If yes, please provide information on the nature of the contract.

Please List Your Educational Background and/or Other Expertise or Qualifications You Will Bring to This Authority, Board, Commission or Task Force:

--Ph.D. in English, with a focus on African American literature and music
--Professor at Northern Virginia Community College, Annandale (2003-2011) and University of Richmond (2011 to present)
--Extensive writing and research on the relationship between policing/law enforcement and black artistic traditions
 Two books: Rap on Trial: Race, Lyrics, and Guilt in America--with Andrea Dennis and Killer Mike (2019) and The Hip Hop & Obama Reader (2015)
 Numerous peer-reviewed articles, as well as articles and op-eds on race and criminal justice in New York Times, Washington Post, NPR, the Atlantic, USA Today, and others

--Since 2012, my work has focused specifically on the (mis)use of rap lyrics as evidence in criminal cases. To that end, I routinely testify in criminal trials on behalf of defendants whose music is used against them. I have consulted on more than 50 such cases across the country. I have also been lead author on three amicus briefs, submitted to the U.S. Supreme Court, defending the first amendment rights of these artists. Two of these briefs were co-authored by friend and collaborator Michael Render, aka Killer Mike, and they were cosigned by a wide range of scholars (including Michelle Alexander, Paul Butler, and Robin D.G. Kelley) and artists (including rappers TI, Big Boi, Chance the Rapper, Meek Mill, Yo Gotti, Luther Campbell, and several others)

Other Community Involvement:

--In 2018, I brought Shaquan "Mad Skillz" Lewis to the University of Richmond as the School of Professional and Continuing Studies' first ever artist in residence. Together, we co-taught a class called The Voice of Hip Hop in America. (This class was referenced in Mayor Stoney's proclamation that February 13 was Mad Skillz Day.) This course was heavily focused on community engagement, including a community-based event featuring Hank Shocklee of the rap group Public Enemy. This spring, we collaborated with the VMFA to hold our final class--focusing on Virginia hip hop--at the VMFA itself, making it free and open to the community. COVID scrambled those plans, but we are already looking at something similar for next spring.

--I have been working with VMFA curator Valerie Cassel Oliver, on an upcoming exhibit called "Dirty South."

My fiancée is a women's rights attorney with the ACLU. Her work often centers on the way women in particular experience policing—and police misconduct—so that would be a perspective I'd bring when conceiving of a review board.

As a local physician, I have watched in horror as chemical weapons and overwhelming violence have been unleashed on Richmonders exercising their First Amendment rights over the past two months. I believe I can provide a valuable medical perspective to this commission, which will be tasked with evaluating police conduct. I believe part of the problem with oversight of police is a lack of medical knowledge about what police use of force does to the human body: abstract terms such as "carotid hold" and "less-lethal weapons" obscure the tremendous amount of damage and suffering they can cause.

I am an Assistant Professor in the Department of Gender, Sexuality and Women's Studies at VCU. I received my PhD in Sociology from Stony Brook University, specializing in Criminology, Gender and Sexuality, and Race and Ethnicity. My research examines how the intersections of race, class, and gender create differing experiences of marginalization and oppression for people who are LGBTQ+. I am well versed and have carried out both quantitative and qualitative research projects. Moreover, as a Translational Research Fellow, I work to translate academic research into relevant, high quality briefs and presentations for policymakers. I believe these skills will be valuable in the work of the CRB Task Force and the production of a final report to council regarding community driven recommendations for the format of the final CRB.

Dear President Newbille, Chairperson Trammell, Vice Chair Gray and Councilmember Hilbert:

As representatives of leading LGBTQ advocacy and service organizations based in Richmond, we are writing to offer our full endorsement of the application of our colleague, Eli Coston, for the Task Force on the Establishment of a Civilian Review Board.

It is critical that the LGBTQ community have a voice in making recommendations to the Council on the creation, structure and authority of a CRB. While there are only nine seats available on the Task Force, Eli will be able to serve as a liaison to our leadership group and will ensure that our community's voice and input are effectively represented in providing guidance to the Council on this much-needed step towards comprehensive public safety reform in Richmond.

