicant with a written statement of the reasons for such disapproval. If the City is aware of any modifications to the project described in the application that if made would permit the City to approve the project, the City will identify them in such written statement. Subsequent disapproval by the City of a project application incorporating such identified modifications may be used by the applicant as evidence in any appeal asserting the City's disapproval was arbitrary and capricious.

(f) Disapproval by the City of any application described in subsections (a) and (b) of this section shall (i) not unreasonably discriminate between the applicant and other wireless services providers, wireless infrastructure providers, providers of telecommunications services, and other providers of functionally equivalent services, and (ii) be supported by substantial record evidence contained in a written record publicly released within 30 days following the disapproval.

(g) Applications described in Section 30-692.4 shall be subject to subsections (c) through (f) of this section.

(Code 2015, § 30-692.1:2; Ord. No. 2018-157, § 2, 6-25-2018)

Sec. 30-692.2. Standards applicable to all wireless facility projects.

(a) In addition to meeting minimum submission requirements for any application materials the Director may require, requests for approval for wireless facility projects shall include the following:

(1) The applicant's narrative containing the following information:

a. The address and latitude/longitude of the proposed location;

Sec. 30-692.3. Permitted use of alternative support structures.

Use of alternative support structures for the uses described in this division shall be permitted on nonconforming properties and properties which are already subject to special use permits, institutional master plans or community unit plans. Such installations shall be deemed to be a permitted alteration of a nonconforming property and shall be deemed in substantial conformance with the special use permit, institutional master plan or community unit plan, provided the installation is in conformance with the review criteria set forth in Section 30-692.4(b), as determined by plan of development review, if required, in accordance with Article X of this chapter for nonconforming properties and properties subject to special use permits or institutional master plans, and by final plan review, if required, in accordance with Article IV, Division 30 of this chapter for properties subject to community unit plans.

(Code 1993, § 32-692.3; Code 2004, § 114-692.3; Code 2015, § 30-692.3; Ord. No. 2015-80-74, § 1, 5-11-2015; Ord. No. 2018-157, § 1, 6-25-2018)

Sec. 30-692.4. Review criteria for installations utilizing alternative support structures.

(a) The authorization in this chapter for use of alternative support structures provides a less obtrusive alternative to the traditional monopole and tower-based facilities by accommodating installations that are a companion and subordinate use in conjunction with a permitted principal or accessory use of a property. Such installations may include, but not be limited to, rooftop installations; installations on the face of buildings and on the exterior of otherwise permitted rooftop mechanical enclosures; installations on otherwise permitted water towers serving municipal, business or industrial uses; and installations within otherwise permitted ornamental towers and steeples.

(b) The following standards shall be applicable to all installations on alternative support structures:

(1) The maximum combined projection (antenna and mounting hardware) above the alternative support structure shall not exceed 25 feet, except for whip antennas which may result in a combined projection of up to 35 feet, and the hardware on which antennas are mounted shall not project above the alternative support structure by more than 20 feet.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 30-692.2(a), applicants for projects meeting the following criteria shall be required to apply for and obtain a certificate of zoning compliance and shall not be required to obtain a plan of development or final community unit plan approval:

a. The maximum combined projection (antenna and mounting hardware) above the alternative support structure shall not exceed ten feet; provided, however, if the installation is visible from the principal street frontage, then the maximum combined projection (antenna and mounting hardware) above the alternative support structure shall not exceed five feet in height.

b. The maximum dimensions of the antenna shall not exceed two feet by two feet by two feet or an alternative design not to exceed three cubic feet.

c. The maximum dimensions of any new mechanical enclosures or cabinets located on a support structure where they would be visible shall not exceed five feet by two feet by two feet.

d. Any portion of the installation that is visible from the principal street frontage shall be designed and colored to appear as an element of the alternative support structure, including the use of antennas, cables and equipment that are painted or tinted to match the surface of the alternative support structure to which they are affixed.

(Code 1993, § 32-692.4; Code 2004, § 114-692.4; Code 2015, § 30-692.4; Ord. No. 2006-168-189, § 2, 7-10-2006; Ord. No. 2008-2-55, § 2, 3-24-2008; Ord. No. 2010-19-31, § 3, 2-22-2010; Ord. No. 2015-80-74, § 1, 5-11-2015; Ord. No. 2017-150, § 4, 9-25-2017; Ord. No. 2018-157, § 1, 6-25-2018)

Sec. 30-692.5. Review criteria for installations utilizing new structures and for installations on existing structures.

(a) In addition to the information to be contained in the narrative required by Section 30-692.2, an application for a new structure shall thoroughly document the reasons the proposed wireless facilities to be placed thereon could not be accommodated on nearby existing structures or be co-located with other users on nearby existing monopoles or towers and that the new structure is the only feasible option.

(b) All new structures shall be limited to monopole designs only, and shall be subject to the following locational standards:

(1) There shall be a setback of 500 feet from any property within an R or RO zoning district and a setback of 1,000 feet from the shoreline of the James River. In no case shall a setback exceed the largest setback imposed by this chapter on other types of similar structures of a similar size, including utility poles.

(2) The maximum height of any monopole and antenna array shall be 199 feet, except that for any monopole and antenna array proposed within 1,000 feet of the right-of-way of an interstate highway, the height shall not exceed 155 feet.

(c) The antenna array shall be designed to present the least horizontal dimension possible. Where the proposed array is not designed either as a tubular antenna array (unicell) or as cluster-mounted array (panel antennas affixed directly to the side of the monopole), in addition to the information to be contained in the narrative required by Section 30-692.2, a statement shall be provided as to why those types of hardware are not technically feasible.

(d) The support structure and antenna array shall be of a color that is of neutral tone, selected to blend with the natural background (e.g., gray, light blue or silver if in open ground; green if among trees).

(e) There shall be no lighting of the support structure or antenna array unless required by the City or State or Federal agency.

(f) Dish antennas as part of a microwave relay facility shall not exceed ten feet in diameter.

(g) When microwave dish antennas are accessory to a wireless facility and are to be mounted on the monopole, such dishes shall not exceed six feet in diameter and shall not be mounted so as to extend more than six feet from the monopole.

(Code 1993, § 32-692.5; Code 2004, § 114-692.5; Code 2015, § 30-692.5; Ord. No. 2018-157, § 1, 6-25-2018)

Sec. 30-692.6. Criteria for installations of public wireless facilities and support structures.

The installation of any public wireless facility and wireless support structures shall not be subject to the requirements of Sections 30-692.2 through 30-692.5, but shall instead be subject to location, character and extent approval by the Planning Commission in accordance with the requirements of Section 17.07 of the Charter.

Sec. 30-692.7. Installation of small cell facilities on alternative support structures.

(a) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this chapter, the co-location of small cell facilities by a wireless services provider or wireless infrastructure provider on an alternative support structure, all as defined in this section, shall be permitted subject to the provisions of this section, provided that the wireless services provider or wireless infrastructure provider has permission from the owner of the alternative support structure to co-locate equipment on that alternative support structure and so notifies the Director of Planning and Development Review or the designee thereof.

(b) No small cell facility shall be co-located on any alternative support structure and no building permit authorizing the co-location of any small cell facility on any alternative support structure shall be issued until the wireless service provider or wireless infrastructure provider obtains a small cell facility co-location permit for the co-location of such small cell facility.

(c) Applications for small cell facility co-location permits shall be submitted to the Director of Planning and Development Review or the designee thereof and may include up to 35 permit requests on a single application. A permit fee and processing fee shall accompany each application. For each small cell facility up to five small cell facilities on a single permit application the fee shall be $100.00, and for each additional small cell facility over five small cell facilities on a single permit application the fee shall be $50.00. Applications shall include the following information for each permit requested. Any application not containing all of the following information may be deemed incomplete by the Director of Planning and Development Review or the designee thereof.

(1) The applicant's name and status as a wireless service provider or wireless infrastructure provider and a valid electronic mail address at which the applicant may be contacted;

(2) The address and latitude/longitude of the alternative support structure on which the small cell facility will be co-located;

(3) The owner of the alternative support structure and an agreement or other evidence showing the owner has granted permission to the applicant to co-locate on the alternative support structure, which evidence may include the owner's signature on the application;

(4) A description of any other regulatory review required for the site and the status of that review (e.g., Federal Communications Commission, Federal Aviation Administration, NEPA impact report);

(5) A statement that the small cell facility and operation thereof will not materially interfere with other pre-existing communications facilities or with future communications facilities that have already been designed and planned for a specific location or that have been reserved for future public safety communications facilities; and

(6) Plans clearly depicting the following:

a. The dimensions and specifications of the small cell facility, including the antennas, base station, and all other associated wireless equipment;

b. A detailed layout plan consisting of a site plan, roof plan, floor plan, as applicable to the alternative support structure;

c. Detailed elevation drawings showing the co-location of the small cell facility, including the base station and all other associated equipment, on the alternative support structure; and

d. In the case of an installation on publicly owned or publicly controlled property, excluding privately owned structures where the applicant has an agreement for attachment to the structure, such plans and elevation drawings shall include:

1. The color of the alternative support structure and the small cell facility, the base station and all other associated equipment;

(4) Appearance. There shall be no signs, other than specifically permitted by Article V of this chapter, and no displays or alterations to the exterior of the building or premises that would distinguish it as being devoted to a nondwelling use.

(5) Intensity/traffic. Visitation by clients, customers, vendors or other visitors associated with the home occupation, including deliveries, shall not exceed a total of four vehicles per day, nor more than two persons at any one time, and shall occur only between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m.

(6) Vehicles. Parking or storage of vehicles shall be subject to the limitations set forth in Section 30-640.2 of this chapter, provided that no more than two vehicles used in conjunction with a home occupation shall be parked or stored on the premises either outside or inside a completely covered enclosed building.

(7) Prohibited activities. In conjunction with any home occupation, no product shall be offered for sale directly to customers on the premises, there shall be no housing of persons for compensation, and there shall be no repair of vehicles or internal combustion engines. In the case of a home occupation conducted in a dwelling unit other than a single-family detached dwelling, such impacts shall not be discernable to the normal senses outside of the dwelling unit. The use or storage or both of hazardous materials of such type or in such quantities not normally permitted in a residential structure shall be prohibited.

(c) Limitation on parking requirements. In the UB-2, B-6, B-7, RF-1 and RF-2 districts, in no case where the number of required off-street parking spaces is determined based on floor area devoted to a use shall the off-street parking requirement for such use exceed one space per 300 square feet of floor area.

(d) Credit for on-street parking in UB, UB-2, B-1, B-2, B-3, B-6, B-7, M-1, M-2, RF-1 and RF-2 districts. For purposes of calculating the number of off-street parking spaces provided for a use located in an UB, UB-2, B-1, B-2, B-3, B-6, B-7, M-1, M-2, RF-1 or RF-2 district, on-street parking spaces provided within portions of the public right-of-way abutting the street frontage of the property shall be credited as though they were off-street parking spaces located on the premises. In a case where any portion of such on-street parking spaces are eliminated by government action subsequent to City approval of plans for development of the property, the off-street parking requirement applicable to the use shall be reduced by the number of on-street parking spaces eliminated.

Sec. 30-710.2:4. Special off-street parking requirements in the R-63 district.

In the R-63 district, off-street parking shall not be required for principal uses that are permitted only on corner lots, except as provided in the R-63 district regulations for such uses as may be permitted subject to approval of a conditional use permit.

(Code 2004, § 114-710.2:4; Code 2015, § 30-710.2:4; Ord. No. 2006-197-217, § 3, 7-24-2006)

Sec. 30-710.2:5. Special off-street parking requirements in the R-8 district.

In the R-8 district, off-street parking shall not be required for nondwelling uses that are permitted by conditional use permit occupying the ground floor of existing buildings, except as may be provided as a condition of approval of a conditional use permit. Dwelling units occupying space above the ground floor of such buildings shall be provided with not less than one off-street parking space per unit.

(Code 2004, § 114-710.2:5; Code 2015, § 30-710.2:5; Ord. No. 2010-18-30, § 4, 2-22-2010)

Sec. 30-710.3. Method of determining number of parking spaces.

(a) For the purpose of determining the required number of parking spaces, floor area shall include the gross area of the floor space devoted to the particular use, including space devoted to incidental purposes related thereto, and shall be measured along interior faces of enclosing walls or partitions with no deduction for intervening walls or partitions. For a restaurant use, floor area shall also include the gross area of space outside of an enclosed building when such space is designed, arranged or intended for the service or accommodation of patrons of the restaurant.

(b) For the purpose of determining the required number of parking spaces, the number of employees shall be construed to be the maximum number of persons employed on any working shift.

(c) When computation of required parking spaces based on floor area, units, employees or seating capacity results in a fractional number, the number of spaces required shall be the nearest whole number.

(d) When any change is made in a building or use thereof so that the number of parking spaces required by Sections 30-710.1 and 30-900.3 is increased, not less than the number of spaces required for that increase shall be provided in addition to the spaces provided prior to such change.

(e) When a building or premises is devoted to more than one use, the total number of spaces required shall be the sum of the spaces required for each use, provided that in the R-73, RO-2 and RO-3 districts, off-street parking shall not be required for incidental retail, personal service or other uses accessory to permitted principal uses.

(f) In B-1, B-2, and B-3 business districts, the minimum number of off-street parking spaces required for a nondwelling use existing on August 12, 1985, for which use a certificate of occupancy or building permit has been issued by the City and where such use has been continuous since the issuance thereof, shall be as specified by such certificate of occupancy or building permit, unless the Zoning Administrator determines that a greater number of spaces exist for such use, in which case such greater number of spaces shall be required. When the number of off-street parking spaces is not specified on a certificate of occupancy or building permit, the minimum required number of spaces shall be the number of such spaces that the Zoning Administrator determines existed on August 12, 1985. Any change in a building or use thereof after August 12, 1985, with regard to off-street parking, shall require conformance with the applicable sections of this chapter.

The minimum aisle width for two-way traffic shall be 18 feet. Captive stalls for parallel parking shall be 22 feet in length. End stalls for parallel parking shall be 17 1/2 feet in length. The Zoning Administrator may interpolate dimensions for angles not listed above.

(b) Parking areas with five or more spaces may provide a maximum of 20 percent of spaces at compact dimensions, provided that such spaces shall be clearly marked as compact spaces.

(c) A further reduction of two feet in aisle width for full-size stalls shall be permitted in RO-3, HO, B-4, B-5, B-6, B-7, TOD-1, CM, DCC, and RP districts.

(d) Up to 2 1/2 feet of the required parking stall depth specified in subsection (a) of this section may be provided as vehicle overhang area and need not be paved, provided that curbs or wheel stops shall be installed in such manner that the vehicle overhang area is clear of any obstruction to vehicles utilizing the parking space and that the vehicle overhang area shall not encroach into any other parking space, access aisle, public right-of-way, abutting property, pedestrian walkway or any required yard, perimeter buffer or internal landscaped area.

(e) All dead-end aisles providing access to parking spaces shall be provided with backup space of not less than five feet in depth at the end of such aisles.

Sec. 30-710.3:2. Dimensions of stacking spaces.

The minimum size of stacking spaces required by the provisions of this chapter shall be eight feet in width and 18 feet in length.

Sec. 30-710.4. Required spaces located off the premises.

Off-street parking spaces required for any use may be provided off the premises of the use for which they are required, provided that:

(1) In the B-4, B-5, B-7, and TOD-1 districts, at least some portion of the parking area, parking lot, parking deck, or parking garage within which such spaces are provided shall be located within a 750-foot radius of a principal entrance to the building occupied by the use for which they are required.

(2) In all other districts, at least some portion of the parking area, parking lot, parking deck, or parking garage within which such spaces are provided shall be located within a 500-foot radius of a principal entrance to the building occupied by the use for which they are required, except that in an RP district, parking spaces located off the premises shall be subject to the provisions set forth in Section 30-710.2:1.

(3) In all cases, property used for such parking spaces shall be located in a district where parking areas serving the proposed use are permitted except that such parking spaces may be located within a parking deck or a parking garage that is not located in a district where parking areas serving the proposed use are permitted if such parking deck or parking garage was constructed before the commencement of the proposed use.

(4) Subject to subsection (1) of this section, any portion of the parking spaces required for any use may be supplied by parking spaces provided for any other use which is not routinely open, used or operated during the same hours of the day or night.

(5) Where parking spaces required by this article are located on property other than that occupied by the use for which such spaces are required, the property shall be held in fee simple by the owner of the use involved or in such other tenure as assures continued availability for such. When the tenure is other than ownership in fee simple, the tenure shall not be less than one year, and the form and terms of tenure shall be approved by the City Attorney before a certificate of use and occupancy or a certificate of zoning compliance may be issued. When use of property for parking purposes is discontinued, the Zoning Administrator shall be notified, by both the lessor and the lessee, in writing, a minimum of 30 days prior to the discontinuance, and unless the parking spaces located thereon are no longer required by this article, such spaces shall be provided elsewhere in compliance with this article.

(6) Off-premises parking areas and lots containing five or more spaces shall be improved as specified in Division 2.1 of this article.

(7) Off-premises parking spaces, areas or lots shall be provided with identification indicating the use for which they are required and, if applicable, the hours of their availability, provided that such identification shall not be required in the case of off-premises parking spaces, areas or lots that are operated by a governmental agency. In lieu of such identification, the owner of the property on which the parking is located shall provide to the Zoning Administrator an affidavit indicating the location of the property, the number of parking spaces on the property, the number of spaces currently leased or otherwise allocated to serve a use, the use for which such spaces are leased or otherwise allocated, and to whom parking spaces are leased. The Zoning Administrator shall be notified in writing by the owner of the property on which the parking spaces are located prior to any change in the information contained in such affidavit. In addition, the use for which the off-premises parking is provided shall contain notification, in a conspicuous manner on the premises of the use and on a website, if one exists, of the use for which the parking is required, of the availability and location of such parking spaces.

Sec. 30-710.5. Parking spaces located in required yards.

This section shall apply in addition to the applicable improvement requirements and landscaping standards for parking areas and parking lots contained in Division 2.1 of this article. Spaces for the parking of vehicles and access aisles thereto, except spaces accessory to single-family dwellings, shall not be located within a required front yard or required street side yard on any lot in R, RO, B-1, and OS districts nor within that portion of a required front yard on a lot in any other district and situated within 50 feet of a lot in an R or RO district.

DIVISION 2.1. OFF-STREET PARKING IMPROVEMENT REQUIREMENTS AND LANDSCAPING

STANDARDS

Sec. 30-710.10. Intent.

The intent of this division is to facilitate the creation of a convenient, attractive and harmonious community; to conserve and protect natural resources, including air and water quality; to protect and enhance property values; and to promote public safety by providing internal landscaping, perimeter buffer, tree coverage and other improvement standards for the development and maintenance of parking areas and parking lots in the City.

(Code 1993, § 32-710.10; Code 2004, § 114-710.10; Code 2015, § 30-710.10)

Sec. 30-710.11. Applicability of division.

(a) Newly constructed parking areas and parking lots. The requirements and standards set forth in this division shall be applicable to all principal and accessory parking areas and parking lots newly constructed or established after the effective date of the ordinance from which this division is derived. For purposes of this section, the paving of a previously unpaved parking area or parking lot or the removal and subsequent reconstruction of improvements in an existing parking area or parking lot shall be construed as a newly constructed parking area or parking lot.

(b) Existing parking areas and parking lots. The requirements and standards set forth in this division shall be applicable to principal and accessory parking areas and parking lots existing at the effective date of the ordinance from which this division is derived in accordance with the requirements of Article VIII of this chapter pertaining to nonconforming uses and features.

(Code 1993, § 32-710.11; Code 2004, § 114-710.11; Code 2015, § 30-710.11)

Sec. 30-710.12. Improvement of parking areas and parking lots.

Parking areas and parking lots containing five or more parking spaces shall be improved and maintained in accordance with the following:

(1) Screening along interior lot lines in certain cases. Whenever a parking area or parking lot abuts or is situated within 50 feet of property in an R, RO, HO or I district, unless separated therefrom by an alley providing access to such parking area or parking lot, the parking area or parking lot shall be effectively screened from view from such property by evergreen vegetative material not less than 3 1/2 feet in height at the time of installation or by an opaque structural fence or wall not less than four feet in height, provided that such parking area or parking lot need not be screened from an adjacent parking area or parking lot containing five or more parking spaces or from an adjacent loading area. Evergreen vegetative material intended to satisfy this subsection shall be planted at such intervals that will result in a continuous visual screen within one year of planting.

