Introduction

The property owner is requesting a special use permit (the "SUP") Amendment for 2300 Ingram Avenue (the "Property"). This amendment seeks a removal of on-site parking to facilitate a significant expansion of intentional green space and permeable landscaping. By replacing asphalt with high-quality landscaping, this development adopts a proactive stance on environmental stewardship.

Existing Conditions

SITE DESCRIPTION AND EXISTING LAND USE

The Property is located on the southwest corner of Ingram Avenue and Mason Street and is referenced by the City Assessor as tax parcel S000-0865/015. The Property is 60' wide by 150' in depth, contains approximately 9,048 square feet of lot area, and is currently unimproved. Access is provided at the rear of the Property by means of an east-west alley.

The property is uniquely positioned within a high-capacity parking environment, characterized by ample, underutilized on-street parking along the immediate corridor. Furthermore, the development's adjacency to a substantial existing parking lot provides a reliable secondary resource for vehicular needs.

EXISTING ZONING

Adoption of Ordinance No. 2023-101, officially repealed minimum parking requirements city-wide to encourage more sustainable, market-driven development. By trading surplus asphalt for high-quality green space, the project moves away from an outdated car-centric model and mirrors the flexibility afforded to "by-right" projects under current zoning philosophies. This transition fulfills the intent of City Code Section 30-710.10 regarding environmental conservation.

Master Plan Designation

The Richmond 300 Master Plan (the "Master Plan") identifies a big move to prioritize the movement of people over vehicle storage. Ultimately, this amendment brings the 2300 Ingram Special Use Permit into harmony with the City's vision for a Green and Resilient urban fabric, ensuring the site remains a productive, ecologically responsible asset for the community.

Additional goals within the Master Plan that support this request include:

- Resilient & Healthy Communities (p. 166, 170): Objectives 8.1, 15.3 and 17.5, regarding heat vulnerability mitigation, movement of people and sustainable development incentives.
- Equitable Transportation (p. 109): Objective 6.1 to increase residents and jobs at Nodes and along transit corridors.
- Diverse Economy (p. 136): Objective 11.1 to increase appropriately zoned land near transportation and housing.
- Inclusive Housing (p. 150-155): Objectives 14.1, 14.5, and 14.8 regarding housing choice, density at Nodes, and equitable housing options.
- Thriving Environment (p. 159): Objective 15.1 to reduce air pollution by encouraging density and reducing vehicle dependency.
- High Quality Places (p. 86, 126): Objectives 1.4 and 4.1 regarding high-quality design standards and well-designed neighborhoods.

Proposal

PROJECT SUMMARY

This SUP amendment would permit a strategic reduction in on-site parking to facilitate the expansion of high-quality green space and permeable landscaping to prioritize urban resilience and sustainability.

PURPOSE OF REQUEST

The owner is proposing an amendment from on-site parking to high quality green space and permeable landscaping to mitigate the urban heat island effect and align with the City's 2023 repeal of parking minimums as well as the 'Green and Resilient' objectives of the Richmond 300 Master Plan.

PROJECT DETAILS

Upon completion, the proposed amendment will significantly increase green space and permeable landscaping at the rear of each unit. This shift is intentionally crafted to:

- Promote Community Resilience: By prioritizing "people-first" spaces, the revision encourages socialization and active movement among residents.
- Combat Urban Heat Vulnerabilities: Replacing asphalt with vegetative cover directly mitigates the urban heat island effect, improving the local microclimate.
- Enhance Infrastructure Efficiency: The expansion of previous surfaces provides natural filtration, reducing the runoff burden on the City's stormwater infrastructure.
- Ensure Regulatory Alignment: These enhancements bring the development into full harmony with the City of Richmond's current sustainability mandates and long-term urban development goals.

Findings of Fact

Relative to Section 17.11 of the Charter and Section 114-1050.1 of the Zoning Ordinance, the proposed amendment will not:

- Be detrimental to safety or welfare

The expansion of green space and reduction of impervious surfaces will improve the local microclimate and air quality. By mitigating the urban heat island effect and enhancing stormwater filtration, the amendment actively promotes the health and general welfare of the community.

- Create congestion

The reduction in on-site parking is supported by ample existing on-street capacity and the project's proximity to transit. This shift aligns with the City's goal to prioritize the movement of people over vehicles, resulting in negligible impacts on traffic and public-way congestion.

- Create hazards

All modifications to the site layout, including the removal of parking stalls and the addition of landscaping, will remain fully compliant with current building and fire codes, ensuring safe emergency vehicle access.

- Cause overcrowding

The amendment maintains the previously approved density and building footprints. The conversion of asphalt to green space reduces the "intensity" of the land use, providing more open space per resident and preventing an undue concentration of population.

- Interfere with public services

By increasing permeable surfaces, the project reduces the volume of runoff entering the City's stormwater infrastructure, potentially lowering the long-term maintenance burden on public utilities.

- Interfere with light and air

The exchange of parking for landscaping significantly improves air circulation and creates a more open, aesthetically pleasing environment between building masses, which is highly compatible with the character of the vicinity.

Summary

In summary, the proposed amendment for 2300 Ingram represents a transformative shift from a conventional, car-centric site plan to a modern, ecologically responsible development. By strategically replacing underutilized surface parking with high-impact green space, this project directly addresses the City's most pressing environmental challenges: mitigating the urban heat island effect and alleviating the burden on our stormwater infrastructure.

This revision is a proactive alignment with the Richmond 300 Master Plan and the City's legislative move to eliminate parking minimums in favor of Transit-Oriented Development. Backed by the ample existing parking resources in the immediate vicinity, this amendment prioritizes the health, socialization, and well-being of future residents over the storage of vehicles. We respectfully request the approval of this amendment to ensure that 2300 Ingram serves as a benchmark for sustainable, "people-first" infill development that contributes to a greener, more resilient, and more vibrant City of Richmond.