For your reference, we are attaching our letter to the Council dated June 6, 2020 in which our leadership group called for the enactment of Marcus Alerts and the creation of a CRB.

Please let us know if you have questions or wish to discuss this matter further.

Jewel Gatling was born and raised in Portsmouth, VA and is a proud graduate of Norfolk State University with a Bachelors in Sociology and Iowa State University, where she graduated Magna Cum Laude with a Masters in Sociology with an emphasis in Social Disorganization, Victimization and Community Cohesion. In May 2012 she became a Fellow with the Obama for America campaign. It is here where her passion for civic engagement, community advocacy and organizing developed. After the re-election of President Obama, Jewel would continue her work on various state and local elections through her creation of the Suffolk Young Democrats (SYD). With the support of the Suffolk Democratic Committee, Jewel served as President of SYD from 2013 to 2015 and was able to organize numerous community engagement events, such as political education forums, voter registration, school supply and food drives. In 2017 Jewel took her gifts to Richmond, VA and began her work as an Assistant Legislative Aide for the Office of Senator Lynwood Lewis and the Office of Delegate Luke E. Torian.

Jewel is a graduate of the Virginia Progressive Leadership Program, a Life Member of the NAACP, a former Suffolk Chair with the Hampton Roads Young Democrats, has worked with the Virginia Civic Engagement Table as an Organizer for the Youth Virginia Votes Center-Richmond and is currently the Executive Director for Brown Virginia, a non-profit that provides a diverse and balanced voice to issues of importance in minority communities. Jewel still maintains her devotion for change through neighborhood call to action meetings. These community gatherings are designed to educate, empower and encourage citizens on how to become involved in political action and to productively advocate for social issues.

I write for consideration of my appointment to the Task Force on creating a civilian review board in Richmond. I ask that you consider appointing me for two reasons.

First, I have extensive experience as an attorney performing the very work assigned to the Task Force.

Collecting facts, researching the applicable law, and then providing an analysis about how to best move forward is what I do every day as an attorney representing my clients. And that is what the Council asks of the Task Force. The Task Force is to first collect facts about issues resulting in police-resident conflict and different structures for citizen review boards; to then research the law about what currently is possible for a citizen review board here in Richmond; and to finally synthesize these facts and law to provide advice to the Council about avenues forward.

My research, analysis, and writing skills are thus well suited for the Task Force. I would meaningfully contribute to crafting the Task Force's recommendations and reports to the Council.

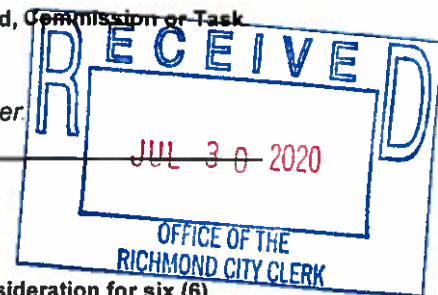

Second, I would enthusiastically embrace the appointment and all its responsibilities.

When law enforcement interacts with residents, our Nation's competing values of security, liberty, and equality are at their height of tension. The Council's decision to create the Task Force, then, is a normative marker. It signifies that the Council will declare our community's values about what is justice: how to balance these interests when they strain against each other in police-resident engagements. Being part of the Task Force to give the Council the tools it needs to make that decision would be a privilege.

I would be honored to be part of this public service.

How Did You Hear About or Who Referred You to Apply for Appointment to This Authority, Board, Commission or Task Force?

I was aware of the creation of this Task Force by following members of the Council on Twitter.

I am interested in politics, policing, and criminal justice so this task force seems like a perfect fit for me. I took AP US History and did very well on the exam, and that class helped spark an interest in government and civic engagement. I read the news daily and find this subject particularly engaging. I would welcome the chance to be civically involved in this way and work with other interested citizens. If I am accepted, I will be thoughtful and put lots of effort into the work.
