Proposed 24 E Main St Mural

Unity Street Project is working to create a mural on 24 E Broad St in the celebration of Girls for a Change program. This project will be a collaboration between Unity Street project and a selected group of girls that participate in the Girls for a Change program. We are working with the "action team" from John Marshall High School to design and create a mural that speaks about girl power and what inspires them as young women. At this moment we are still in the design phase, though I have attached a couple of examples of previous murals by the artist whom has partnered with the community to create murals.

Girls for a Change is a non-profit organization headed by Angela patton whose mission is to support and inspire black Girls and other girls of color to visualize their bright futures and potential through discovery, development and social change innovation in their communities. In doing so, they help girls develop key skills needed for success.
