I am passionate about behavioral health and have proactively learned a significant amount about trauma-informed care over the past 10 years after going through my own mental health journey. I am also passionate about breaking down disparities and ensuring equitable access to behavioral health services, especially in marginalized communities. I currently work for the largest and oldest telepsychiatry practice, which has been providing behavioral health services to those who would not otherwise have access to care for over 20 years. I have gone through extensive training through my employer on the inequities of behavioral healthcare, the importance of and how to provide culturally competent mental health care, and how racism itself is traumatic and impacts BIPOC individuals and their communities. I am trained in how different communities present their mental health systems and also how to best reach and encourage various communities to prioritize their own wellness.

I have been very involved in civic outreach and nonprofits. I am an active Big Sister though Big Brothers, Big Sisters. I was the Fundraising Chair for Celebrate! RVA, a non-profit that throws birthday parties for disadvantaged children. I was also on the board for Fountain for Youth, an organization that opens and supplies children's libraries throughout the city. I used to also be active in animal rescue and have served on the board for a few rescues. My civic involvement slowed down after having my daughter, but I am ready to get active again and think this is the perfect opportunity to apply what I've learned at work with my passion for community involvement.