(2) Paving. Parking areas and parking lots and all entrances thereto and exits therefrom shall be designed and improved using accepted engineering practices for usability and longevity with asphalt, concrete, unit pavers or similar material approved by the administrator of the erosion and sediment control ordinance in Chapter 14, Article III, and shall be designed so as not to create or increase adverse effects on adjoining properties as a result of surface drainage.

(3) Pavement markings. Except where the parking of vehicles is by attendant only, each required parking space shall be delineated.

(4) Maneuvering space. No parking area or parking lot shall be designed, operated or maintained so as to cause any street or sidewalk to be obstructed by vehicles entering, leaving or maneuvering within such parking area or parking lot. Whenever necessary to prevent such obstruction, space for the maneuvering of vehicles shall be provided within the parking area or parking lot.

(5) Lighting. Parking areas and parking lots shall be provided with lighting during the non-daylight hours when such are in use. Lighting shall be designed and installed so as to concentrate illumination within the parking area or parking lot and to prevent glare on adjoining properties and streets. The height of lighting structures shall not exceed the height limit of the district in which they are located, and in no case shall such height exceed 35 feet. When lighting is required by this subsection, the intensity of illumination within the area devoted to parking shall be not less than 0.5 horizontal footcandle at any location, provided that in no case shall the intensity of illumination exceed 0.5 horizontal footcandle at any property line abutting a lot in an R or RO district. The lighting maximum-to-minimum ratio within the parking area or parking lot shall not exceed 15:1. Parking area and parking lot lighting fixtures shall be constructed or shielded in such a manner that all light emitted by the fixture, either directly from the lamp or indirectly from the fixture, is projected below the horizontal plane of the fixture.

Sec. 30-710.13. Perimeter buffers; landscaping requirements.

(1) Treatment of required landscaped buffers. Treatment of required landscaped buffers shall be in accordance with the following:

a. Required landscaped buffers shall be provided with vegetative ground cover, trees, shrubs, other plant material, or any combination thereof, except where more specific requirements are set forth in subsection (2) of this section. Mulch ground cover may be provided as a border or supplement to other vegetation in a required landscaped buffer. Pedestrian walkways incidental to landscaped buffers may be incorporated within such buffers when the other requirements of this subsection (1)a are met.

b. All required landscaped buffers shall be protected from encroachment by motor vehicles by installation of curbs, wheel stops or other features which separate the landscaped buffer from areas improved for vehicle parking or circulation.

(2) Landscaped buffers along streets. Landscaped buffers as set forth in subsections (2)a through (2)d of this section shall be installed and maintained between all areas devoted to parking and all adjacent street lines, provided that approved driveways enabling access to abutting streets may extend through such buffers.

a. Zoning districts and permitted buffer alternatives. The following table specifies the buffer and buffer alternatives that satisfy the landscaped buffer requirement in each zoning district. Where more than one buffer alternative is listed for a zoning district, any of the listed alternatives may be provided to satisfy the buffer requirement in that district:

c. Tree and shrub standards. Standards for trees and shrubs shall be as follows:

1. Trees to be credited toward buffer requirements shall be deciduous trees having a caliper of not less than 2 1/2 inches at the time of installation measured six inches above the ground or evergreen trees having a height of not less than six feet at the time of installation. Healthy existing trees to be retained within a buffer area may be credited toward buffer requirements when such trees are shown on approved plans and are adequately protected during construction.

2. Trees to be credited toward buffer requirements shall be distributed as equally as practical throughout the length of the buffer, with consideration for the species of trees, topography, location of driveways and utilities and other physical conditions.

3. Shrubs to be credited toward buffer requirements shall be evergreen shrubs not less than two feet in height at the time of installation. Shrubs may be grouped in a manner appropriate to the species and need not be distributed equally throughout the length of the buffer.

d. Fences or walls. Fences or walls to be credited toward buffer requirements shall comply with fence and wall design guidelines adopted by resolution of the Planning Commission or their equivalent as determined by the Zoning Administrator. In no case shall chain link, chain link with slats or similar fencing be considered to meet the requirements of the fence and wall design guidelines.

1. A fence or wall disapproved by the Director of Planning and Development Review shall, at the request of the applicant, be submitted to the Planning Commission for its review. The request for such review shall be made in writing to the Secretary of the Commission, who shall place the request on the Planning Commission's agenda for consideration at its first regularly scheduled meeting following the receipt of such request, provided that the request is received not less than ten days prior to such meeting.

2. After reviewing the decision of the Director of Planning and Development Review, the Planning Commission may affirm the decision or, upon finding that the proposed fence or wall satisfies the fence and wall design guidelines, may instruct the Director of Planning and Development Review to approve the fence or wall. The Planning Commission may attach such conditions as it deems necessary to ensure conformance with the intent and purpose of the fence and wall design guidelines.

e. Buffer I. Trees classified as medium or large in the Tree Canopy Chart dated November, 2002, adopted by the Planning Commission shall have a caliper of not less than 2 1/2 inches at the time of installation measured six inches above the ground or evergreen trees having a height of not less than six feet at the time of installation. Trees classified as small or compact in the Tree Canopy Chart dated November, 2002, adopted by the Planning Commission shall have a caliper of not less than 1 1/2 inches at the time of installation measured six inches above the ground or evergreen trees having a height of note less than five feet at the time of installation. Shrubs and groundcover credited towards the 50 percent coverage requirement may be evergreen or deciduous. All shrubs, groundcover, and trees may be grouped in a manner appropriate to the species with consideration for the topography, location of driveways and utilities, and other physical conditions and need not be distributed equally throughout the length of the buffer.

(3) Landscaped buffers along interior lot lines. In addition to the screening requirements set forth in Section 30-710.12, parking areas and parking lots containing 30 or more parking spaces and parking areas containing five or more parking spaces serving uses with drive-up facilities or facilities for dispensing motor fuels shall be provided with landscaped buffers of not less than five feet in depth installed and maintained between all areas devoted to parking and all lot lines other than street lines, provided that approved driveways connecting properties or enabling access to abutting alleys may extend through such buffers.

Sec. 30-710.14. Internal landscaping requirements.

Landscaped islands meeting the requirements of this section shall be provided within all parking areas and parking lots containing 30 or more parking spaces and within parking areas containing five or more parking spaces serving uses with drive-up facilities or facilities for dispensing motor fuels.

(1) Required number of landscaped islands. Landscaped islands shall be installed at a rate of not less than the following, unless a greater number of landscaped islands are required to satisfy the provisions of subsection (2) of this section:

a. Within parking areas containing 30 or more parking spaces serving uses other than uses with drive-up facilities or facilities for dispensing motor fuels and within parking lots containing 30 or more parking spaces: one landscaped island for every 15 parking spaces, or major fraction thereof, for the first 100 parking spaces, plus one landscaped island for every additional 20 parking spaces, or major fraction thereof;

b. Within parking areas containing five or more parking spaces serving uses with drive-up facilities or facilities for dispensing motor fuels: one landscaped island for every ten parking spaces, or major fraction thereof, for the first 30 parking spaces; plus one landscaped island for every additional 15 parking spaces, or major fraction thereof, for up to and including 100 parking spaces; plus one landscaped island for every additional 20 parking spaces, or major fraction thereof, in excess of 100 parking spaces.

(2) Location of required landscaped islands. Within parking areas and parking lots containing 100 or fewer parking spaces, landscaped islands shall be located so that no more than 15 parking spaces are situated in a continuous row, and within parking areas and parking lots containing more than 100 parking spaces, landscaped islands shall be located so that not more than 20 parking spaces are situated in a continuous row. Each end of each row of parking spaces shall be separated from adjacent access aisles and driveways by a landscaped island.

(3) Size of required landscaped islands. Required landscaped islands shall be not less than eight feet in width measured between the outside faces of curbs or other features that define the landscaped island if curbs are not provided, and shall be not less than the length of abutting parking spaces. In the case of landscaped islands having irregular width, the width shall be measured at each point where a tree is to be located within the island.

(4) Improvement of required landscaped islands.

a. Each required landscaped island shall contain not less than one deciduous tree having a caliper of not less than 2 1/2 inches at the time of installation measured six inches above the ground.

b. In addition to required trees, landscaped islands shall be provided with vegetative ground cover, shrubs, other plant material, or any combination thereof. All portions of required landscaped islands not provided with vegetative ground cover or other plant material shall be mulched.

c. Pedestrian walkways incidental to landscaped islands may be incorporated within such islands when the other requirements of this subsection are met.

d. All required landscaped islands shall be protected from encroachment by motor vehicles by installation of curbs, wheel stops or other features which separate the landscaped island from areas improved for vehicle parking or circulation. Required landscaped islands shall not include any portion of a required perimeter buffer or any portion of a parking space.

(5) Areas qualifying as landscaped islands. As shown below, landscaped islands shall include areas that are improved in accordance with the requirements of this section and are situated:

a. Within an otherwise continuous row of parking spaces so as to provide separation between parking spaces;

b. At the end of a row of parking spaces so as to provide separation between parking spaces and an access aisle, driveway, street, alley or other paved area;

c. At the end of a row of parking spaces so as to provide a corner between rows of parking spaces that are arranged at an angle to one another; or

d. Between opposing rows of parking spaces or between a row of parking spaces and an access aisle, driveway, street, alley or other paved area.

(1) Determining projected tree coverage. Projected tree coverage shall be determined in accordance with the City of Richmond Tree Canopy Chart which shall be adopted by resolution of the Planning Commission. Other tree species and larger trees not shown on the tree canopy chart may be given credit toward the tree coverage requirement when supporting data adequate to determine coverage is submitted to and accepted by the Zoning Administrator.

(2) Minimum projected tree coverage. Trees shall be planted or existing trees shall be retained so as to provide a projected tree coverage at ten years from the date of plan approval as determined by the following formulas:

a. A parking area serving a use other than a use with drive-up facilities or facilities for dispensing motor fuels, or a parking lot, shall have a projected tree coverage area equivalent to not less than 30 square feet for each parking space contained in the parking area or parking lot.

b. A parking area serving a use with drive-up facilities or facilities for dispensing motor fuels shall have a projected tree coverage area equivalent to not less than 40 square feet for each parking space contained in the parking area.

(3) Minimum tree sizes. Trees to be credited toward the tree coverage requirement shall meet the following standards at the time of installation:

a. Deciduous trees shall have a caliper of not less than 2 1/2 inches measured six inches above the ground.

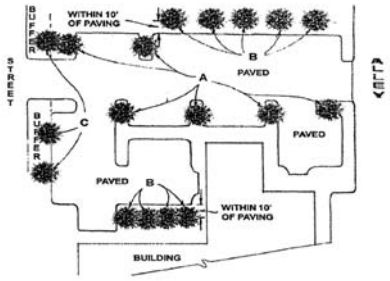
b. Evergreen trees shall be not less than six feet in height.

(4) Location of trees to be credited. As shown below, trees to be credited toward the tree coverage requirement may be located:

a. Within landscaped islands meeting the requirements of Section 32-710.14;

b. Between the area devoted to parking and a building on the same site, or between the area devoted to parking and a side or rear property line, provided such trees are located within ten feet of the area devoted to parking; or

c. Within that portion of a perimeter buffer lying within ten feet of the area devoted to parking, provided that trees required to meet perimeter buffer requirements shall not be credited toward the tree coverage requirement.



Location of Trees

(5) Retention of existing trees. Healthy existing trees to be retained may be credited toward the tree coverage requirement when such trees are located as specified in subsection (4) of this section, are shown on approved plans, and are adequately protected during construction.

ARTICLE VIII. NONCONFORMING USES AND FEATURES

DIVISION 1. NONCONFORMING USES

Sec. 30-800. Continuation.

Nonconforming uses as defined in Section 30-1220 may be continued subject to the limitations set forth in this division so long as the then-existing or more restricted use continues.

(Code 1993, § 32-800; Code 2004, § 114-800; Code 2015, § 30-800)

Sec. 30-800.1. Alterations to buildings or structures devoted to nonconforming uses.

No building or structure devoted to a nonconforming use shall be enlarged, extended, reconstructed, moved or structurally altered unless such building or structure is thereafter devoted to a conforming use, provided that nothing in this division shall be construed to prohibit normal repair, maintenance and nonstructural alterations to such building or structure nor the alteration, strengthening or restoration to a safe condition as may be required by law and provided, further, that the following shall be permitted:

(1) Hospitals and institutional uses. A building or structure devoted to a nonconforming hospital or a nonconforming institution of a religious, educational, eleemosynary or philanthropic nature located in any district may be structurally altered so long as the amount of floor area devoted to the use is not increased.

(2) Dwellings in business districts. Any building containing a nonconforming single-family detached, single-family attached, two-family or multifamily dwelling in a UB, UB-2, B or OS district may be maintained, improved, enlarged, extended or structurally altered or may be reconstructed if damaged by fire, explosion, act of God or the public enemy, provided that in no case shall the amount of floor area devoted to such dwelling at the time it became nonconforming be increased more than ten percent nor shall the lot area, lot width or yard depths be reduced to less than required for the use in the R-48 district.

(3) Uses in UB-2, B-5 or B-6 districts. Any building devoted to a use which becomes nonconforming by reason of its inclusion in a UB-2, B-5 or B-6 district may, for purposes of accommodating such use, be maintained, improved, enlarged, extended or structurally altered or may be reconstructed if damaged by fire, explosion, act of God or the public enemy, provided that in no case shall the amount of floor area devoted to such use at the time of its inclusion in the B-5 or B-6 district be increased more than ten percent.

(4) Alterations to accommodate a wireless communications facility, microwave relay facility, or radio and television broadcast antenna and support structure. Any building or structure occupied by or accessory to a nonconforming use may be modified as necessary to accommodate such facilities and antennas, as set forth in Section 30-692.3, provided the applicable requirements of that section are met. The equipment related to the facility or antenna may be accommodated within the interior of the building by either the reduction of the space devoted to the nonconforming use, the conversion of previously unoccupied space within the building, or a combination thereof.

(Code 1993, § 32-800.1; Code 2004, § 114-800.1; Code 2015, § 30-800.1; Ord. No. 2008-2-55, § 2, 3-24-2008)

Sec. 30-800.2. Extension or expansion.

(a) Except as specifically permitted by this division, a nonconforming use shall not be extended, expanded, enlarged or moved to occupy a different or greater area of land, buildings or structures than was occupied by such use at the time it became nonconforming, provided that a nonconforming use may be extended throughout any parts of a building which were specifically and lawfully designed and arranged for such use at the time it became nonconforming so long as such extension does not result in any increase in the required number of off-street parking spaces under the terms of this chapter or any increase in the number of dwelling or lodging units in the building. No material change in a nonconforming use or material change in the program or operating characteristics of a nonconforming use shall take place that would increase the intensity of the use.

(b) The area of a lot on which a nonconforming use is located shall not be reduced unless authorized by the Board of Zoning Appeals pursuant to Article X of this chapter.

(c) Fences, walls, and building-mounted and freestanding solar energy systems shall be permitted on properties devoted to nonconforming uses in the same manner and subject to the same requirements as properties devoted to conforming uses.

(Code 1993, § 32-800.2; Code 2004, § 114-800.2; Code 2015, § 30-800.2; Ord. No. 2020-171, § 1(30-800.2), 9-28-2020)

Sec. 30-800.3. Changes.

(a) A nonconforming use may be changed to a use conforming to the regulations applicable in the district in which it is located or to a use, as determined by the Zoning Administrator, which meets all of the following criteria:

(1) The use is first permitted in the same district or a more restricted district than the district in which the nonconforming use is first permitted, and such use is not a use permitted by conditional use permit in that district.

(2) The use does not require more off-street parking than the nonconforming use as determined by application of the requirements of Section 30-710.1.

(3) The use does not characteristically have a greater number of employees or a greater amount of traffic, noise, smoke or odor than the nonconforming use.

(4) The use does not otherwise constitute a greater deviation from the regulations pertaining to permitted principal or accessory uses applicable in the district in which it is located.

(5) In addition to the other criteria set forth in this section, a nonconforming use which is permitted by conditional use permit in any district established by this chapter may be changed only to a use conforming to the use regulations applicable in the district in which it is located or to a dwelling use.

(6) In addition to the other criteria set forth in this section, a nonconforming use which is listed as a permitted use only in the I district and for which an institutional master plan is required may be changed only to a use conforming to the use regulations applicable in the district in which it is located or to a dwelling use.

(7) Subject to the applicable criteria set forth in this section, a change to a multifamily dwelling shall be permitted in a R-1, R-2, R-3, R-4, R-5, R-5A, R-6, R-7, and R-8 district, provided that there shall be a lot area of not less than 750 square feet for each dwelling unit.

(b) Whenever a nonconforming use is changed to a more restricted use or to a conforming use, the use shall not thereafter be changed to a less restricted use, unless such use is permitted by this chapter.

(c) When a change in a nonconforming use to a more restricted use as permitted by subsection (a) of this section or to a conforming use would result in imposition of a greater yard or open space requirement, such requirement shall not be construed to prohibit the change in use, provided that no physical change is made to the building or lot that results in any greater departure from any applicable requirement of this chapter.

(d) When a nonconforming use has been changed to an illegal use, such illegal use shall cease, and any subsequent use of the property shall conform to the regulations applicable in the district in which it is located or, if the nonconforming use has been discontinued for a period of less than two years, the illegal use may be changed to the last nonconforming use or to a use that is more restricted than such use.

(Code 1993, § 32-800.3; Code 2004, § 114-800.3; Code 2015, § 30-800.3; Ord. No. 2019-352, § 1, 1-13-2020)

Sec. 30-800.4. Discontinuance in general.

Whenever a nonconforming use of a building or structure is discontinued for a period of two years or longer, whether or not equipment or fixtures are removed, any subsequent use of the premises shall conform to the regulations applicable in the district in which it is located.

(Code 1993, § 32-800.4; Code 2004, § 114-800.4; Code 2015, § 30-800.4)

A nonconforming use of land shall be discontinued within two years from the effective date of the ordinance or amendment thereto causing it to become nonconforming.

(Code 1993, § 32-800.5; Code 2004, § 114-800.5; Code 2015, § 30-800.5)

Sec. 30-800.6. Discontinuance of certain uses in single-family districts.

(a) Business and industrial uses. The nonconforming use of a building in a single-family residential district for any purpose first permitted in a business or industrial district shall be discontinued within 15 years from the effective date of the ordinance or amendment thereto causing it to become nonconforming, and such building shall thereafter be devoted to conforming uses, provided that such nonconforming use of a building constructed less than 25 years prior to the effective date of the ordinance or amendment thereto causing it to become nonconforming shall be discontinued within 40 years from the date of the construction thereof and shall thereafter be devoted to conforming uses.

(b) Lodginghouses and tourist homes. The nonconforming use of a building in any single-family residential district for a lodginghouse or tourist home shall be discontinued within three years from the effective date of the ordinance or amendment thereto causing it to become nonconforming, and such building shall thereafter be devoted to conforming uses.

(Code 1993, § 32-800.6; Code 2004, § 114-800.6; Code 2015, § 30-800.6)

Sec. 30-800.7. Reserved.

Sec. 30-800.8. Damage to buildings devoted to nonconforming uses.

(a) When a building devoted to a nonconforming use is damaged by fire, explosion, act of God or the public enemy to the extent of 60 percent or less of its replacement value, as determined by the Commissioner of Buildings utilizing the R S Means or a similar cost evaluation system for comparable construction, such building may be restored, repaired, reconstructed and used as before such damage, provided that the area devoted to the nonconforming use shall not be increased, and provided further that application for a building permit for the restoration, repair or reconstruction shall be submitted within two years of the date of damage.

(b) When a building devoted to a nonconforming use is damaged by fire, explosion by fire, explosion, act of God or the public enemy to the extent of more than 60 percent of its replacement value, as determined by the Commissioner of Buildings utilizing the R S Means or a similar cost evaluation system for comparable construction, such building, if restored, shall thereafter be devoted to conforming uses, except as otherwise permitted pursuant to the provisions of Section 17.20 of the Charter.

Sec. 30-800.9. Seasonal uses.

Intermittent or temporary use of land, buildings or structures shall not be construed to establish the existence of a nonconforming use for the purposes of this division, provided that a lawful seasonal use that was in operation for at least two consecutive seasons immediately prior to the adoption of the ordinance from which this chapter is derived or subsequent amendment thereto shall be considered a nonconforming use for seasonal purposes only and shall be subject to applicable sections of this division.

