RE: Resolution to Continue Offering Delinquent Tax Payment Arrangements

ORD. OR RES. No.

PURPOSE:

To provide by resolution that the Department of Finance may enter into an agreement with any taxpayer who has been assessed with omitted taxes, including penalties and interest with respect to such taxes for the payment of the taxes, penalties, and interest so assessed over a period that is reasonable under the circumstances but that in no event shall exceed 72 months.

BACKGROUND:

The City of Richmond's Department of Finance has historically provided the option to taxpayers for delinquent taxpayers in the form of Delinquent Tax Payment Arrangements ("Arrangements"). The Department previously referred to Code of Virginia § 58.1-3965. C. which governs payment arrangements specific to the delinquent tax sale process for its Arrangements.

Prior to the recent adoption of HB 1503 there were not clear requirements for offering Arrangements outside of the tax sale process. However, HB 1503 states, "The governing body may further provide by resolution that the treasurer or other officer responsible for the collection of taxes may enter into an agreement with any taxpayer who has been assessed with omitted taxes [...]" Emphasis has been added to any.

In early 2024, the Department of Finance amended their Payment Arrangement Policy to reflect the changes of HB 2110, which increased the maximum length of agreements for tax sale arrangements under Code of Virginia § 58.1-3965. C. from 60 to 72 months. The Department of Finance also included the following changes to their Arrangements:

- No required down payment for vehicle personal property and real estate taxes;

- A reduction to ten percent down payment requirement for other tax types;
- The ability to miss up to one payment without default;

HB 1503 now requires that City Council provide by resolution the authority for the Department of Finance to continue offering Arrangements beyond July 1, 2024. These Arrangements have recently been enhanced and the Department of Finance looks forward to continuing to offer Arrangements should City Council make such resolution as required by HB 1503.