(Code 1993, § 32-800.9; Code 2004, § 114-800.9; Code 2015, § 30-800.9)

DIVISION 2. NONCONFORMING FEATURES

Nonconforming features of uses, buildings and structures may be continued subject to the limitations set forth in this division. See Section 30-1220 for the definition of a nonconforming feature.

(Code 1993, § 32-810; Code 2004, § 114-810; Code 2015, § 30-810)

Sec. 30-810.1. Alterations to buildings or structures having nonconforming features.

Any building or structure having a nonconforming feature may be maintained, enlarged, extended or structurally altered, provided that such enlargement, extension or structural alteration shall not increase the degree or extent of the nonconforming feature and provided, further, that no building or structure having a nonconforming feature shall be moved, reconstructed or substituted with another building or structure unless such nonconforming feature is thereby eliminated and the building or structure is made to conform with this chapter. Vertical expansion of that part of a building which is nonconforming with regard to a yard or open space requirement shall be considered an increase in the extent of the nonconforming feature and shall not be permitted. For the purpose of this section, the installation of wireless communications facilities, building-mounted solar energy systems, microwave relay facilities, or radio and television broadcast antennas, through use of alternative support structures, shall not be deemed to increase the degree or extent of a nonconforming feature, as set forth in Section 30-692.3, provided the applicable requirements of that section are met.

Radio and television broadcast antenna support structures, microwave relay facility support structures and wireless communications support structures which have nonconforming features may be modified, strengthened, and/or rebuilt for the purpose of accommodating additional antennas, provided such modification, strengthening and/or rebuilding does not result in an increase in the preexisting diameter or horizontal dimensions and the overall height is not increased by more than ten percent. If the existing support structure is not of a monopole design and rebuilding is proposed, the replacement support structure shall be of monopole design.

ARTICLE IX. OVERLAY DISTRICTS

DIVISION 1. PARKING OVERLAY DISTRICTS

Sec. 30-900. Scope.

This division applies generally to parking overlay districts and is for the purpose of setting forth the means of establishing such districts and determining the off-street parking requirements applicable within each.

(Code 1993, § 32-900; Code 2004, § 114-900; Code 2015, § 30-900)

Sec. 30-900.1. Intent of districts.

(a) Pursuant to the general purposes of this chapter, the intent of parking overlay districts is to provide a means whereby the City Council may establish overlay districts to enable application of appropriate off-street parking requirements to business uses located within areas of the City characterized by a densely developed pedestrian shopping environment in close proximity to residential neighborhoods. The districts are intended to recognize that, due to several factors, business uses located in such areas typically generate lower demands for privately maintained off-street parking spaces than are reflected in the requirements generally applicable in the City and set forth in Section 30-710.1.

(b) Parking requirements within parking overlay districts are designed to reflect the factors that result in lower parking demand in such areas. These factors include:

(1) A function similar to that of a shopping center, resulting in a high proportion of multipurpose trips by patrons;

(2) Considerable walk-in trade due to proximity to residential areas and employment centers;

(3) Significant numbers of employees that walk to work due to proximity to living areas;

(4) Availability of public transportation; and

(5) Many older buildings which have been adapted from other uses and tend to be less efficient than newer special purpose buildings.

It is also intended that each parking overlay district reflect the supply of public parking spaces within the district by providing for further reduction in the parking requirements in direct proportion to available public parking.

(c) Parking overlay districts are intended to complement the UB Urban Business District and to be applied principally to those areas within such district which possess the factors enumerated in subsection (b) of this section, but may also be applied independent of the UB district to other areas where such factors exist within other specified districts.

(Code 1993, § 32-900.1; Code 2004, § 114-900.1; Code 2015, § 30-900.1)

Sec. 30-900.2. Application of districts and regulations.

(a) Relation to other districts. Parking overlay districts shall be in addition to and shall be applied so as to overlay and be superimposed on such other zoning districts as permitted by subsection (b) of this section and shown on the official zoning map. Any property lying within a parking overlay district shall also lie within one or more of such other zoning districts, which shall be known as underlying districts.

(b) Permitted underlying districts. Parking overlay districts shall be applied so as to overlay a UB, B-1, B-2 or B-3 district. Parking overlay districts may also be applied so as to overlay those portions of an RO-1, RO-2 or RO-3 district which lie contiguous to a UB, B-1, B-2 or B-3 district and constitute a part of the same parking overlay district.

(c) Minimum district size. Each parking overlay district shall comprise a contiguous area of not less than 25,000 square feet.

(d) Establishment of districts. Every parking overlay district shall be established by amendment to the official zoning map in the same manner as other zoning map amendments and as provided for by this chapter. Every area designated as a parking overlay district by such zoning map amendment shall constitute a separate district which shall be numbered serially in the order of adoption and shown on the official zoning map by a special symbol, pattern or shading depicting the boundaries of the district together with the numerical designation of the district. A description of the boundaries of each parking overlay district, the date of adoption of the district or amendment thereto and the off-street parking requirements applicable therein shall be set forth in this chapter.

(e) Application of district regulations. Each parking overlay district is for the purpose of establishing the minimum number of off-street parking spaces required for specified uses located within that district and, unless specifically provided to the contrary in this division, such number shall be in lieu of the requirements set forth in Section 30-710.1. In all other respects, the regulations normally applicable within the underlying district shall apply to property within the boundaries of the parking overlay district.

(Code 1993, § 32-900.2; Code 2004, § 114-900.2; Code 2015, § 30-900.2)

Sec. 30-900.3. Number of spaces required.

The minimum number of off-street parking spaces required for uses located in each parking overlay district shall be determined by application of this section. The minimum number of parking spaces required for a use not included within any of the use groups set forth in subsection (1) of this section shall be as required for such use by Section 30-710.1, unless specifically set forth to the contrary in the parking overlay district. The minimum number of off-street parking spaces required shall be as follows:

(1) Base requirements. The base requirements for the minimum number of off-street parking spaces for uses included within the following use groups shall be as follows, provided that lesser base requirements for specific uses or use groups may be established in the case of any parking overlay district when the City Council is satisfied that unique circumstances pertaining to the uses, physical conditions or functional characteristics within the parking overlay district justify such lesser base requirements:

a. Retail stores and shops, shopping centers, food stores, personal service and other service businesses, banks and savings and loan offices, and similar businesses: one space per 300 square feet of floor area.

b. Restaurants, theaters, amusement centers, lodges and clubs, and similar uses: one space per 150 square feet of floor area.

c. Offices including medical and dental offices and clinics, studios, veterinary clinics, and similar uses: one space per 300 square feet for the first 1,500 square feet of floor area, plus one space per 540 square feet of floor area in excess thereof.

d. Furniture, carpet, appliance, hardware or home improvement stores; clothing, shoe or other repair shops; and similar uses: one space per 750 square feet of floor area.

(2) Public parking allowance. It is the intent of this subsection that the base requirements set forth in subsection (1) of this section be reduced in proportion to the available supply of public parking spaces within each district. Such reduction shall be determined in accordance with the following and shall be known as the public parking allowance for the district. Prior to the introduction of any ordinance establishing a parking overlay district or expanding or contracting the boundaries of any such district, the following determinations shall be made relative to the particular circumstances within the proposed boundaries of the district in order to establish the public parking allowance applicable in that district:

a. Total floor area. The total square foot amount of all nonresidential floor area contained in all buildings located within the proposed district shall be determined. For purposes of such determination, floor area shall be as indicated on the most recent real estate tax assessment records of the City.

b. Total parking need. The total need for parking spaces within the proposed district shall be determined by multiplying the total floor area calculated under subsection (2)a of this section by 3.0 parking spaces per 1,000 square feet of floor area.

c. Available public parking. The total number of public parking spaces available within the proposed district shall be determined. The percentage of the total parking need represented by such number of public parking spaces, rounded to the nearest five percent, shall be determined. Such figure shall be the public parking allowance applicable within the district. For purposes of this subsection, public parking spaces shall be as defined in Section 30-1220.

d. Application of public parking allowance. The base requirements set forth in subsection (1) of this section shall be reduced by the public parking allowance determined under subsection (2)c of this section. The result of such reduction, rounded to the nearest ten square feet, shall be the off-street parking requirements applicable to individual uses within the proposed parking overlay district.

(Code 1993, § 32-900.3; Code 2004, § 114-900.3; Code 2015, § 30-900.3; Ord. No. 2009-37-50, § 1, 4-13-2009)

Sec. 30-900.4. Method of determining required number of spaces for individual uses.

The minimum number of off-street parking spaces required for individual uses located within parking overlay districts shall be determined in accordance with the following rules:

(1) Section 30-710.3(a) through (e) shall be applicable.

(2) Where the number of parking spaces required for a particular use by application of Section 30-710.3(f) is less than the number of spaces that would be required for that use by application of Section 30-900.3, such lesser number of spaces shall be the requirement applicable to the use.

(Code 1993, § 32-900.4; Code 2004, § 114-900.4; Code 2015, § 30-900.4)

Sec. 30-900.5. Employee parking.

Notwithstanding the definition of the term of "parking space" in Section 30-1220, not more than 25 percent of the minimum number of off-street parking spaces required for a use may be designated and reserved for employee parking and may be arranged in such manner that access to one such space is provided by passage through another parking space. For purposes of determining the permitted number of employee parking spaces, the minimum number of off-street parking spaces required for a use shall be construed to be the number of spaces determined after application of all of the sections of this division, including determination of any nonconforming rights that may be applicable to the use.

(Code 1993, § 32-900.5; Code 2004, § 114-900.5; Code 2015, § 30-900.5)

Sec. 30-900.6. Required spaces located off the premises.

Off-street parking spaces may be provided off the premises occupied by the use for which such spaces are required in accordance with Section 30-710.4, provided that a parking overlay district may specify regulations pertaining to required spaces located off the premises that differ from those regulations set forth in Section 30-710.4.

Sec. 30-930.4. Process for establishment and regulation.

(a) Scope. There may be created in the City certain districts to be known as old and historic districts, which are referred to as such in this division and which shall be an overlay to the other zoning districts into which the City is divided. The boundaries of any districts created shall be shown on the official zoning map on file with the Department of Planning and Development Review, as such may be amended from time to time by the City Council, which map is incorporated in this division by reference and made a part of this division. Materials documenting the process of establishing an old and historic district shall be kept in the files of the Department of Planning and Development Review. The adoption, amendment or repeal of any boundaries of such old and historic districts shall comply with and be subject to all procedures and criteria set forth in the Charter applicable to the adoption, amendment or repeal of the comprehensive zoning ordinance.

(b) Process for creation of districts. As the Commission of Architectural Review undertakes the evaluation of historic resources in the City, it may deem it appropriate to initiate the establishment of additional old and historic districts. Any individual or organization may request that the Commission initiate the review of a potential old and historic district. The review of a proposed old and historic district shall be at the discretion of the Commission. However, it shall be undertaken automatically upon introduction of a paper proposing the establishment of a new old and historic district by the Mayor or by a member of the City Council. To begin the review process of a proposed old and historic district, the Commission shall pass a resolution instructing the Secretary to begin administration of the review process.

(c) Commission review; public hearing. To begin the review process for the creation of an old and historic district, the Commission of Architectural Review shall hold a public hearing with notice to all property owners within the proposed old and historic district boundary and all owners of all property, any part of which lies within 150 feet of the proposed district. Notice of the public hearing shall be published twice in a daily newspaper of general circulation in the City. The first notice shall be published not less than 14 days prior to the date of such hearing; the second shall be published not less than seven days prior to the date of the hearing. In addition, the establishment of an old and historic district shall follow the procedures set forth in Article XI of this chapter. The Commission may choose to set forth additional procedures for the review of old and historic districts in its rules of procedure.

(d) Criteria for establishment of additional districts. The following criteria shall be used by the Commission of Architectural Review in evaluating potential old and historic districts. The Commission may recommend a neighborhood, district, building, structure or site for designation as an old and historic district, if it meets one or more of the following criteria:

(1) It has significant character, interest or value as a part of the historic development of the City.

(2) It is the site of a historic event which had a significant impact on the history of the City.

(3) It exemplifies the architectural, cultural, economic, social, political, artistic, or religious history of the City.

(4) It portrays the architectural character of a particular era in the history of the City.

(5) It is a rare example of a building built for a particular purpose, a type or form of building, a particular architectural style, or a form of engineering.

(6) It is the work of a designer or craftsman whose individual work has significantly impacted the City, the Commonwealth, or the United States of America.

(7) It contains elements of design, detail, material or craftsmanship that represent a significant innovation for its time period.

(8) It is related to a park, street configuration, open space, hill, body of water, or landscaped grounds of significance in the areas of urban planning or landscape architecture.

(9) It constitutes a landmark of the City, owing to its unique location or unusual physical characteristics.

(10) It is contiguous with a neighborhood, district, building, structure, or site that meets one or more of the criteria in subsections (d)(1) through (9) of this section, and changes to it could impact the neighborhood, district, building, structure or site that meets such criteria.

All old and historic districts created prior to the adoption of the ordinance from which this section is derived shall be deemed to meet one or more of these criteria.

(e) Relation to other districts. Old and historic districts shall be in addition to the underlying zoning and shall be applied so as to overlay and be superimposed on such other zoning districts as permitted by this chapter and shown on the official zoning map. Any property lying within an old and historic district shall also lie within one or more of such other zoning districts, which shall be known as underlying districts.

(f) Application of district regulations. Each old and historic district is established to create a certificate of appropriateness review process as provided in this section. In all other respects, the regulations normally applicable within the underlying zoning district shall apply to property within the boundaries of the old and historic district.

No. 2005-256-227, adopted October 24, 2005, provided that no conditions attached to a certificate of appropriateness issued by the Commission of Architectural Review shall deny any owners of property classified as of October 24, 2005, as R-73 Multifamily Residential in the Springhill Old and Historic District the right to construct multifamily buildings as set forth in Section 30-420.8.

Sec. 30-930.6. Certificate of appropriateness.

(a) Approval required. No building or structure or any exterior portion thereof, sign or paving shall be constructed, altered, reconstructed, repaired, restored or demolished within any old and historic district unless the building or structure or any exterior portion thereof, sign or paving is approved by the Commission of Architectural Review or, on appeal, by the City Council, as being architecturally compatible with the buildings, structures, sites and general character of the old and historic district. All such approvals shall be evidenced by a certificate of appropriateness. No permit to construct, alter, reconstruct, repair, restore or demolish any building, structure or site shall be issued by the Commissioner of Buildings unless the applicant has first obtained approval of a certificate of appropriateness for such work.

(b) Submission of application. An application for certificate of appropriateness required pursuant to this section shall be submitted to the Secretary of the Commission of Architectural Review in writing by the owner of such building or structure. When a work-in-street, land-disturbing, building, sign or demolition permit is required, the applicant shall apply for other necessary permits at the same time an application for a certificate of appropriateness is submitted. The application for such certificate of appropriateness shall be accompanied by a fee as set forth below and plans and specifications which shall show the proposed exterior architectural features of such building or structure, which shall include but, shall not be limited to, the design, arrangement, texture, materials and color proposed to be used in the construction, alteration, reconstruction, repair, restoration, or demolition of the building or structure and the type of windows, exterior doors, lights, signs, site improvements, and other exterior fixtures and appurtenances. Upon the filing of such application with the Secretary of the Commission, the Secretary shall promptly transmit it with such plans and specifications to the Commission.

(1)	Full demolition	$1,500.00
(2)	New construction of or an addition to a single- or two-family dwelling, or accessory building	$250.00
(3)	New construction of or an addition to a building, other than for a single- or two-family dwelling or accessory building	$500.00
(4)	Amendments to previous certificates of appropriateness concerning non-structural alterations, changes to signage, and changes to plans	$150.00
(5)	Extension of a certificate of appropriateness	$25.00

(c) Approval or disapproval of application and issuance. Upon receipt of a completed certificate of appropriateness application pursuant to this section, the of Architectural Review Commission shall approve or disapprove such and, if approved, shall issue a certificate of appropriateness therefor, with or without conditions or with such modifications of the plans and specifications as the Commission of Architectural Review deems necessary to execute the purpose set forth in Section 30-930.2 and to require compliance with the regulations set out in this division. Otherwise, such plans and specifications shall be deemed rejected, and the Commission shall not issue a certificate of appropriateness.

(d) Conceptual review. Any person may request the Commission of Architectural Review to review conceptual design proposals for exterior work before submitting a formal application for a certificate of appropriateness required pursuant to this section. The Commission shall review and discuss the proposal with the applicant and make any necessary recommendations. Such conceptual review shall be advisory only.

(e) Notification to public. The Secretary shall use the following procedures in notifying the public of cases for certificates of appropriateness being considered by the Commission of Architectural Review:

(1) General notification. A concise agenda, listing all items to be reviewed by the Commission of Architectural Review and the date, time and place of the Commission meeting shall be published at least seven days prior to the meeting in a daily newspaper of general circulation in the City.

(2) Direct notification of affected property owners. When a certificate of appropriateness application involves a substantial impact, as defined in Section 30-930.1, in an old and historic district, the property owners of all property or portions of property located within 150 feet of the project shall be notified of the prospective change and of the date, time, and place of the meeting at which such change shall be considered by the Commission. Such notice shall be by regular mail and mailed at least seven days prior to the meeting.

(f) Scope of review. A certificate of appropriateness shall be required for all alterations to a building, structure, or site which is subject to a public view.

(g) Reasons for Commission action. The Commission of Architectural Review shall state clearly its reasons for approval, denial, modification, or deferral of an application for a certificate of appropriateness in the records of the Commission proceedings.

(h) Delegation of applications for review by Commission Secretary. The Commission of Architectural Review may choose to delegate certain types of applications for a certificate of appropriateness for review by the Secretary. The Commission shall designate such items which are subject to review and shall issue guidelines for the Secretary to conduct the review. Any application for a certificate of appropriateness for any such designated design feature may be approved by the Secretary of the Commission without full Commission action, unless the Secretary finds that a particular structure has unique characteristics that may call for a different design treatment. In such cases, the Secretary shall schedule the application for Commission consideration at its next meeting. The Secretary shall keep a record of all such approvals and shall provide the Commission with a report of all new approvals at each of its regular meetings.

(i) Normal maintenance and repair. Nothing in this division shall be construed to prevent the normal repair and maintenance of any exterior architectural feature located in an old and historic district.

(j) Unsafe and dangerous conditions. Nothing in this division shall be construed to prevent the construction, reconstruction, alteration or demolition of any such building or feature which the Commissioner of Buildings shall determine is required for public safety because of an unsafe or dangerous condition. Upon the determination of such a condition, the Commissioner of Buildings shall provide notice to the Commission of Architectural Review.

(k) Payment of delinquent real estate taxes. Approval of a certificate of appropriateness pursuant to this section shall not be granted until satisfactory evidence has been presented to the Secretary of the Commission of Architectural Review that any delinquent real estate taxes applicable to the subject property have been paid.

(Code 1993, § 32-930.6; Code 2004, § 114-930.6; Code 2015, § 30-930.6; Ord. No. 2020-079, §§ 1, 2, 5-11-2020)

Sec. 30-930.7. Standards and guidelines.

(a) General standards. The Commission of Architectural Review shall issue a certificate of appropriateness for alterations that are compatible with a property and the old and historic district of which it is a part. Each old and historic district contains buildings of varying architectural and historic significance. The Commission shall evaluate the significance of each property on a case-by-case basis. The historic character of each old and historic district shall be the primary consideration of the Commission in reviewing proposed designs for the district. The Commission may adopt additional standards for the review of certificates of appropriateness to supplement these standards.

(b) Standards for rehabilitation. The Commission of Architectural Review shall issue a certificate of appropriateness for the rehabilitation of a property, if it determines that a proposed change is compatible with the property and with the old and historic district of which it is a part. The historic design, features, materials, finishes and craftsmanship of a property shall be preserved whenever possible. Significant historic features of a property shall be treated with care. The Commission may require that existing materials, decorative elements, and structural elements be repaired rather than replaced. The Commission may adopt additional rehabilitation standards for the review of certificates of appropriateness to supplement these standards.

(c) Standards for new construction. The Commission of Architectural Review shall approve new construction which it deems to be compatible with the design, scale, materials, color, height, setback, and other pertinent features of the old and historic district in which it is located. The Commission may adopt additional new construction standards for the review of certificates of appropriateness to supplement these standards.

(d) Standards for demolition. The Commission of Architectural Review shall not issue a certificate of appropriateness for demolition of any building or structure within an old and historic district, unless the applicant can show that there are no feasible alternatives to demolition. The demolition of historic buildings and elements in old and historic districts is strongly discouraged. The demolition of any building deemed by the Commission to be not a part of the historic character of an old and historic district shall be permitted. The demolition of any building that has deteriorated beyond the point of being feasibly rehabilitated is permissible, where the applicant can satisfy the Commission as to the infeasibility of rehabilitation. The Commission may adopt additional demolition standards for the review of certificates of appropriateness applications to supplement these standards.

(e) Standards for site improvements. The Commission of Architectural Review shall issue a certificate of appropriateness for site improvements it deems to be appropriate to the character of the property and to the old and historic district of which it is a part. The Commission may adopt additional site improvement standards for the review of certificates of appropriateness to supplement these standards.

(f) Standards for signage. The Commission of Architectural Review shall issue a certificate of appropriateness for signage, the type, size, material, style, and lighting of which is appropriate to the character of the property and to the old and historic district of which it is a part. The Commission may adopt additional signage standards for the review of certificates of appropriateness to supplement these standards.

(g) Adoption of architectural guidelines. The Commission of Architectural Review may adopt architectural guidelines for any old and historic district to assist the public and the Commission in planning for and reviewing exterior modifications within such district. Such guidelines shall be advisory only and shall not replace the review required by this division.

(h) Architectural guidelines for use by Secretary. The Commission of Architectural Review may adopt design guidelines for any old and historic district which set forth standard design features that shall be uniformly applicable within such district by the Secretary conducting a review pursuant to Section 30-930.6(h).

Sec. 30-930.8. Appeal of decision granting or refusing to grant certificate of appropriateness.

(a) Appeal to City Council. Any person aggrieved by a decision of the Commission of Architectural Review pertaining to issuance or denial of a certificate of appropriateness pursuant to this division may appeal such decision to the City Council, by filing a petition with the City Clerk. A fee of $150.00 used for a single-family dwelling and $500.00 used as other than a single-family dwelling shall accompany each petition, which fee shall be paid into the City treasury. The City Clerk shall send copies of the petition to each member of the City Council and to the Secretary of the Commission. The petition shall set forth in writing the alleged errors or illegality of the Commission's action and the grounds thereof, specifically including any and all procedures, standards or guidelines alleged to have been violated or misapplied by the Commission. The petition shall be filed within 15 days after the final decision of the Commission approving or disapproving issuance of a certificate of appropriateness. The filing of the petition shall stay all proceedings from the decision appealed, except that a decision denying a request for demolition in an old and historic district shall not be stayed.

(b) Procedure on appeal to City Council. Within 15 days of the filing of the petition pursuant to this section, the Commission of Architectural Review shall file with the City Clerk certified or sworn copies of the record of its action and documents considered by it in making the decision being appealed. With the record and documents, the Commission may produce in writing such other facts as may be pertinent and material to show grounds of the decision appealed, verified by affidavit. The City Clerk shall send copies of all information filed by the Commission to each member of the City Council.

(c) Review by City Council. The City Council shall review the petition, record, documents, and other materials produced by the Commission of Architectural Review pursuant to this section, and the City Council may reverse or modify the decision appealed, in whole or in part, by resolution when it is satisfied that the decision of the Commission is in error under this division, or, by taking no action, the City Council may affirm the decision of the Commission. If the City Council finds that the testimony of witnesses is necessary for a proper disposition of the matter, it may hear evidence. The failure of the City Council to modify or reverse the decision of the Commission within 75 days, excluding City holidays and days on which the City government is closed due to a local emergency properly declared, from the date the petition is filed shall be deemed to constitute affirmation of the Commission's decision, unless:

(1) All parties to the appeal agree in writing to extend such period of time, in which case such period of time shall be extended as provided in the agreement; or

(2) A resolution has been introduced to modify or reverse the decision of the Commission and the meeting of the City Council at which the resolution is first scheduled for a public hearing occurs after the expiration of such period of time, in which case such period of time shall be extended until the date of the next meeting of the City Council at which the resolution is scheduled for a public hearing.

(d) Appeal to Circuit Court. Any person with standing may appeal a decision of the City Council to affirm, modify or reverse a decision of the Commission made pursuant to this division to the circuit court for review by filing a petition at law. The petition shall set forth in writing the alleged illegality of the action of the City Council and the grounds thereof, specifically including any and all procedures, standards or guidelines alleged to have been violated or misapplied by the City Council. The petition shall be filed within 30 days after the decision of the City Council. The filing of the petition shall stay the decision of the City Council, except that a decision denying a request for demolition in an old and historic district shall not be stayed. A copy of the petition shall be delivered to the City Clerk, who shall file with the circuit court a certified or sworn copy of the records and documents considered by the City Council.

(e) Review by Circuit Court. The Circuit Court shall review the record, documents and other materials filed by the City Clerk pursuant to this section. The Circuit Court may reverse or modify the decision of the City Council, in whole or in part, if it finds upon review that the decision of the City Council is contrary to law or that its decision is arbitrary and constitutes an abuse of discretion, or the court may affirm the decision of the City Council.

(Code 1993, § 32-930.8; Code 2004, § 114-930.8; Code 2015, § 30-930.8; Ord. No. 2010-186-199, §§ 1, 3, 11-22-2010; Ord. No. 2012-30-111, § 1, 7-23-2012)

Sec. 30-930.9. Additional rights of owners to demolish certain properties.

(a) Procedures. The following are procedures entitling owners to demolish properties:

(1) In addition to the right of appeal set forth in Section 30-930.8, the owner of a building or structure, the razing or demolition of which is subject to review under this division, shall, as a matter of right, be entitled to raze or demolish such building or structure provided that:

c. No bona fide contract binding upon all parties thereto shall have been executed for the sale of any such landmark, building or structure and the land pertaining thereto prior to the expiration of the applicable time period set forth in the time schedule contained in subsection (b) of this section.

(2) Any appeal which may be taken to the court from the decision of the City Council, whether instituted by the owner or by any other proper party, notwithstanding the sections of this division relating to a stay of the decision appealed from, shall not affect the right of the owner to make the bona fide offer to sell referred to in this section. No offer to sell shall be made more than 12 months after a final decision by the City Council, but thereafter the owner may renew the request to the City Council to approve the razing or demolition of the historic landmark, building or structure.

(b) Time schedule. The time schedule for offers to sell pursuant to this section shall be as follows:

(1) Three months when the offering price is less than $25,000.00;

(2) Four months when the offering price is $25,000.00 or more but less than $40,000.00;

(3) Five months when the offering price is $40,000.00 or more but less than $55,000.00;

(4) Six months when the offering price is $55,000.00 or more but less than $75,000.00;

(5) Seven months when the offering price is $75,000.00 or more but less than $90,000.00; and

(6) Twelve months when the offering price is $90,000.00 or more.

(c) Notice required. Before making a bona fide offer to sell as provided for in this section, an owner shall first file a statement with the Secretary of the Commission of Architectural Review, and the owner shall publish the notice twice, not less than seven days apart, in a daily newspaper of general circulation in the City. The statement shall identify the property, shall state the offering price, and shall state the date that the offer for sale is to begin and the name of the real estate agent, if any. No time period set forth in this section shall begin to run until the statement has been both filed and published.

The neighborhood organization requesting designation must submit a written report to the Director of the Department of Planning and Development Review which contains the following:

(1) The name of the neighborhood organization representing the interest of property owners in the proposed area, and one contact person's name, street address, and daytime phone number.

(2) A justification of why design overlay district designation is needed.

(3) A statement of the neighborhood's goals and an explanation of how design overlay district designation will meet these goals.

(4) A description of the following in the neighborhood:

a. Unique established neighborhood character;

b. Architectural coherence and harmony; and

c. Vulnerability to deterioration.

(5) A simple inventory of the neighborhood's unique characteristics including building characteristics, descriptions, significant details, date of construction, types of land uses, property addresses, etc. Color photographs documenting the characteristics must be included in the report.

(6) A reproducible map showing the proposed district's boundaries with street names clearly displayed and an explanation of why the boundaries are appropriate.

(7) A draft of specific design guidelines for the proposed design overlay district and how the guidelines relate to inventory characteristics.

(8) A statement of the level of neighborhood and property owner support for design overlay district designation.

(9) A description of the neighborhood organization's activities reflecting progress towards design overlay district designation to date.

(10) Any additional information that the Director of the Department of Planning and Development Review or designated staff determines to be necessary.

(c) Public information meeting. The staff of the Department of Planning and Development Review shall review the report submitted by the neighborhood organization pursuant to subsection (b) of this section. Upon acceptance of the form and content of the report, the staff shall notify the neighborhood so a public information meeting may be called. The public information meeting shall be sponsored by the neighborhood organization with assistance from staff of the Department of Planning and Development Review. The neighborhood organization shall provide written notice of the public information meeting to all property owners within the proposed design overlay district. In addition, notice of the public meeting shall be published by the neighborhood organization once in a daily newspaper of general circulation in the City and not less than 14 days prior to the date of the public information meeting.

(d) Review of proposed designation. Pursuant to this section, the neighborhood organization shall notify the property owners by mail and solicit, by return mail to the Department of Planning and Development Review, a response of support or opposition to the proposed design overlay district designation. If the majority of the responding property owners indicate support for the designation, the neighborhood organization's report shall be presented to the Urban Design Committee and the Planning Commission. Upon a favorable recommendation of the Planning Commission, an ordinance shall be prepared designating the design overlay district. A separate ordinance shall be required for each design overlay district. The ordinance shall be reviewed by the Urban Design Committee which shall forward a recommendation to the Planning Commission which shall review the ordinance and forward a recommendation to the City Council. The City Council shall take final action on the proposed design overlay district after holding a public hearing.

(e) Relation to other districts. Design overlay districts shall be in addition to the underlying zoning and shall be applied to overlay and shall be superimposed on other zoning districts as permitted by this chapter and shown on the official zoning map. Any property lying within a design overlay district shall also lie within one or more of such other zoning districts, which shall be known as underlying districts.

(f) Application of district regulations. Each design overlay district is established to create a review process as provided in this division. In all other respects, the land use regulations normally applicable within the underlying zoning district shall apply to property within the boundaries of the design overlay district.

(Code 1993, § 32-940.4; Code 2004, § 114-940.4; Code 2015, § 30-940.4; Ord. No. 2009-221-2010-9, § 1, 1-25-2010)

Sec. 30-940.5. Specific districts established and designated.

This division shall be applicable within the following districts, which are hereby established and designated as design overlay districts:

West of the Boulevard Design Overlay District. The boundaries of such district are as shown on the official zoning map, entitled "Zoning District Map 2008."

(Code 1993, § 32-940.5; Code 2004, § 114-940.5; Code 2015, § 30-940.4; Ord. No. 2010-94-80, § 1, 5-10-2010)

Sec. 30-940.6. Design guidelines of specific districts.

Each design overlay district shall have its own specific design guidelines which are developed by the neighborhood organization requesting design overlay district designation. The design guidelines shall further the specific purposes of design overlay district designation as set forth in the neighborhood organization's written report as required in Section 30-940.4(b). Nothing in the design guidelines is intended to usurp the rights that property owners have under this chapter. Where the design guidelines are more restrictive than this chapter, the design guidelines are considered to be recommendations only. The design guidelines for a specific design overlay district shall be reviewed by the Urban Design Committee and shall be adopted by resolution of the Planning Commission after holding a public hearing. The design guidelines may be amended by resolution of the Planning Commission after holding a public hearing. The Director of the Department of Planning and Development Review may establish additional procedures for giving public notice.

(Code 1993, § 32-940.6; Code 2004, § 114-940.6; Code 2015, § 30-940.6; Ord. No. 2009-221-2010-9, § 1, 1-25-2010)

Sec. 30-940.7. Process for administration.

(a) Approval required. No building or structure or any exterior portion thereof, sign or driveway shall be constructed, altered, reconstructed, repaired, restored or demolished within any design overlay district unless the building or structure or any exterior portion thereof, sign or driveway is approved by the designee of the Urban Design Committee or, on appeal, by the Urban Design Committee or the City Council, as being consistent with the purpose set forth in the adopted design guidelines of the particular design overlay district in which the property is situated. All such approvals shall be evidenced by a certificate of approval. No permit to authorize any new construction, alteration or demolition or to erect any sign or to install any driveway shall be issued by the responsible City agency unless the applicant has first obtained a certificate of approval for such work.

(b) Scope of review. A certificate of approval shall only be required for such new construction, demolition or alterations to a building, structure or site which are within public view and are specifically described in the adopted design guidelines for the particular design overlay district, as established in this division, in which the property is situated.

(c) Administration generally. Design overlay districts shall be administered through the building permit and certificate of zoning compliance application processes in accordance with Article X, Divisions 2 and 3 of this chapter, and such other permit approval processes of any agency of the City that affect any feature of the district design guidelines established in this division. Applications for all such permits on properties situated in a design overlay district shall be forwarded to the Zoning Administrator by the responsible City agency. The Zoning Administrator shall determine if a certificate of approval is required by the adopted design guidelines as provided for by Section 30-940.4(b)(7) for the particular design overlay district in which the property is situated and, if such determination is made, the Zoning Administrator shall forward the plans to an appointed designee of the Urban Design Committee for review. The Director of the Department of Planning and Development Review may establish additional procedures and guidelines for the administration of design overlay districts.

(d) Conceptual review of plans. Pursuant to this division, any person may request a conceptual design review of the proposal for exterior work, before submitting for a building permit, certificate of zoning compliance or other applicable permit or approval. The appointed designee of the Urban Design Committee may review and discuss the proposal with the applicant and make any necessary recommendations. Such conceptual review shall be advisory only.

(e) Permit review and additional submission requirements. Upon receipt of a complete application for a building permit, certificate of zoning compliance or other applicable permit or approval for a building, structure or other feature located on property within a designated design overlay district, the appointed designee of the Urban Design Committee shall review the plans for conformance with the adopted design guidelines for the particular design overlay district as established in this division. In order to determine conformance with the adopted design guidelines, the applicant may be required to submit additional information on the proposed exterior architectural features of the building, structure or feature, which may include, but shall not be limited to, the design, arrangement, texture, materials, and color proposed to be used and the type of windows, exterior doors, lights, signs, site improvements, and other exterior fixtures and appurtenances.

(f) Approval or disapproval of application and issuance of certificate of approval. Upon review of plans for conformance with the adopted design guidelines of a particular design overlay district, the appointed designee of the Urban Design Committee shall approve, with or without conditions, or shall disapprove such and shall notify in writing the neighborhood organization which requested design overlay district designation for its neighborhood. If the plans are approved, the designee of the Urban Design Committee shall issue a certificate of approval, with or without conditions, and the applicant shall be required to post the certificate of approval on the exterior of the property within public view within two calendar days after the granting of such approval. The certificate of approval shall remain posted for 30 consecutive days. The designee of the Urban Design Committee shall note approval, with or without conditions, or shall note disapproval on the building permit or other applicable permit.

(g) Reason for action. Pursuant to this section, the appointed designee of the Urban Design Committee shall clearly state the reason for approval or disapproval of the plans on the building permit or other applicable permit.

(h) Normal maintenance and repair. Nothing in this division shall be construed to prevent the normal repair and maintenance of any exterior architectural features located in a design overlay district.

(i) Unsafe and dangerous conditions. Nothing in this division shall be construed to prevent the construction, reconstruction, alteration or demolition of any building or feature which the Commissioner of Buildings shall determine is required for public safety because of an unsafe or dangerous condition. Upon the determination of such a condition, the Commissioner of Buildings shall provide notice to the appointed designee of the Urban Design Committee.

(Code 1993, § 32-940.7; Code 2004, § 114-940.7; Code 2015, § 30-940.7; Ord. No. 2009-221-2010-9, § 1, 1-25-2010; Ord. No. 2010-94-80, § 1, 5-10-2010)

Sec. 30-940.8. Appeal of decision granting or refusing to grant design approval.

(a) Appeal to Urban Design Committee. Any person aggrieved or any officer, department, board, commission or agency of the City affected may appeal the decision of the designee of the Urban Design Committee made pursuant to this division to the Urban Design Committee by filing a petition with the Secretary of the Urban Design Committee. The petition shall be filed within 30 days after the final written decision of the designee approving or disapproving design approval and shall set forth the alleged errors or illegality of the designee's action and the grounds thereof. The Secretary of the Urban Design Committee shall send copies of the petition to each member of the Urban Design Committee and to the property owner and shall notify in writing the neighborhood organization which requested design overlay district designation for its neighborhood and the affected property owners of all property or portions of property located within 150 feet of the property. Such notification shall include the scope of work and the date, time, and place of the meeting at which the appeal shall be considered by the Urban Design Committee and shall be by regular mail and mailed at least seven days prior to the meeting. The filing of the petition shall stay all proceedings from the decision appealed, except that a decision denying a request for demolition in a design overlay district shall not be stayed.

(b) Review by Urban Design Committee. Upon receipt of the petition filed pursuant to this section, the Urban Design Committee shall review the petition and shall approve or disapprove the plans and, if approved, shall issue a certificate of approval, with or without conditions, or with such modifications of the plans as the Committee deems necessary to execute the purpose set forth in the adopted design guidelines of the particular design overlay district and to require compliance with this division. Approval of any plans must receive no fewer than five affirmative votes of the Urban Design Committee. Failure to receive five affirmative votes shall be equivalent to a denial. The Director of the Department of Planning and Development Review may establish additional procedures and guidelines for appeals.

(c) Appeal to City Council. Any person aggrieved or any officer, department, board, commission or agency of the City affected may appeal the decision of the Urban Design Committee made pursuant to this division to the City Council by filing a petition with the City Clerk. The City Clerk shall send copies of the petition to each member of the City Council and to the Secretary of the Urban Design Committee. The petition shall set forth the alleged errors or illegality of the Urban Design Committee's action and the grounds thereof and shall be filed within 30 days after the final decision of the Urban Design Committee approving or disapproving design approval. The filing of the petition shall stay all proceedings from the decision appealed, except that a decision denying a request for demolition in a design overlay district shall not be stayed.

(d) Procedure on appeal to City Council. Within 30 days of the filing of the petition pursuant to this section, the Urban Design Committee shall file with the City Clerk certified or sworn copies of the record of its action and documents considered by it in making the decision being appealed. With the record and documents, the Urban Design Committee may produce in writing such other facts as may be pertinent and material to show grounds of the decision appealed, verified by affidavit. The City Clerk shall send copies of all information filed by the Urban Design Committee within a reasonable time to each member of the City Council. The Director of the Department of Planning and Development Review may establish additional procedures and guidelines for appeals.

(e) Review by City Council. The City Council shall review the petition, record, documents, and other materials produced by the Urban Design Committee pursuant to this section, and the City Council may reverse or modify the decision appealed, in whole or in part, when it is satisfied that the decision of the Urban Design Committee is in error under this division, or the City Council may affirm the decision of the Urban Design Committee.

(f) Appeal to circuit court. Any person aggrieved or any officer, department, board, commission or agency of the City affected may appeal any decision of the City Council to affirm, modify or reverse a decision of the Urban Design Committee made pursuant to this division to the circuit court for review by filing a petition at law.

(Code 1993, § 32-940.8; Code 2004, § 114-940.8; Code 2015, § 30-940.8; Ord. No. 2009-221-2010-9, § 1, 1-25-2010; Ord. No. 2010-94-80, § 1, 5-10-2010)

Sec. 30-940.9. Additional rights of owners to demolish certain buildings or structures regulated by design guidelines.

(a) Procedures. The following are procedures entitling owners to demolish properties:

(1) If the design guidelines for a particular design overlay district prohibit the demolition of buildings or structures deemed to be contributing to the general neighborhood character, the owner of the building or structure shall, as a matter of right and in addition to the right of appeal set forth in Section 30-940.8, be entitled to demolish the building or structure, provided that:

a. The owner has submitted a demolition permit to the City for such and, if denied by the designee of the Urban Design Committee, has appealed the decision to the Urban Design Committee and, if denied, has appealed the decision to the City Council;

b. The owner has, for the period of time set forth in subsection (b) of this section and at a price reasonably related to its fair market value, made a bona fide offer to sell the building or structure and the land pertaining thereto to the City or to any person, firm, corporation, government or agency or political subdivision or agency which gives reasonable assurance that it is willing to preserve and restore the building or structure and the land pertaining thereto; and

c. No bona fide contract, binding upon all parties thereto, has been executed for the sale of any such building or structure and the land pertaining thereto prior to the expiration of the applicable time period set forth in subsection (b) of this section.

(2) Any appeal taken to the court from the decision of the City Council, whether instituted by the owner or by any other proper party, notwithstanding the sections of this division relating to a stay of the decision appealed from, shall not affect the right of the owner to make the bona fide offer to sell referred to in this section. No offer to sell shall be made more than 12 months after a final decision by the City Council, but thereafter the owner may renew the request to the City to approve the demolition of the building or structure.

(b) Time schedule. The time schedule for offers to sell made pursuant to this section shall be as follows:

(1) Three months when the offering price is less than $25,000.00;

(2) Four months when the offering price is $25,000.00 or more but less than $40,000.00;

(3) Five months when the offering price is $40,000.00 or more but less than $55,000.00;

(4) Six months when the offering price is $55,000.00 or more but less than $75,000.00;

(5) Seven months when the offering price is $75,000.00 or more but less than $90,000.00; and

(6) Twelve months when the offering price is $90,000.00 or more.

(c) Notice required. Before making a bona fide offer to sell as provided for in this section, the property owner shall first file a statement with the Secretary of the Urban Design Committee, and the owner shall publish the notice twice, not less than seven days apart, in a daily newspaper of general circulation in the City. The statement shall identify the property and shall state the offering price, the date that the offer for sale is to begin, and the name of the real estate agent, if any. No time period set forth in subsection (b) of this section shall begin to run until the statement has been both filed and published.

DIVISION 6. PLAN OF DEVELOPMENT OVERLAY DISTRICTS

Sec. 30-950. Applicability.

This division applies generally to plan of development overlay districts and is for the purpose of setting forth the means of establishing such districts and determining the requirements applicable within each.

(Code 1993, § 32-950; Code 2004, § 114-950; Code 2015, § 30-950)

Sec. 30-950.1. Intent of districts.

(a) Pursuant to the general purposes of this chapter, the intent of plan of development overlay districts is to provide a means whereby the City Council may establish overlay districts to determine compliance with the technical requirements of this chapter as well as compliance with site planning criteria in this chapter such as the relationship among the various elements of the plan (preservation of landscape, arrangement of buildings and spaces, functions of yards and spaces, parking and circulation), the relationship to the arrangement of abutting sites and to minimize potential adverse influences on and ensure compatibility with nearby uses.

(b) The districts are intended to recognize that business uses located in areas adjacent to or within residential areas and generating traffic which must pass through adjacent residential areas typically have a greater impact on these residential areas than business uses in other locations and that plan of development review provides an opportunity to ensure a more harmonious relationship between these different uses.

(Code 1993, § 32-950.1; Code 2004, § 114-950.1; Code 2015, § 30-950.1)

Sec. 30-950.2. Application of districts and regulations.

(a) Relation to other districts. Plan of development overlay districts shall be in addition to and shall be applied so as to overlay and be superimposed on such other zoning districts as permitted by subsection (b) of this section and shown on the official zoning map. Any property lying within a plan of development overlay district shall also lie within one or more of such other zoning districts, which shall be known as underlying districts.

(b) Permitted underlying districts. Plan of development overlay districts shall be applied so as to overlay a B-1, B-2, B-3, B-4, RO-3 or TOD-1 district.

(Code 1993, § 32-950.2; Code 2004, § 114-950.2; Code 2015, § 30-950.2; Ord. No. 2019-171, § 1, 7-22-2019)

Sec. 30-950.3. Establishment of plan of development overlay districts and requirements pertaining thereto.

(a) Establishment of districts. Every plan of development overlay district shall be established by amendment to the official zoning map in the same manner as other zoning map amendments and as provided for by this chapter. Every area designated as a plan of development overlay district by such zoning map amendment shall constitute a separate district which shall be numbered serially in the order of adoption and shown on the official zoning map by a special symbol, pattern or shading depicting the boundaries of the district together with the numerical designation of the district. A description of the boundaries or a map depicting the boundaries of each plan of development overlay district and the date of adoption of the district or amendment thereto shall be set forth in this article.

(b) Application of district regulations. Within each plan of development overlay district, a plan of development as set forth in Article X of this chapter shall be required for:

(1) Construction of any new building or addition to an existing building when such new building or addition occupies more than 1,000 square feet of lot coverage;

(2) Construction of any parking area or parking lot or any addition to or material alteration of the arrangement of any parking area or loading area or vehicle circulation or maneuvering area, including any means of access thereto.

(c) Application of district regulations. In all other respects the regulations normally applicable within the underlying district shall apply to property within the boundaries of the plan of development overlay district. Application of a plan of development overlay district shall not eliminate any specific requirement within an underlying zoning district pertaining to plan of development requirements.

(Code 1993, § 32-950.3; Code 2004, § 114-950.3; Code 2015, § 30-950.3; Ord. No. 2004-180-167, § 1, 6-28-2004; Ord. No. 2019-171, § 1, 7-22-2019)

Sec. 30-950.4. Establishment of specific districts.

These divisions shall become effective in areas specified and on dates indicated as follows:

(1) Westover Hills Boulevard/Forest Hill Avenue Plan of Development Overlay District POD-1. On January 12, 1998, this division shall become effective in the Westover Hills/Forest Hill Avenue POD-1 district. The boundaries of such district are as follows: beginning at the intersection of the centerline of Forest Hill Avenue and Prince Arthur Road; thence extending 190 feet, more or less, in a northerly direction along the centerline of Prince Arthur Road to a point; thence extending 1,040 feet, more or less, in an easterly direction along the centerline of a 16-foot-wide east/west alley located between Forest Hill Avenue and Devonshire Road to the centerline of Westover Hills Boulevard; thence extending 50 feet, more or less, in a southerly direction along the centerline of Westover Hills Boulevard to a point; thence extending 743 feet, more or less, along the centerline of a 16-foot-wide east/west alley between Forest Hill Avenue and Devonshire Road to the centerline of West 47th Street; thence extending 200 feet, more or less, in a southerly direction along the centerline of West 47th Street to the centerline of Forest Hill Avenue; thence extending 137 feet, more or less, in an easterly direction along the centerline of Forest Hill Avenue to a point; thence extending 150 feet, more or less, in a southerly direction along a line parallel to the east line of West 47th Street to a point; thence extending 137 feet, more or less, in a westerly direction along a line parallel to the south line of Forest Hill Avenue to the centerline of West 47th Street; thence extending 107 feet, more or less, in a southerly direction along the centerline of West 47th Street to a point; thence extending 561 feet, more or less, in a westerly direction along the centerline of a 14-foot-wide east/west alley between Forest Hill Avenue and Dunstan Avenue to the centerline of a 14-foot-wide north/south alley between Westover Hills Boulevard and West 48th Street; thence extending 400 feet, more or less, in a southerly direction along the centerline of such alley to the centerline of Dunstan Avenue; thence extending 250 feet, more or less, in a westerly direction along the centerline of Dunstan Avenue to the centerline of West 49th Street; thence extending 128.89 feet, more or less, in a southerly direction along the centerline of West 49th Street to the centerline of Clarence Street; thence extending 312.8 feet, more or less, in a westerly direction along the centerline of Clarence Street to a point 277.8 feet west of the west line of West 49th Street; thence extending 720 feet in a northerly direction along a line 277.8 feet west of and parallel to the west line of West 49th Street to a point; thence extending 868 feet, more or less, in a westerly direction along a line 150 feet south of and parallel to the south line of Forest Hill Avenue to the centerline of Jahnke Road; thence extending 190 feet, more or less, in a northerly direction along the centerline of Jahnke Road to the centerline of Forest Hill Avenue; thence extending 18.09 feet, more or less, in an easterly direction along the centerline of Forest Hill Avenue to the point of beginning.

(2) Arts District Station/Monroe Ward Plan of Development Overlay District POD-2. On July 22, 2019, this division shall become effective in the Arts District Station/Monroe Ward Plan of Development Overlay District. The district is bounded by the centerlines of North Belvidere Street and South Belvidere Street on the west, East Broad Street and West Broad Street on the north, the Downtown Expressway on the south, and North 9th Street and South 9th Street on the east. In addition to the criteria by which all plans of development are evaluated, plans of development in the Arts District Station/Monroe Ward Plan of Development Overlay District shall be evaluated to determine if building design is in line with the following six form elements of the Pulse Corridor Plan, as incorporated into the Master Plan for the City of Richmond by Ordinance No. 2017-127, adopted July 24, 2017:

a. Hold the corner. Buildings and spaces at intersections shall have active ground floors that wrap around the corner.

b. Entrances face the street. Main entrances to businesses and residences shall face the street to facilitate pedestrian activity.

c. Appropriate setbacks/stepbacks. Commercial uses shall be closer to the street and residential uses shall be set back to facilitate privacy and to create a semi-public space. Stepbacks at upper stories shall honor existing form without overwhelming it.

d. Transparency. Façade fenestration shall be visible from the street. This is especially important on the ground floor, where fenestration should occupy a higher percentage of the building face.

e. Façade articulation. Long, monolithic façades shall be broken up and made more human-scale by varying the streetwall plane, height, colors, and materials.

f. Screened parking/services. Attractive landscaping shall extend to the sidewalk to help maintain a streetwall and mitigate the disruption caused by surface parking lots and utilitarian services.

(Code 1993, §§ 32-950.4, 32-950.4(1); Code 2004, § 114-950.4; Code 2015, § 30-950.4; Ord. No. 2019-171, § 1, 7-22-2019)

Sec. 30-950.5. Pre-application meetings.

Within the boundaries of the Arts District Station/Monroe Ward Plan of Development Overlay District POD-2, applicants must schedule a meeting with the Department of Planning and Development Review before an application is submitted to discuss how a project will align with the goals of the Pulse Corridor Plan and with the six form elements set forth in Section 30-950.4(2).

(Code 2015, § 30-950.5; Ord. No. 2019-171, § 2, 7-22-2019)

DIVISION 7. PARKING EXEMPT OVERLAY DISTRICTS

Sec. 30-960. Generally.

The provisions of this division shall apply to designated parking exempt overlay districts and are for the purpose of setting forth the means of establishing and administering such districts.

(Code 2004, § 114-960; Code 2015, § 30-960; Ord. No. 2003-185-132, § 1, 5-27-2003)

Sec. 30-960.1. Intent of district.

Pursuant to the general purposes of this chapter, the intent of parking exempt overlay districts is to provide relief from the off-street parking requirements for certain uses so as to facilitate the development and redevelopment of economically depressed, older, urban commercial districts characterized by a substantial number of vacant and deteriorated structures. With the exception of certain high intensity uses, off-street parking is generally not needed for most uses in these areas because of high vacancy rates, availability of on-street parking, considerable walk-in trade due to proximity to residential areas and available public transportation. As these economically depressed, older, urban commercial districts undergo revitalization, consideration should be given to re-establishing appropriate parking requirements.

(Code 2004, § 114-960.1; Ord. No. 2003-185-132, § 1, 5-27-2003)

Sec. 30-960.2. Application of districts and regulations.

(a) Relation to other districts. Parking exempt overlay districts shall be in addition to, and shall be applied so as to overlay and be superimposed on such other zoning districts as permitted by the provisions of subsection (b) of this section and shown on the official zoning map. Any property lying within a parking exempt overlay district shall also lie within one or more of such other zoning districts, which shall be known as underlying districts.

(b) Permitted underlying districts. Parking exempt overlay districts shall be applied so as to overlay UB, UB-2, B-1, B-2 or B-3 districts. Parking exempt overlay districts may also be applied so as to overlay those portions of RO-1, RO-2 or RO-3 districts which lie contiguous to a UB, UB-2, B-1, B-2 or B-3 district and constitute a part of the same parking exempt overlay district.

(c) Minimum district size. Each parking exempt overlay district shall comprise a contiguous area of not less than 25,000 square feet.

(d) Establishment of districts. Every parking exempt overlay district shall be established by amendment to the official zoning map in the same manner as other zoning map amendments and as provided for by this chapter. Every area designated as a parking exempt overlay district by such zoning map amendment shall constitute a separate district which shall be numbered serially in the order of adoption and shown on the official zoning map by a special symbol, pattern or shading depicting the boundaries of the district together with the numerical designation of the district. The provisions of this division shall be applicable within such designated districts, which will be established in this division by ordinance and designated as parking exempt overlay districts.

(Code 2004, § 114-960.2; Code 2015, § 30-960.2; Ord. No. 2003-185-132, § 1, 5-27-2003; Ord. No. 2008-2-55, § 2, 3-24-2008)

Sec. 30-960.3. Number of spaces required.

(a) There shall be no parking requirement for any uses located within buildings existing on the effective date of the ordinance from which this division is derived except that the minimum number off-street parking spaces required for the following uses shall be as follows:

(1) Theaters; amusement centers, lodges and clubs; and similar uses: one space per 150 square feet of floor area;

(2) Nightclubs; one space per 100 square feet of floor area;

(3) Restaurants: one space per 300 square feet of floor area;

(4) Food stores: one space per 300 square feet of floor area; and

(5) Dwelling units: none for three units: otherwise, one per four dwelling units.

(b) For all newly constructed buildings and additions to existing buildings, the minimum number of off-street parking spaces required shall be as specified in Sections 30-710.1 through 30-710.7, provided that off-street parking shall not be required for a single addition to an existing building which does not exceed 200 square feet in floor area.

Sec. 30-1030. Intent.

Pursuant to the general purposes of this chapter, the intent of the plan of development review and approval process is to ensure compliance with the technical requirements of this chapter, as well as the site planning criteria set forth in this division and elsewhere in this chapter, and to enhance the general character and overall quality of development by encouraging efficient and functional relationships among the various elements of site plans, encouraging safe pedestrian movement by reducing vehicular conflicts with pedestrians, promoting compatible arrangement of abutting sites, and minimizing potential adverse influences on and ensuring compatibility with nearby uses.

Sec. 30-1030.1. When required.

A plan of development shall be required for such uses in such districts as specified in Article IV and Article IX of this chapter pertaining to district regulations, and no certificate of use and occupancy for a newly established use requiring a plan of development and no building permit, land-disturbing permit or driveway permit involving the construction, enlargement, conversion, exterior modification or relocation of a building, structure or site occupied or intended to be occupied by such use shall be approved by the Zoning Administrator, granted by the Commissioner of Buildings or issued by any other City official unless required plans for such use, building or site shall have been reviewed and approved by the Director of Community Development, in accordance with the requirements set forth in this article. A plan of development shall not be required for wireless communications facilities meeting the criteria set forth in Section 30-692.4(b)(2). In the case of changes or modifications to the site of a use existing at the effective date of this provision, the following shall apply:

(1) For a use that requires a plan of development under the provisions of this chapter, but for which no plan of development has previously been approved, a plan of development shall be required for:

   a. Construction of any new building or of any addition to an existing building when such new building or addition occupies a cumulative total of more than 1,000 square feet of lot coverage, provided that a plan of development shall be required for any industrialized building located in an R district;

   b. Any increase in the number of dwelling units on the site;

   c. Enlargement of the site occupied by the use when such enlargement exceeds a cumulative total 1,000 square feet of lot area; or

   d. Addition of a cumulative total of more than 1,000 square feet of outdoor area devoted to active recreation or play area on the site; or

e. Construction of a new parking area, expansion of an existing parking area by five or more spaces, or any material alteration of the arrangement of any parking area, loading area or related vehicle circulation or maneuvering area.

(2) For a use that requires a plan of development under the provisions of this chapter, and for which a plan of development has previously been approved, an amended plan of development shall be required for:

a. Construction of any new building or of any enlargement of a building or site occupied by the use;

b. Construction of a new parking area, expansion of an existing parking area by five or more spaces, or any material alteration of the arrangement of any parking area, loading area or related vehicle circulation or maneuvering area; or

After complete submission of the required application and plans as set forth in Section 30-1030.2, and after payment of the required plan of development review fee, such plans shall be reviewed by Department of Planning and Development Review staff and such other City agencies as deemed appropriate by the Director of Planning and Development Review. Such reviews shall be conducted in accordance with procedures set forth in written policy established by the Director. Upon completion of all reviews, the Director shall:

(1) Approve the plan of development by noting such on the plans;

(2) Approve the plan of development with conditions noted on the plans or otherwise provided in writing to the applicant; or

(3) Disapprove the plan of development with appropriate notations on the plans or with explanation provided in writing to the applicant indicating the reasons for disapproval or changes necessary to receive approval.

(Code 2004, § 114-1030.3; Code 2015, § 30-1030.3; Ord. No. 2004-180-167, §§ 3, 5, 6-28-2004; Ord. No. 2009-221-2010-9, § 1, 1-25-2010)

Sec. 30-1030.4. Criteria.

The Director of Planning and Development Review shall approve the plan of development if the Director finds the following criteria to be met; otherwise, the Director shall disapprove the plan of development. In reviewing the plan of development and taking action thereon, the Director shall also take into consideration the objectives of the City of Richmond Master Plan as approved and amended by the City Council.

(1) Preservation of landscape and other natural features. The natural landscape of the site shall be preserved by retaining mature, healthy trees and natural topography except where removal or thinning of trees and alteration of topography is necessary to accommodate building sites, recreation areas, required parking and driveway areas, necessary drainage facilities and utility systems. Appropriate ground cover, trees and other vegetative materials shall be retained or planted to prevent excessive stormwater runoff, erosion, siltation and dust, and to enhance the general appearance of the site and its compatibility with nearby sites.

(2) Arrangement of buildings and spaces.

a. Buildings shall be located on the site or designed in such a manner that the fronts of buildings do not face into rear yards or service areas of other buildings located either within the site or adjacent to it, except where privacy walls, fences, plant materials or topographic features provide screening therefrom.

b. Where a site abuts an interstate/freeway or principal or minor arterial street as designated in the master plan, railroad or another site developed or intended to be developed for uses potentially incompatible with the proposed use, buildings and open spaces shall be so located, designed and arranged as to provide reasonable separation from such features or uses. Where necessary to achieve such separation, trees or other vegetative materials shall be retained on the site or supplemented by additional planting or the erection of appropriate walls or fences.

(3) Functions of yards and spaces. Yards, spaces between buildings and other open spaces required by the provisions of this chapter shall be located with respect to buildings and other site improvements and shall be improved so as to reasonably serve the purposes for which such yards and spaces are intended by this chapter, those purposes being: provision of light and air, separation between buildings, separation between incompatible functions, enhancement of privacy and promotion of public health and safety.

(4) Parking and circulation.

a. Driveways and areas for the parking and circulation of vehicles shall be located, designed and improved so as to provide for safe and convenient circulation within the site and safe and convenient access from adjoining streets and shall be in accordance with established traffic engineering standards and the driveway policy of the City. Among factors to be considered shall be the number and location of driveways and access drives to and from adjacent streets and alleys, the distances between such driveways and access drives, the location and width of driveways and access aisles to parking spaces, the arrangement of parking areas and the means of access to buildings for firefighting apparatus and other emergency vehicles. The number of driveways to and from streets shall be the fewest necessary to provide safe and convenient access, and wherever possible, cross-access between abutting sites and shared driveways shall be provided.

b. Parking areas and driveways shall be clearly identified and separated from principal pedestrian routes and recreation areas by curbs, pavement markings, planting areas, fences or similar features designed to promote pedestrian safety.

c. Vehicle access to adjoining streets should be located and designed in accordance with the following criteria:

1. Where the predominant established character of development is urban in nature, typically with buildings located at or near the street line and with no parking located between buildings and the street, vehicle access to the site from arterial and collector streets should be avoided when adequate local street or alley access is available to the site, unless restricting access to a local street or alley would clearly result in an adverse traffic impact on an adjoining residential district. In the case of a corner lot where local street or alley access is not available, vehicle access from the principal street frontage should be avoided.

2. Where the predominant established character of development is suburban in nature, typically with buildings set back from the street line and with parking located between buildings and the street, vehicle access to the site from local residential streets and from alleys abutting residential districts should be avoided when adequate arterial or collector street access is available to the site.

d. Vehicle parking and circulation areas and sidewalks, walkways and other amenities for pedestrian use shall be located, designed and arranged so as to encourage safe pedestrian movement within and adjacent to the site and to minimize conflicts between vehicles and pedestrians.

(5) Compatibility with surrounding development and community character. The arrangement and general character of buildings, spaces and other components of the plan of development shall be designed with consideration for compatibility with the established general character of surrounding development and promotion of the community character goals, policies and strategies pertaining to gateways and image corridors, historic and architectural resources, and urban design as set forth in Chapter 9 of and elsewhere in the City of Richmond Master Plan, as approved and amended by the City Council.

In determining if the above criteria are met, the Director of Planning and Development Review shall consult with appropriate City agencies and may seek such additional technical advice as deemed necessary. The Director shall have the authority to attach conditions to the approval of a plan of development, where such conditions are necessary to ensure conformance with the intent and purpose of the criteria set forth in this article or the regulations set forth elsewhere in this chapter.

(Code 2004, § 114-1030.4; Code 2015, § 30-1030.4; Ord. No. 2004-180-167, §§ 3, 5, 6-28-2004; Ord. No. 2009-221-2010-9, § 1, 1-25-2010)

Sec. 30-1030.5. Authority of Zoning Administrator.

The Zoning Administrator shall approve the application for a building permit or for a certificate of use and occupancy after receiving plans from the Director of Planning and Development Review bearing proof of the Director's approval, provided that the Zoning Administrator is satisfied that the proposed construction and use of the premises conform with the applicable provisions of this chapter. The authority and responsibility of the Zoning Administrator shall, with respect to applications having been approved by the Director of Planning and Development Review, be the same as for other applications for building permits and for certificates of use and occupancy submitted for the Zoning Administrator's approval, and nothing in this article shall be construed to abrogate such authority and responsibility.

(Code 2004, § 114-1030.5; Code 2015, § 30-1030.5; Ord. No. 2004-180-167, §§ 3, 5, 6-28-2004; Ord. No. 2009-221-2010-9, § 1, 1-25-2010)

Sec. 30-1030.6. Fees for review.

Sec. 30-1030.7. Payment of delinquent real estate taxes.

Approval of a plan of development or an amendment to a plan of development shall not be granted until satisfactory evidence has been presented to the Zoning Administrator that any delinquent real estate taxes applicable to the subject property have been paid.

(Code 2004, § 114-1030.7; Code 2015, § 30-1030.7; Ord. No. 2004-180-167, §§ 3, 5, 6-28-2004)

Sec. 30-1030.8. Expiration of approval.

The Commissioner of Buildings is authorized to issue a building permit substantially in accordance with the plan of development as approved by the Director of Planning and Development Review. An application for the building permit shall be made within five years following the date on which the plan of development is approved. If either the application for the building permit is not made within the time period stated in the previous sentence or the building permit terminates under any provision of the Virginia Uniform Statewide Building Code, the plan of development approval shall terminate and become null and void.

DIVISION 5. APPEALS, VARIANCES AND EXCEPTIONS

Sec. 30-1040.1. Appeals.

Pursuant to Section 17.20 of the Charter and in accordance with such rules and procedures as may be established by the Board of Zoning Appeals, appeals may be taken to the Board by any person aggrieved or by any officer, department, board, commission or agency of the City affected by any decision of the Administrative Officer designated to enforce and administer this chapter.

(Code 1993, § 32-1040.1; Code 2004, § 114-1040.1; Code 2015, § 30-1040.1)

Sec. 30-1040.1:1. Appeal period.

All appeals shall be taken within 30 days after the decision appealed by filing with the Zoning Administrator, and with the Board, a notice of appeal specifying the grounds thereof, provided that appeals shall be taken within ten days after the decision appealed by filing with the Zoning Administrator, and with the Board, a notice of appeal specifying the grounds thereof regarding appeals involving temporary or seasonal commercial uses, parking of commercial trucks in residential zoning districts, maximum occupancy limitations of a residential dwelling unit, or similar short-term recurring violations of applicable requirements of this chapter which shall include the following:

(1) Occupancy of recreational vehicles or parking or storing of recreational vehicles, manufactured homes or semitrailers.

(2) Placement, erection or maintenance of temporary signs, temporary sales and display areas, play equipment, vending machines or similar uses.

(3) Placement of portable storage units in required yards.

(4) Parking of vehicles within front yards or street side yards or on unimproved surfaces.

(5) Operation or maintenance of flea markets.

(Code 2004, § 114-1040.1:1; Code 2015, § 30-1040.1:1; Ord. No. 2010-209-216, § 2, 12-13-2010)

Sec. 30-1040.2. Variances and exceptions granted by the Board of Zoning Appeals.

(a) Under such conditions and circumstances as are set forth in Section 17.20 of the Charter and in accordance with such rules and procedures as may be established by the Board of Zoning Appeals, variances from and exceptions to the provisions of this chapter may be granted by the Board.

(b) A permit implementing the granting of a variance or exception shall not be approved until satisfactory evidence has been presented to the Zoning Administrator that any delinquent real estate taxes applicable to the subject property have been paid.

(Code 1993, § 32-1040.2; Code 2004, § 114-1040.2; Code 2015, § 30-1040.2; Ord. No. 2004-49-60, § 1, 3-22-2004)

Sec. 30-1040.3. Additional exceptions granted by the Board of Zoning Appeals.

Pursuant to Code of Virginia, § 15.2-2309, the following exceptions to the district regulations or other restrictions set out in this chapter may be granted by the Board of Zoning Appeals, provided such exceptions shall by their design, construction and operation adequately safeguard the health, safety and welfare of the occupants of the adjoining and surrounding property, shall not unreasonably impair an adequate supply of light and air to adjacent property, shall not increase congestion in streets and shall not increase public danger from fire or otherwise unreasonably affect public safety and shall not diminish or impair the established property values in surrounding areas. In granting an exception, the Board shall be satisfied that it is consistent with the intent statement and the conditions as set forth in the particular exception, and the Board may attach such specific conditions and limitations as it deems necessary to satisfy the general conditions of this paragraph and the intent of the exception.

(1) Construction of or additions to dwellings or accessory structures. Construction of or additions to single-family detached, single-family attached, two-family or multifamily dwellings or accessory structures on lots occupied by such dwellings when such dwellings, additions or accessory structures cannot meet applicable yard and/or lot coverage requirements. Such dwellings, additions or accessory structures shall be permitted, provided the Board shall be satisfied that:

a. The intended purpose and use of the dwelling, addition or accessory structure is consistent with the use regulations applicable in the district in which the property is situated;

b. The departure from the applicable yard and/or lot coverage requirements is the minimum necessary to accommodate the intended purpose of the dwelling, addition or accessory structure, and that the dwelling, addition or accessory structure or a similar dwelling, addition or accessory structure serving the same purpose and function cannot reasonably be located elsewhere on the lot in compliance with applicable requirements; and

c. Any addition to an existing dwelling or construction of or addition to an accessory structure will be in keeping with the architectural character of the existing dwelling on the property, and any newly constructed dwelling or accessory structure will be in keeping with the development pattern of the neighborhood.

Intent statement. Many existing lots in the City are characterized by such small size, irregular configuration or other condition that current yard and/or lot coverage requirements severely inhibit their development for permitted dwelling use consistent with modern day dwelling needs. Also, a large number of dwellings in the City were constructed many years ago and do not meet contemporary needs of owners or occupants with regard to size, number, function or amenities of rooms and other living spaces. Many dwellings were constructed on relatively small lots and/or were constructed in a manner that current yard or lot coverage requirements do not enable additions to or construction of accessory structures for dwellings that are desired by owners or occupants to modernize or improve the functionality and livability of their properties. It is often desirable to permit construction of new dwellings, additions or accessory structures to encourage improvement of property, increase opportunities for home ownership, retain residents in the City and promote neighborhood improvement.

(2) Lot division to create buildable lots. Division of a lot which is undeveloped or a lot which is developed with single-family detached, single-family attached, two-family or multifamily dwellings, with or without accessory structures, when such lot or such lot and dwellings are existing on the effective date of the ordinance from which this subsection is derived, into two or more lots for purposes of single-family detached, single-family attached, two-family or multifamily dwelling use, when the lots created by such division cannot meet applicable lot area, lot width, usable open space, lot coverage or side yard requirements. The division of such lot shall be permitted, provided that:

a. Such lot shall have previously consisted of legal lots of record that were subsequently combined by deed or other action, and the number of lots to be created shall not exceed the number of previously existing lots of record. The configuration of the lots to be created by the division need not be the same configuration as the previously existing lots of record.

b. The use of all lots created by the division shall be consistent with the use regulations applicable in the district in which the property is situated.

c. All new lots shall comply with Section 30-610.1 regarding public street frontage and access to lots.

d. The off-street parking requirements of this chapter shall be met.

e. Except where buildings are attached, each lot created by the division shall be provided with a side yard or and street side yard, where applicable, adjacent to each side lot line of not less than ten percent of the width of the lot, but in no case less than three feet, except in the case of an existing dwelling having an existing side yard of less width.

f. The division shall comply with the applicable requirements of Chapter 25 regarding the subdivision of land.

g. The Board shall be satisfied that the areas and widths of the lots created by the division are consistent with the predominant lot areas and lot widths in the immediate vicinity of the property, and that dwellings to be constructed on the lots will be compatible with dwellings existing or to be constructed in the immediate vicinity of the property.

Intent statement. In many older areas of the City, properties were originally subdivided into relatively small lots for purposes of single-family detached, single-family attached, two-family or multifamily development. In some cases, such lots were subsequently combined for purposes of creating an unusually large building lot or to simplify deeds or other transactions, and were developed with a single-family, two-family or multifamily dwelling or left undeveloped. In most instances, such lots cannot be divided in compliance with current lot area, lot width, side yard, usable open space or lot coverage requirements, although such division would result in lots that are consistent with the predominant established lot sizes and development pattern in the immediate vicinity of the property. It is often desirable to permit the division of these lots to increase opportunities for infill housing development that is compatible with the surrounding neighborhood.

(3) Existing two-family dwelling use. The use of a property containing a two-family dwelling existing on the effective date of the ordinance from which this provision is derived, located within a district which permits two-family dwellings, which does not comply with applicable lot area requirements, and for which a building permit, certificate of use and occupancy or certificate of zoning compliance was previously issued for two-family use, where such use has been continuous since the issuance thereof. The continued use of these properties as two-family dwellings shall be permitted, provided that:

a. The applicant can show that the property was acquired in good faith. The Board shall consider, among other factors, the extent to which the present and/or previous owners relied on previously issued permits or other actions by the City, or representations by sellers, agents, attorneys or others involved in the acquisition of the property;

b. A minimum lot area of 1,700 square feet shall be provided;

c. A minimum of two off-street parking spaces shall be provided.

Intent statement. In many older areas of the City zoned to permit two-family dwellings, some existing single-family dwellings were converted to two-family dwellings in violation of applicable lot area requirements. In some instances, permits were issued by the City for these conversions. Other conversions occurred without the benefit of any permits, but subsequently building permits for additions or alterations, certificates of use and occupancy or certificates of zoning compliance may have been issued. The lots on which these two-family dwellings exist are often similar in size to other legally existing two-family dwellings. The lot area and off-street parking requirements contained in the conditions in this subsection are those which were in effect prior to June 1, 1960, in those areas of the City where many of these conversions took place.

(4) Existing multifamily dwelling use. The use of a property containing a multifamily dwelling existing on the effective date of this provision, located within a district which permits two-family or multifamily dwellings, which does not comply with applicable lot area and/or off-street parking requirements, and for which a building permit, certificate of use and occupancy or certificate of zoning compliance was previously issued for the existing use, where such use has been continuous since the issuance thereof. The continued use of these properties as multifamily dwellings shall be permitted, provided that:

a. The subject property shall have been zoned to permit multifamily dwellings at the time such use was created, or was subsequently zoned to permit multifamily dwellings, and the applicable lot area and/or off-street parking requirements were not met;

b. The applicant can show that the property was acquired in good faith. The Board shall consider, among other factors, the extent to which the present and/or previous owners relied on previously issued permits or other actions by the City, or representations by sellers, agents, attorneys or others involved in the acquisition of the property;

c. A minimum of 850 square feet of lot area shall be provided for each dwelling unit;

d. A minimum of two-thirds of a parking space shall be provided for each dwelling unit;

e. The Board shall be satisfied that the design or configuration characteristics unique to the existing building would render it impractical or not economically viable for uses permitted by applicable provisions of this chapter. The Board may, in its discretion, in consideration of the design or configuration characteristics of the building and the character of the immediate surrounding neighborhood, grant a lesser number of dwelling units than requested.

Intent statement. In many older areas of the City, some existing single- and two-family dwellings were converted to multifamily dwellings, or additional units were added to existing multifamily dwellings, in violation of applicable lot area and/or off-street parking requirements. In some instances, permits were issued by the City for these conversions. Other conversions occurred without the benefit of any permits, but subsequently building permits for additions or alterations, certificates of use and occupancy or certificates of zoning compliance may have been issued. The lots on which these multifamily dwellings were developed are often similar in size to other legally existing multifamily dwellings. The lot area and off-street parking requirements contained in the conditions in this subsection are those which were in effect prior to June 1, 1960, in those areas of the City where many of these conversions took place.

(5) Dwelling units in UB, B and RF districts. The provisions in the use regulations of the UB, B and RF districts limiting the amount or location, or both, of floor area within the building that may be devoted to dwelling units or providing that certain portions of the ground floor of the building shall be devoted to other permitted principal uses, provided that:

a. The applicant has demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Board that, due to the existing or projected land uses of properties on the same block, there is no purpose to be served by providing for uninterrupted commercial frontage on the property, or that ground floor commercial space on the property is either not physically practical or not economically viable;

b. The applicant has demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Board that granting the exception will increase residential occupancy thereby facilitating a mixed use character of the district in which the property is located consistent with objectives for mixed use in the area;

c. The applicant has demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Board that any alterations to the building will not be architecturally incompatible with the dominant character of building façades on the block;

d. The Board may attach such conditions as it deems necessary to ensure that the building façade fenestration and the location and nature of pedestrian and vehicular ingress and egress are compatible with the surrounding area.

Intent statement. There are areas within UB, B and RF districts in the City where the established or projected character of development suggests that uninterrupted commercial frontage is not the most desirable form of development and/or that a mixed use character of development with a large dwelling component would be more advantageous to the livability and economic viability of the area. Also, there are properties and existing buildings within such districts where it is not physically or economically viable to establish ground floor commercial space or to limit the amount or location of ground floor area devoted to dwelling units. In such instances, there is a need for flexibility in application of the restrictions on the use of ground floor space within a building, so long as new or renovated buildings are functionally and architecturally compatible with the surrounding area.

(6) Accessory lodging units within a single-family dwelling. Not more than two accessory lodging units within an owner-occupied single-family detached dwelling located in any district, provided that:

a. The applicant can show to the satisfaction of the Board that the dwelling unit is of such size and arrangement that the lodging units can reasonably be accommodated, and that incorporating such lodging units within the dwelling will not create potential adverse impacts on adjoining and surrounding properties;

b. When one lodging unit is located within a dwelling, not more than two persons shall occupy such lodging unit, and when two lodging units are located within in a dwelling, not more than one person shall occupy each lodging unit. At the request of the Zoning Administrator, the premises shall be made accessible to the Zoning Administrator by the owner of the property for purposes of verification of compliance with occupancy limitations;

c. There shall be no addition or exterior modification to the dwelling to accommodate the lodging units, and there shall be no signage or other evidence visible from the exterior of the dwelling to indicate that it contains lodging units;

d. At the discretion of the Board, and to the extent that it does not detract from the single-family character of the property or the surrounding area, one off-street parking space shall be provided for each lodging unit.

Intent statement. Many single-family detached dwellings in the City are of such size or contain such numbers of rooms that the dwelling exceeds the needs of the owner-occupant family or results in an excessive physical or economic burden on the owner to provide adequate maintenance and upkeep. In some instances it is desirable to convert a room or group of rooms within such dwelling to one or two accessory lodging units with limited occupancy in order to enable more reasonable physical utilization or greater economic use of the dwelling and to enhance the potential for adequate maintenance and upkeep, continued owner-occupancy and avoidance of pressures for conversion to additional dwelling units or to nondwelling use, provided that the single-family character of the property is preserved and there are no adverse impacts on the surrounding neighborhood.

(7) Dwelling unit in an accessory building in a single-family residential district. One dwelling unit located in an accessory building which is existing on the effective date of the ordinance from which this provision is derived and which is located on the same lot as an owner-occupied single-family dwelling within any R-1 through R-5 Single-Family Residential District, provided that:

a. The Board is satisfied from evidence provided by the applicant that the accessory building was previously lawfully occupied by a dwelling unit for domestic employees, a dwelling unit existing prior to establishment of zoning in the City or a dwelling unit previously authorized by the Board;

b. The Board is satisfied that the area of the lot, lot coverage and location of the accessory building on the lot are such that the dwelling unit will not result in overcrowding of the lot or any adverse impact on adjoining or surrounding property;

c. The use of the main building shall be limited to a single-family dwelling and shall not include accessory lodging units;

d. The use of the accessory building shall be limited to one dwelling unit in addition to permitted accessory uses;

e. There shall be no enlargement of the accessory building, except for ingress or egress improvements required by the Uniform Statewide Building Code, and exterior modifications to the structure shall be in keeping with the architectural character of the existing dwelling on the property;

f. Not less than one off-street parking space shall be provided for the dwelling unit in the accessory building;

g. Access to the accessory building shall be provided in accordance with the requirements of the Department of Public Works and the Department of Fire and Emergency Services.

Intent statement. In many older areas of the City, some residential properties were developed with accessory buildings which were originally designed and used for carriage houses, dwellings for domestic employees or other dwelling purposes. With the exception of dwellings for domestic employees, dwelling units in accessory buildings in single-family districts have been prohibited since zoning was established in the City. In some cases, such dwelling units have been authorized by the Board. Some accessory buildings have previously been lawfully occupied by a dwelling unit and are located on lots large enough to accommodate such use. They are well suited for such use and are worthy of preservation, but some are in poor condition. Permitting a dwelling unit within them would encourage their renovation or continued maintenance and would be in the best interest of the neighborhood, provided that the additional dwelling unit would not result in overcrowding of the lot or any adverse impact on adjoining or surrounding property.

(8) Dwelling unit in an accessory building in a district permitting two-family dwelling use. One dwelling unit located in an accessory building, containing two or more stories, which is existing on the effective date of the ordinance from which this provision is derived and which is located on the same lot as a single-family dwelling within districts which permit two-family dwellings when the applicable lot area requirement for two-family dwelling use cannot be not met, provided that:

a. The use of the main building shall be limited to a single-family dwelling and shall not include accessory lodging units;

b. The use of the accessory building shall be limited to one dwelling unit in addition to permitted accessory uses;

c. There shall be no enlargement of the accessory building, except for ingress or egress improvements required by the Virginia Uniform Statewide Building Code, and exterior modifications to the structure shall be in keeping with the architectural character of the existing dwelling on the property;

d. Not less than one off-street parking space shall be provided for the additional dwelling unit located in the accessory building;

e. Access to the accessory building shall be provided in accordance with the requirements of the Department of Public Works and the Department of Fire and Emergency Services.

Intent statement. In many older areas of the City zoned to permit two-family dwellings, some residential properties were developed with accessory buildings containing two or more stories which were originally designed for use as stables, carriage houses and/or domestic employees' quarters. With the exception of domestic employees' quarters, residential occupancy of accessory buildings has been prohibited since 1927. Many of these accessory buildings are currently being occupied and/or rented for non-employee residential use. In some instances, residential use has been approved by City Council or the Commission of Architectural Review. However, many of these accessory buildings have been occupied or were converted illegally. Most of these structures are worthy of preservation, but many are in poor condition. Permitting a dwelling unit within these accessory buildings would encourage their renovation and/or continued maintenance.

(9) Home occupation use of an accessory building. A home occupation as defined in Section 30-1220 and conducted within a completely enclosed accessory building, provided that:

a. Home occupation use of accessory buildings shall be limited to offices, including business, professional and administrative offices, and studios of writers, designers or artists engaged in the graphic arts.

b. All of the conditions set forth in Section 30-694.1 shall be met, except that the Board may impose such conditions and further limitations as it may deem necessary in the public interest.

c. The applicant demonstrates to the satisfaction of the Board that such home occupation will not result in any greater impacts on adjoining and surrounding properties than would result if the home occupation were conducted within the dwelling unit.

Intent statement. It is the intent of this exception to enable limited home occupation use of an accessory building in a manner that will not result in adverse impacts on adjoining properties by providing review by the Board with consideration for the specific characteristics of the home occupation, the location and nature of the accessory building and its relation to adjoining and surrounding properties, and with the opportunity for the Board to impose such conditions and safeguards as necessary.

(10) Height of fences and walls in side yards, rear yards and certain front yards. Fences and walls not exceeding eight feet in height when located within a required side yard, rear yard, street side yard on a corner lot, required front yard along the longer street frontage of a corner lot or a required front yard adjacent to the rear of a main building located on a through lot. For purposes of this subsection, the height of a fence or wall shall be measured from the ground level at the base of the fence or wall, and shall include the height of posts, columns, gates and ornamentation. Fences and walls of such height shall be permitted, provided the Board shall be satisfied that:

a. The property on which the fence or wall is to be constructed is devoted to a conforming dwelling use.

b. The applicant has demonstrated that the proposed height of the fence or wall is reasonably necessary to provide security for the property and/or to provide a buffer from noise and activity on the adjacent street.

c. The design and construction materials of the fence or wall will be compatible with the main building and other structures located on the lot and with the general character of development in the immediate surrounding area.

d. The fence or wall will not unreasonably impair light and air to adjacent property, and will not impair necessary visibility for operators of motor vehicles at any intersection of the adjacent street with an alley, driveway or other street.

e. The fence or wall will be constructed in compliance with applicable requirements of the Virginia Uniform Statewide Building Code.

Intent statement. In many neighborhoods in the City, corner properties are situated at intersections where the street along the side of the property carries volumes of traffic or generates traffic noise that is disruptive to and not conducive to dwelling use of the property or to the use and enjoyment of the rear yard area of the lot. In addition, such corner properties are sometimes in need of enhanced security measures for the property in general and the rear yard area in particular. Also, many properties are situated adjacent to alleys or constitute through lots, resulting in similar traffic or security issues, or are situated relative to adjacent properties whereby adequate security or privacy cannot be afforded under normal fence and wall height limitations. It is often desirable in such situations to permit greater height of fences and walls than normally permitted by the zoning regulations in order to provide a more effective buffer from the street, alley or adjacent property or to provide greater security and privacy for the property as means to promote dwelling use and enjoyment of the property.

(11) Off-street parking. The provisions setting forth the number of off-street parking spaces required for a use or required in the case of a change in a nonconforming use, provided that:

a. The applicant has demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Board that, based on the character of uses and the availability of parking in the surrounding area, the exception will not result in an inadequate supply of parking or other adverse impact on the neighborhood;

b. The applicant has demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Board that adequate parking to serve the needs of the use is provided on the site or within reasonable and convenient proximity of the use, either on a public street or off-street;

c. The applicant has demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Board that the number, location and arrangement of parking spaces intended to serve the use is sufficient to provide for its parking needs based on the nature of the use and the characteristics of its operation, including, but not limited to, its scale, hours of operation and the amount of walk-in customer or client traffic from the adjacent neighborhood;

d. In any case where off-street parking spaces required to serve a use are provided off the premises devoted to such use, the applicant shall submit written certification to the Board on an annual basis, by no later than the anniversary date of the exception granted, as to the continued availability of the off-premises parking spaces. Failure of the applicant to submit such certification shall be grounds for revocation of the exception.

Intent statement. There are many properties in the City that are inhibited from being devoted to reasonable use due to the inability to provide the required number of off-street parking spaces, or due to the prohibition of a change in a nonconforming use when a proposed new use is required to be provided with more off-street parking than the existing use, but would otherwise be permitted by the nonconforming use provisions. In many such cases, there may be particular potential uses having unique characteristics that result in a need for fewer off-street parking spaces than generally required for the use by the zoning provisions and/or there may be excess parking spaces available in the immediate vicinity of the property that can adequately serve the needs of the use. In cases where such properties are not concentrated in an area that would be appropriate for application of a parking overlay district or where nonconforming uses are involved, there is a need to address the off-street parking requirements on a site-specific basis and in a manner that enables reasonable use of the property and does not create a shortage of parking or other adverse impact on the area.

(12) Nonconforming use: lot division to accommodate existing buildings. Division of a lot developed with one or more nonconforming uses existing on the effective date of the ordinance from which this provision is derived into two or more lots. (For division of a lot to accommodate permitted single-family detached, single-family attached, two-family or multifamily dwellings, see Section 30-620.5.) The division of such lot shall be permitted, provided that:

a. The applicant can show to the satisfaction of the Board that the property was acquired or the current use was established in good faith, that the buildings cannot reasonably be devoted to conforming uses, and that such division will not increase potential adverse impacts of the nonconforming use on adjoining and surrounding properties;

b. All new lots shall comply with Section 30-610.1 of this chapter regarding public street frontage and access to lots;

c. The division shall result in at least one main building being located on each lot, and lot area, lot width, yards and existing off-street parking shall be allocated to the newly created lots on a basis reasonably proportional to the buildings and uses contained on each lot;

d. If the off-street parking requirements of the current ordinance are not met, reasonable efforts shall be made to provide additional off-street parking to meet those requirements;

e. The division shall not result in the ability to create additional dwelling units or to accommodate other uses which would not have otherwise been permitted prior to the division;

f. The division shall comply with the applicable requirements of Chapter 25 regarding the subdivision of land.

Intent statement. In many older areas of the City, some properties were originally developed with more than one main building on a lot, or several separately developed lots under common ownership were combined for purposes of simplifying deeds or other transactions. In many instances, the uses on these properties are nonconforming under current use regulations, resulting in prohibition of the lots being divided. It is often desirable to permit division of these properties into separate lots in order to enhance their potential for reasonable economic use and to increase opportunities for individual ownership, including owner occupancy, or to facilitate financing, insurance or resale, particularly in cases where there is no practical difference in the intensity of uses of the properties as a result of the division.

(13) Nonconforming use: enlargement, extension or alteration. Enlargement, extension or structural alteration of a building or structure devoted to a nonconforming use; extension or expansion of a nonconforming use within a building or structure; or construction of an accessory building or structure to serve an existing nonconforming use; provided that:

a. The applicant can show to the satisfaction of the Board that such enlargement, extension, expansion, alteration or construction is primarily for the purpose of enabling the nonconforming use to be operated more efficiently or safely and in a manner that does not adversely impact adjoining and surrounding properties;

b. In no case shall the amount of floor area devoted to the nonconforming use be increased more than ten percent;

c. There shall be no increase in the number of dwelling units on the property, nor shall the granting of such exception result in noncompliance with any yard, open space, parking or other requirements of this chapter or any increase in the degree or extent of any nonconforming feature;

d. There shall be no increase in the area of any lot devoted to a nonconforming use, unless such increase is for purposes of enhancing screening, buffering, separation or other amenities or means of protection for adjoining and surrounding properties; and

e. In all other respects the property shall continue to be subject to the rights and limitations set forth in Article VIII of this chapter relative to nonconforming uses, except that the Board may impose such conditions and further limitations as it may deem necessary in the public interest.

Intent statement. Due to the large number and wide variety of nonconforming uses in the City, there is a need for flexibility and discretion in their treatment in order to recognize that in many cases continuation, improvement and modernization of a nonconforming use is in the best interest of the City and is necessary to enable reasonable use of a building that may have little or no other use potential. Modest expansion, enlargement, structural alteration or addition of accessory facilities, together with improvements to enhance the compatibility of a nonconforming use, is a preferable alternative to vacant, underutilized or poorly-maintained properties in cases where conversion to conforming uses is not practicable.

(14) Nonconforming use: re-establishment or change in use. Re-establishment of or change in a nonconforming use of a building or structure which has been discontinued for a period of two years or longer, provided that:

a. The property owner can show to the satisfaction of the Board that the property was acquired or the current use was established in good faith and that the building or structure cannot reasonably be devoted to a conforming use;

b. If a nonconforming use is changed to a more restricted use or a conforming use, the Board shall not authorize re-establishment of the nonconforming use or any change to a less restricted use;

c. If the building or structure is vacant or the nonconforming use has been changed to an illegal use, the Board may authorize re-establishment of the last nonconforming use or change to a use that meets all of the criteria set forth in Section 30-800.3(a), except that the Board may authorize change to a use that does not meet the off-street parking criteria of that subsection if the Board finds that the change will not result in an adverse impact on the neighborhood due to an inadequate supply of parking; and

d. In all other respects the property shall continue to be subject to the rights and limitations set forth in Article VIII of this chapter relative to nonconforming uses, except that the Board may impose such conditions and further limitations as it may deem necessary in the public interest.

Intent statement. In some cases, nonconforming uses have been discontinued and buildings have remained vacant for a period of two years or longer where there was no intent to relinquish the nonconforming rights associated with the property. In other cases, nonconforming uses have been changed to uses in violation of applicable provisions of this chapter. In many of these instances, the buildings in question have little or no potential for conforming uses, and occupancy by the last nonconforming use, or a more restricted use or other limited use would result in reasonable economic use and improvement of the property and would be in the best interest of the neighborhood and the general public.

(15) Nonconforming use: reduction in lot area. Reduction in the area of a lot on which a nonconforming use is located, provided that:

a. The applicant can show to the satisfaction of the Board that such reduction will not increase potential adverse impacts of the nonconforming use;

b. There shall be no reduction in the area of any lot devoted to a nonconforming dwelling use, located in a single-family residential district. For purposes of this provision, the division of a lot shall not be construed to constitute reduction in the area of the lot. In districts other than single-family residential districts, the area of a lot devoted to a nonconforming dwelling use may be reduced to not less than the lot area required for the dwelling use in the R-48 or R-63 district;

c. The reduction shall not result in noncompliance with any lot area, lot width, yard, open space, lot coverage or off-street parking or other requirements of this chapter applicable in the district in which the property is located or any increase in the degree or extent of any nonconforming feature;

d. In all other respects the property shall continue to be subject to the rights and limitations set forth in Article VIII of this chapter relative to nonconforming uses, except that the Board may impose such conditions and further limitations as it may deem necessary in the public interest.

Intent statement. Reduction in the area of a lot on which a nonconforming use is located is generally prohibited by this chapter since in most cases it would increase the intensity of the use and its potential adverse impacts on adjoining and surrounding properties. However, some properties devoted to nonconforming uses are of such large size or are developed, arranged or used in such a manner that reduction in the area of the lot would reduce the extent or intensity of the use or result in equal or greater compatibility with neighboring uses. Reduction in lot area in such cases could result in less area devoted to outdoor activity, reduction in the number of buildings on a site or reduction in overall area of the nonconforming use. It may enable the area removed from the lot to be devoted to conforming use, landscaped buffer or other use beneficial to adjoining and surrounding properties.

(16) Nonconforming use: addition of accessory off-street parking. The addition of accessory off-street parking spaces to serve a nonconforming use, provided that:

a. The nonconforming use shall be located in a district other than an R district, unless the nonconforming use is a dwelling use as defined in Section 30-1220;

b. The accessory off-street parking spaces shall be located on the same lot as the nonconforming use, or on a contiguous lot;

c. The total number of accessory off-street parking spaces existing and to be provided for the nonconforming use shall not exceed the number of spaces required for the use by the provisions of Article VII of this chapter;

d. The addition of accessory off-street parking spaces shall not result in the demolition of any main building;

e. All applicable off-street parking improvement requirements and landscaping standards set forth in Article VII, Division 2.1 of this chapter shall be met where feasible, as determined by the Board, provided that the Board may impose such conditions and further limitations as it may deem necessary in the public interest;

f. The applicant has shown to the satisfaction of the Board that such additional accessory off-street parking spaces will not result in any greater adverse impacts on adjoining and surrounding properties than would result without the additional parking.

Intent statement. The addition of off-street parking spaces to serve a nonconforming use is generally prohibited by this chapter, since it constitutes extension or expansion of the nonconforming use. However, there are instances in the City where nonconforming uses are likely to continue to exist and are generally not detrimental to adjacent and surrounding properties, but where such nonconforming uses are not provided with adequate off-street parking to meet the needs of the use or to avoid adverse impacts on the surrounding area. It is the intent of this exception provision to enable the addition of off-street parking spaces to serve such nonconforming uses in order to relieve potential on-street congestion and to provide adequate parking in a manner that will not result in adverse impacts on neighboring properties, by providing review by the Board with consideration for the specific characteristics of the use and its relation to adjoining and surrounding properties, and with the opportunity for the Board to impose such conditions and safeguards as necessary.

(17) Building height. The maximum permitted building height in any district except R-1 through R-8 districts, provided that:

a. The proposed use of the building shall be consistent with the use regulations applicable in the district in which the property is located;

b. Applicable off-street parking requirements shall be met, unless the Board in a specific case grants a variance from or exception to the off-street parking requirement pursuant to the provisions of this division;

c. The applicant has demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Board that the additional height authorized by such exception will not unreasonably impair light and air to adjacent or nearby property and will not unreasonably impair prominent views of significant land, water or other features from public spaces or from adjacent or nearby property;

d. The Board shall be satisfied that the design, construction materials and overall mass of the building will be compatible with the general character of development in the immediate surrounding area.

Intent statement. In some cases, due to unusual conditions such as location, topography, other site conditions, lot orientation or the established or changing character of nearby development, the building height limit applicable in the district in which a property is located is not conducive to achieving the full development potential of the property consistent with the general intent of the district. Additional building height may also be appropriate where taller buildings are located nearby and to establish a transition from taller buildings to buildings of less height, or to enable the maximum permitted residential density or nonresidential intensity on a site while preserving open space at ground level where needed. In such cases, flexibility to enable additional building height is desirable as a means to adapt to unusual conditions, enhance the economic viability of the property and promote economic development for the benefit of the general public, so long as light and air, prominent views and the character of the surrounding area are adequately protected.

(18) Freestanding signs. The height and yard provisions applicable to permitted freestanding signs, other than billboard signs, provided that:

a. The applicant has demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Board that, due to topography or configuration of the site, elevation of the site relative to the elevation of the adjacent street, curvature of the adjacent street, structural improvements or vegetation on the site or on adjoining properties, or similar physical constraints, the height and/or yard requirements applicable to a permitted freestanding sign on the site would prohibit or unreasonably impair visibility of such sign from the adjacent street;

b. The applicant has demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Board that the proposed height and location of the freestanding sign is the minimum departure from the regulations necessary to enable adequate identification of the use of the property, taking into consideration the nature of such use and character of the surrounding area, and is not for the purpose of affording a competitive advantage for the use of the property;

c. The applicant has demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Board that the proposed freestanding sign will not impair public safety, will not interfere with visibility of traffic on adjacent streets or driveways intersecting streets, and will not unreasonably impair visibility of traffic signs, directional signs or other permitted identification signs in the area;

d. The Board may attach such conditions and safeguards as it deems necessary to carry out the intent of this subsection, including, but not limited to, the size, location, configuration and illumination of the proposed freestanding sign and other signs on the property.

Intent statement. There are instances in the City where adequate identification of uses is not afforded by the height limitations or yard regulations, or both, applicable to permitted freestanding signs because of unusual physical characteristics of the property or the adjacent area. In such instances, there is a need for flexibility in application of the height or yard regulations, or both, for freestanding signs to enable adequate identification for the convenience of the public and to promote the economic viability of the uses such signs are intended to identify, so long as public safety is safeguarded, visibility of other permitted signs in the area is not impaired and the character of the freestanding sign is appropriate for the property and the surrounding area.

Sec. 30-1040.4. Variances granted by the Zoning Administrator.

(a) Pursuant Code of Virginia, § 15.2-2286, and in accordance with the following criteria, the Zoning Administrator shall be authorized to grant such variances from the yard requirements of this chapter as set forth in subsection (b) of this section:

(1) The Zoning Administrator finds in writing that:

a. The strict application of this chapter would produce undue hardship;

b. Such hardship is not shared generally by other properties in the same zoning district and the same vicinity;

c. The authorization of the variance will not be of substantial detriment to adjacent property; and

d. The character of the zoning district will not be changed by the granting of the variance.

(2) A variance granted by the Zoning Administrator shall be the minimum necessary to relieve the hardship.

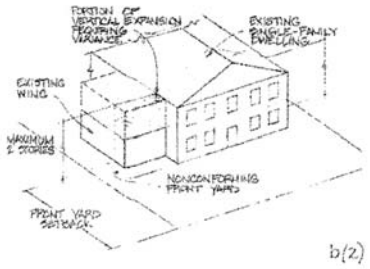
(3) Prior to the granting of a variance, the Zoning Administrator shall give all adjoining property owners, as shown on the current real estate tax assessment records of the City, written notice of the request for the variance. Such owners shall be given an opportunity to respond to the request within 21 days of the date of the notice. If any adjoining property owner objects to said request in writing within the time specified above, the request shall be transferred to the Board of Zoning Appeals for decision in accordance with the rules of procedure of the Board.

(4) Applications for variances authorized under this section shall be submitted to the Zoning Administrator on forms provided by the Zoning Administrator for such purpose, along with such plans as required by the Zoning Administrator, and shall be accompanied by a fee of $100.00, which fee shall be paid into the Treasury of the City.

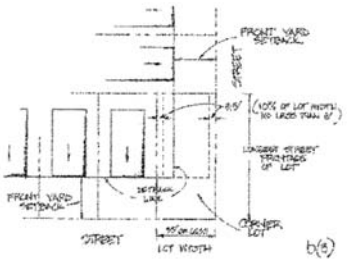
(b) The Zoning Administrator shall be authorized to grant a variance from:

(1) The interior side yard and rear yard requirements set forth in this chapter for single-family and two-family detached and attached dwellings and their accessory structures;

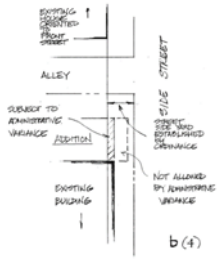
(2) Section 30-810.1 to enable no more than a second story vertical expansion of an existing building devoted to a single-family detached dwelling which is nonconforming with regard to the front yard or street side yard requirement;



(3) Section 30-630.1(a) with regard to the depth of the required front yard along the longer street frontage of the lot for construction of or an addition to a single-family detached dwelling located on a corner lot of record existing on April 25, 2005, and having a width of 35 feet or less, provided that no such variance shall permit a front yard with a depth less than ten percent of the width of the lot, and in no case less than three feet;



(4) Section 30-630.1(a) with regard to the depth of the required street side yard in the case of an addition to a single-family detached dwelling existing on April 25, 2005, provided that no such variance shall permit a street side yard with a depth less than the street side yard provided for the existing building;



(5) Section 30-630.2(b)(2) with regard to the depth of a required front yard on a corner lot in the case of an addition to a single-family detached dwelling existing on April 25, 2005, when such addition would have a front yard equal to or greater than the minimum required by the district regulations, provided that no such variance shall permit a front yard with a depth less than the front yard provided for the existing building.

DIVISION 5.1. CONDITIONAL USE PERMITS

Sec. 30-1045.1. Intent.

Pursuant to Code of Virginia, §§ 15.2-2286, 15.2-2303, conditional use provisions are intended as a means for the City Council, after review and recommendation by the Planning Commission, to authorize certain uses which, although generally appropriate in the district in which they are permitted, have potentially greater impacts on neighboring properties than uses which are permitted by right. Such uses may or may not be appropriate at a particular location in the district depending on surrounding land uses, other site-specific factors, and determination in each case of potential local impacts from the use and the measures proposed by the applicant to mitigate any adverse impacts. The conditional use permit procedure provides the opportunity for the City Council to review each proposed conditional use and to approve or disapprove the use or impose such conditions as reasonably necessary to ensure the use will be compatible with the surrounding area and consistent with the purposes of this chapter.

(Code 1993, § 32-1045.1; Code 2004, § 114-1045.1; Code 2015, § 30-1045.1)

Sec. 30-1045.2. Required; effect.

(a) Required for certain uses. A use indicated as permitted as a conditional use in Article IV of this chapter shall be authorized only upon approval of a conditional use permit by the City Council in accordance with this article.

(b) Effect of conditional use listing. The listing of a use as being permitted in a particular district by conditional use permit does not constitute assurance or presumption that a conditional use permit for such use will be approved. Approval of a conditional use permit for a particular use at a specific location within a district is subject to evaluation by the City Council and a determination in each case based on the standards and conditions set forth in this article.

(c) Relation to other permits. Building permits, certificates of use and occupancy and certificates of zoning compliance and related reviews and approvals required by this chapter are required for conditional uses in the same manner as for other uses. No building permit, certificate of use and occupancy or certificate of zoning compliance for a conditional use or for a building devoted to a conditional use shall be issued unless a conditional use permit has been approved.

(d) Existing uses. A use lawfully existing at the effective date of the ordinance from which this division is derived which is specified as a conditional use in the district in which it is located and for which no conditional use permit has been approved shall not be considered a nonconforming use because of its classification as a conditional use, nor shall the lack of a conditional use permit be considered a nonconforming feature of such use, provided that:

(1) No building permit, certificate of use and occupancy or certificate of zoning compliance involving expansion of such use or major reconstruction, enlargement or moving a building devoted to such use shall be issued, nor shall any material change in the program or operating characteristics of such use take place that would increase the intensity of the use, unless a conditional use permit is approved in accordance with this article;

(2) Except as provided in subsection (d)(3) of this section, whenever such use is discontinued for a period of two years or longer, whether or not equipment or fixtures are removed, the use shall not be reestablished unless a conditional use permit is approved in accordance with this division; and

(3) When a building devoted to such use is damaged by fire, explosion, act of God or the public enemy to any extent, such building may be restored, repaired, reconstructed and used as before such damage without approval of a conditional use permit, provided that the floor area devoted to the use shall not be increased, and provided further that application for a building permit for the restoration, repair or reconstruction shall be submitted within two years of the date of damage.

Sec. 30-1045.3. Application.

Applications for conditional use permits shall be submitted to the Department of Planning and Development Review and may be filed by the owner or with the written consent of the owner of the property which is the subject of the proposed conditional use permit. Applications shall be accompanied by an applicant's report describing the proposed conditional use and explaining the manner in which it complies with the requirements and standards of this chapter, together with such plans and other information as set forth in written administrative policy adopted by the Planning Commission.

(Code 1993, § 32-1045.3; Code 2004, § 114-1045.3; Code 2015, § 30-1045.3; Ord. No. 2009-221-2010-9, § 1, 1-25-2010)

Sec. 30-1045.4. Procedure for issuance.

(a) Review by staff. Staff of the Department of Planning and Development Review shall review each application for a conditional use permit and forward the application to the Planning Commission along with a report indicating the manner in which the proposed conditional use complies or does not comply with this chapter and its recommendations regarding approval, disapproval or conditions to be attached.

(b) Action by Planning Commission. The Planning Commission shall review each conditional use permit application for compliance with this chapter and shall provide a recommendation to the City Council in accordance with the following:

(1) The Commission shall hold a public hearing on the conditional use permit application. Notice of the time and place of such public hearing shall be given in accordance with general law. The names and addresses of all property owners within the City to whom notices are to be sent shall be furnished by the City

Assessor and shall be as shown on the then-current tax records of the City.

(2) After holding a public hearing, the Commission may recommend approval or disapproval of the conditional use permit or that additional conditions be imposed. In making its recommendation, the Commission shall consider at least the standards indicated in Section 30-1045.5.

(3) Action by the Commission shall be in the form of a motion, giving the reasons for its action.

(4) When the Commission is unable to adopt a motion to recommend approval or disapproval, it shall forward a written report to the City Council stating such fact and summarizing its discussions on the matter.

(5) Failure of the Commission to provide a recommendation or report to the City Council within 100 days after the first meeting of the Commission at which the conditional use permit application appears on its agenda shall be considered a recommendation of approval, unless the application has been withdrawn by the applicant prior to the expiration of such time period.

(c) Action by City Council. The City Council shall take action on each conditional use permit application in accordance with the following:

(1) After receiving the recommendation of the Planning Commission, the Council shall hold a public hearing on the conditional use permit application. Notice of the time and place of such public hearing shall be given in accordance with general law. The names and addresses of all property owners within the City to whom notices are to be sent shall be furnished by the City Assessor and shall be as shown on the then-current tax records of the City.

(2) The City Council may, by ordinance, approve or disapprove the conditional use permit application and may impose additional conditions as authorized by this division.

(Code 1993, § 32-1045.4; Code 2004, § 114-1045.4; Code 2015, § 30-1045.4; Ord. No. 2009-221-2010-9, § 1, 1-25-2010; Ord. No. 2019-085, § 2, 4-22-2019)

Sec. 30-1045.5. Standards for approval.

A conditional use permit shall be approved by the City Council only if it finds, after consideration of the recommendation of the Planning Commission, that the proposed use and related plans are appropriate at the location proposed based upon its consideration of the following standards and the specific conditions, where applicable, for the particular use in the district in which it is proposed to be located. No conditional use permit shall be approved by the City Council unless it finds the proposed use and development:

(1) Will not be contrary to the general purposes of this chapter as stated in Section 30-100;

(2) Will not be in conflict with the objectives and policies of the master plan for the City;

(3) Will conform with all applicable sections of this article and other applicable requirements of the district in which it is proposed to be located;

(4) Will not substantially diminish or impair the established property values in the neighborhood in which it is proposed to be located;

(5) Will not have an undue adverse effect on the public health, safety or general welfare;

(6) Will not adversely affect the character of the surrounding area or the continued use and development of surrounding property in a manner consistent with applicable zoning regulations or master plan objectives;

(7) Will not cause undue traffic congestion on public streets or significantly increase traffic volumes on minor residential streets;

(8) Will be adequately served by essential public services and facilities and will not cause an undue burden on such services and facilities;

(9) Will not cause the destruction, loss or damage of significant natural, scenic or historic features to any greater degree than development of the property for uses permitted by right in the district;

(10) Will ensure compatibility with surrounding property through existing and proposed landscaping, screening and buffering and the location, arrangement and character of existing and proposed buildings, structures, open spaces, parking areas, vehicular circulation, driveways, signage and lighting; and

(11) Will not cause or result in any significant increase in negative cumulative impact when considered in conjunction with other conditional uses in the neighborhood in which it is proposed to be located.

(Code 1993, § 32-1045.5; Code 2004, § 114-1045.5; Code 2015, § 30-1045.5)

Sec. 30-1045.6. Specific conditions applicable to particular uses.

The conditions set forth in this section shall be applicable to all the following uses as indicated when authorized by conditional use permit, provided that the City Council may impose such additional or more stringent conditions as deemed necessary to ensure the use will comply with the standards set forth in this article and elsewhere in this chapter:

(1) Adult care residences, group homes, lodginghouses, shelters. The following conditions shall be applicable to adult care residences, group homes, lodginghouses and shelters:

a. Not more than 30 persons, including staff, shall reside on the premises;

b. When located in any district other than a business district, no property devoted to such use shall be situated within 1,320 feet of property occupied by another adult care residence, group home, lodginghouse, shelter or any social service delivery use;

c. When located in any business district, no property devoted to such use shall be situated within 500 feet of property occupied by another adult care residence, group home, lodginghouse, shelter or any social service delivery use;

d. No group home or shelter shall be located within the same building as another dwelling use; and

e. A management program, addressing not less than the following elements, shall be submitted as part of the conditional use permit application. The planning commission may recommend and the City Council may include as conditions such elements of the management program as it deems necessary to satisfy the standards set forth in Section 30-1045.5. If a particular element listed is not applicable to a specific type of use because of the characteristics of that use, the management program shall include a statement of why the element is not applicable:

1. Detailed description of the managing entity, including the organizational structure, names of the board of directors, mission statement, and any bylaws.

2. Detailed description of programs offered on the premises, including operating procedures and characteristics, the intent of the programs and a description of how the programs support a long-term strategy for meeting the residents' or clients' needs.

3. Detailed description of off-site programs offered, and/or description of linkages to programs operated by others.

4. Detailed description of the number and type of residents or clients to be served, including an outline of program objectives, eligibility criteria, and requirements for referrals to other programs.

5. Operational details for on-site programs, including:

i. Hours of operation;

ii. Number and type of staff, staff qualifications, and typical hours worked by staff;

iii. Method of resident or client supervision;

iv. Operating procedures including procedures for orienting a new resident or client to the facility's programs;

v. Expectations for residents or clients;

vi. Prerequisites for continued client enrollment such as a requirement that the resident or client participate in programs;

vii. Rules of behavior for residents or clients;

viii. The location and nature of any security features and arrangements; and

ix. Names and telephone numbers of persons to contact in emergencies and any emergency procedures.

6. Annual operating budget, including sources of funding.

(2) Social service delivery uses. The following conditions shall be applicable to social service delivery uses:

a. No property devoted to such use shall be situated within 500 feet of property occupied by another social service delivery use or any adult care residence, group home, lodginghouse or shelter; and

b. A management program shall be submitted as set forth in subsection (1)e of this section.

(3) Nondwelling uses occupying the ground floor of existing buildings in the R-8 district. The following conditions shall be applicable to nondwelling uses occupying the ground floor of existing buildings in the R-8 district:

a. Before approving a conditional use permit for any such use, the City Council shall make a finding that the location of the property, the type of use and the scale and operational characteristics of the use are such that, if approved, the use can reasonably be expected to primarily serve the adjacent neighborhood and be sustainable as a neighborhood convenience use, and will avoid traffic, parking congestion, noise and other impacts that more typically result from uses that draw patrons from outside a neighborhood.

b. For any nondwelling use operating with an ABC license, such use shall not be operated between the hours of 10:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m.

c. Alterations to the exterior of the building, including façade treatment, fenestration, signage and lighting shall be designed to maximize compatibility with the residential character of the surrounding area. Elevation drawings of the building shall be submitted as part of the conditional use permit application.

d. No music or public address system shall be operated in such a manner that sound produced therefrom is audible beyond the portion of the building devoted to the use.

e. An operations plan, addressing not less than the following elements and providing such information as necessary to enable the City Council to make the finding described in subdivision a of this subsection, shall be submitted as part of the conditional use permit application:

1. Operational characteristics and features of the use, including: staffing levels; hours of operation; type of ABC license and related restrictions, if applicable; floor plan showing general arrangement of the use and seating capacity of tables and other facilities for patrons, if applicable; description of intended use of the upper floor or floors of the building, including floor plans and plans for ingress and egress; provisions for containing trash and refuse generated by the use, including screening of containers, and means of preventing trash from blowing onto adjacent properties or streets; and provisions for off-street parking, if applicable.

2. Provisions for security, including procedures, features, arrangements and staffing levels for such for both the interior and exterior of the premises, and a plan and procedures for mitigating potential adverse impacts on nearby dwelling uses.

3. The City Planning Commission may recommend and the City Council may include as conditions such elements of the operations plan as it deems necessary to satisfy the standards set forth in this section or in Section 30-1045.5.

(4) Required off-street parking for multifamily dwellings in the B-7 district. Before approving a conditional use permit for reduction of required off-street parking for a multifamily dwelling located in an existing building in the B-7 district, the City Council shall make a finding that:

a. The normally applicable off-street parking requirement for such use cannot reasonably be satisfied without demolition of an existing building; and

b. The reduction in required off-street parking will not adversely impact the use of nearby streets for traffic circulation or access to other properties or create an unreasonable demand for on-street parking that would adversely impact existing uses in the immediate area.

(5) Retail sales of liquor. The following conditions shall be applicable to retail sales of liquor:

a. Except as provided in subdivision b of this subsection (5), such use shall be located within a retail establishment having a total floor area greater than 5,000 square feet, and in which not greater than 50 percent of the total floor area is devoted to the sale and storage of alcoholic beverages as defined by the Code of Virginia;

b. In the case of a retail establishment existing on the effective date of this subsection and having on such date a total floor area of 5,000 square feet or less and greater than 50 percent of the total floor area devoted to the sale and storage of alcoholic beverages as defined by the Code of Virginia, the City Council may waive the conditions of subdivision a of this subsection (5) when the City Council is satisfied that the other applicable provisions of this subsection are met, and provided that in no case shall the existing total floor area of the establishment and the existing percentage of floor devoted to the sale and storage of alcoholic beverages be increased;

c. Such use shall not take place at any time between the hours of 10:00 p.m. and 10:00 a.m.; d. Drive-up facilities shall not be permitted in conjunction with such use, and retail sales of liquor shall take place only within the interior of the building;

e. The exterior features, including façade treatment, fenestration, signage and lighting, of the building in which such use is located shall be designed to maximize compatibility with the predominant character of surrounding commercial and residential areas, and elevation drawings of the building showing such features shall be submitted as part of the conditional use permit application, except that such drawings shall not be required in a case where no changes are to be made to the exterior of an existing building; and

f. The conditional use permit shall be approved by the City Council only if the applicant satisfies the council that the size and location of the use are reasonably related to the trade area that such use is intended to serve, and will not result in a disproportionate concentration of such uses within any particular area or neighborhood of the City or have a detrimental impact on the surrounding area due to close proximity to residential areas or public, religious or child care facilities.

(6) Nightclubs. A management program shall be submitted as part of the conditional use permit application. The planning commission may recommend and the City Council may include as conditions such elements of the management program as it deems necessary to satisfy the standards set forth in Section 30-1045.5. If a particular element listed is not applicable to a specific nightclub because of the characteristics of the nightclub, the management program shall include a statement of why the element is not applicable. The minimum required elements of the management program are as follows:

a. Operational characteristics and features of the nightclub, including the following:

1. Staffing levels;

2. Hours of operation, and days of the week on which the establishment will be operated as a nightclub;

3. Type of Virginia Alcoholic Beverage Control license and related restrictions;

4. Floor plan showing the general arrangement and seating capacity of tables and bar facilities, dance floor and standing room areas and capacity, which floor plan shall be posted on the premises in a prominent location viewable by the patrons;

5. Total occupant load; and

6. General type, frequency and hours of entertainment to be provided;

b. Provisions for off-street parking; and

c. Provisions for security and crowd management, including the following:

1. Provisions for a level of security and crowd management sufficient to comply with the requirements of Chapter 6, Article V, whether or not the nightclub is required to obtain a public dance hall permit;

2. Procedures, features, arrangements and staffing levels for security and crowd management for both the interior and exterior of the premises; and

3. A plan and the procedures for mitigating potential adverse impacts on nearby dwelling and business uses.

(7) Parking areas and parking lots in the B-4 and B-5 district. The following conditions shall be applicable for parking areas or parking lots in the B-4 or B-5 district:

a. The access, landscaping, screening, and arrangement of the parking area or parking lot shall be reviewed by the Urban Design Committee prior to the review of the application for the conditional use permit by the Planning Commission. The Urban Design Committee may recommend to the Planning Commission that the Planning Commission recommend that the City Council approve the conditional use permit or may recommend that the Planning Commission recommend that the City Council impose additional conditions. In making its recommendation, the Urban Design Committee shall consider at least the standards set forth in Section 30-1045.5 and the parking improvement requirements and landscaping standards set forth in Sections 30-710.10 through 30-710.16.

DIVISION 2. CONDITIONAL ZONING

Sec. 30-1170.1. Purpose.

(a) Pursuant to applicable provisions of Code of Virginia, §§ 15.2-2296 and 15.2-2298, the purpose of conditional zoning is to recognize that frequently, where competing and incompatible uses conflict, traditional zoning methods and procedures are inadequate. In these cases, more flexible and adaptable zoning methods are needed to permit differing land uses and at the same time to recognize effects of change.

(b) It is, therefore, the purpose of this division to provide a more flexible and adaptable zoning method to cope with such situations through conditional zoning, whereby a change in the zoning classification of property may be allowed subject to certain conditions proffered by the zoning applicant for the protection of the community that are not generally applicable to land similarly zoned. It is the intent of the City Council that this division shall not be used for the purpose of discrimination in housing.

(Code 1993, § 32-1170.1; Code 2004, § 114-1170.1; Code 2015, § 30-1170.1)

Sec. 30-1170.2. Procedures.

(a) Proffered conditions. In conjunction with an application for rezoning of property and as a part of a proposed amendment to the zoning map as described in Division 1 of this article, the owner of such property may voluntarily proffer in writing reasonable conditions in addition to the regulations specified for the zoning district by this chapter, provided such conditions meet the criteria set forth in this division.

(b) Submission of conditions. The owner may submit such conditions at the time of application for rezoning or at any other time prior to introduction of an ordinance to rezone the subject property. The Planning Commission and the City Council shall not be obligated to accept any of the proffered conditions.

(c) Additions, deletions or modifications to conditions. If additions, deletions or other modifications to conditions are desired by the owner of the property that is the subject of the rezoning request, they shall be made in writing to the Planning Commission before the Commission makes its recommendation to the City Council. The City Council may consider additional conditions, deletions or modifications to conditions after the Planning Commission makes its recommendation, provided that such are voluntarily proffered in writing prior to the public hearing at which the City Council is to consider the application for rezoning. When additions, deletions or modifications to conditions are proposed after the Planning Commission makes its recommendation, the City Council may refer the rezoning application back to the Commission for further review and action, provided that, where such additions, deletions or modifications to conditions are less restrictive than the conditions considered by the Planning Commission, the City Council shall refer the rezoning application back to the Commission.

(Code 1993, § 32-1170.2; Code 2004, § 114-1170.2; Code 2015, § 30-1170.2; Ord. No. 2004-350-328, § 1, 12-13-2004; Ord. No. 2007-43-56, § 1, 3-26-2007)

Sec. 30-1170.3. Proffered conditions.

(a) Criteria. All conditions proffered pursuant to this division shall meet the following criteria:

(1) The rezoning itself must give rise to the need for the conditions.

(2) The conditions shall have a reasonable relation to the rezoning.

(3) The conditions shall be in conformity with the master plan for the City.

(4) The conditions shall not impose upon the applicant the requirement to create a property owners' association under the Property Owner's Association Act, Code of Virginia, § 55-508 et seq., which includes an express further condition that members of a property owners' association pay an assessment for the maintenance of public facilities owned in fee by a public entity, including open space, parks, schools, fire departments, and other public facilities not otherwise provided for in Code of Virginia, § 15.2-2241; however, such facilities shall not include sidewalks, special street signs or markers, or special street lighting in public rights-of-way not maintained by the City.

(5) The conditions shall not be less restrictive than the sections of this chapter and shall not require or permit a standard that is less than required by any applicable law.

(6) The conditions shall be drafted in such manner as to be clearly understandable and enforceable.

(b) Conditions involving dedication of real property or payment of cash. If proffered conditions include the dedication of real property or the payment of cash, the property shall not transfer and the payment of cash shall not be made until the facilities for which the property is dedicated or cash is tendered are included in the capital improvement program, provided the City Council may accept proffered conditions which are not normally included in the capital improvement program. If proffered conditions include the dedication of real property or the payment of cash, the proffered conditions shall provide for the disposition of the property or cash payment if the property or cash payment is not used for the purpose for which proffered.

(c) Reasonable conditions designated. Reasonable conditions may include the payment of cash for any off-site road improvement or any off-site transportation improvement that is adopted as an amendment to the required comprehensive plan and incorporated into the capital improvements program, provided that nothing herein shall prevent the City from accepting proffered conditions which are not normally included in a capital improvement program. For purposes of this section, the term "road improvement" includes construction of new roads or improvement or expansion of existing roads as required by applicable construction standards of the Virginia Department of Transportation to meet increased demand attributable to new development. For purposes of this section, the term "transportation improvement" means any real or personal property acquired, constructed, improved, or used for constructing, improving, or operating any (i) public mass transit system or (ii) highway, or portion or interchange thereof, including parking facilities located within a district created pursuant to this title. Such improvements shall include, without limitation, public mass transit systems, public highways, and all buildings, structures, approaches, and facilities thereof and appurtenances thereto, rights-of-way, bridges, tunnels, stations, terminals, and all related equipment and fixtures.

(Code 1993, § 32-1170.4; Code 2004, § 114-1170.4; Code 2015, § 30-1170.4)

Sec. 30-1170.5. Future amendments for certain proffers.

If conditions proffered pursuant to this division include a requirement for the dedication of real property of substantial value or substantial cash payments for or construction of substantial public improvements, the need for which is not generated solely by the rezoning itself, no amendment to the zoning map for the property subject to such conditions nor the conditions themselves nor any amendments to the text of the zoning ordinance with respect to the zoning district applicable thereto initiated by the City Council, which eliminate or materially restrict, reduce, or modify the uses, the floor area ratio, or the density of use permitted in the zoning district applicable to such property, shall be effective with respect to the property unless there has been mistake, fraud, or a change in circumstances substantially affecting the public health, safety, or welfare.

(Code 1993, § 32-1170.5; Code 2004, § 114-1170.5; Code 2015, § 30-1170.5)

(1) The ordering in writing of the remedy of any noncompliance with conditions;

(2) The bringing of legal action to ensure compliance with conditions, including injunction, abatement or other appropriate action or proceeding; and

(b) Denial of permits and approvals. Failure to meet all conditions attached to an amendment to the zoning map shall constitute cause to deny approval or issuance of any required plan of development, certificate of zoning compliance, building permit, or certificate of use and occupancy, as may be appropriate.

Such petition shall specify the grounds upon which the petitioner is aggrieved.
