Councilor Kenya Gibson stated that while more transparency and clarity is still needed, the budget makes meaningful progress for the city despite limited resources.

Councilor Reva Trammell expressed concerns about school safety and frustration with uncertainty around how school funds would be used.

Councilor Nicole Jones stated that there are obvious processes that need to be done more collaboratively, and she hoped for more inclusive, transformative budgeting in the future, grounded in youth voices and community needs.

Vice President Jordan noted many improvements in school funding and the budget process. She also encouraged residents to advocate at the state and federal levels for funding and structural reforms.

Councilor Ellen Robertson stated that the budget reflects important steps forward, particularly in affordable housing. She also noted the importance of continuing public participation to help shape priorities in the future.

Councilor Andrew Breton thanked members of the public for their participation and stated that pedestrian safety and transparency were central to this year's budget process.

President Cynthia Newbille acknowledged that not all needs could be fully addressed and encouraged ongoing engagement between Council, administration, and residents.

There were no further comments and ORD. 2026-063, ORD. 2026-064, ORD. 2026-065, ORD. 2026-066, ORD. 2026-067, ORD. 2026-068, ORD. 2026-069, ORD. 2026-070, and ORD. 2026-071 were adopted: Ayes 7, Breton, Gibson, Jones, Robertson, Trammell, Jordan, Newbille. Noes 0. Abubaker had yet to arrive.

Councilor Sarah Abubaker arrived at 8:11 p.m. and was seated.

The Regular Agenda

The following ordinance was considered:

7. ORD. 2025-215 To authorize the special use of the property known as 1705 Commonwealth Avenue for the purpose of a space for outdoor events,

upon certain terms and conditions. (As Amended) (1st District)

Patrons: Mayor Avula (By Request)

This ordinance was rejected.

Kevin Vonck, Director of Planning and Development Review, provided an overview and background information on the proposed special use of 1705 Commonwealth Avenue.

Public Hearing

Sidney Bragg urged denial of the SUP due to excessive noise and the venue's close proximity to homes.

Adam Young spoke in opposition to the proposed sup and stated that amplified outdoor music is incompatible with the residential setting.

Victoria Young stated that prior events disturbed her children's sleep and that the proposed event schedule is far too intensive for a quiet neighborhood.

Story Hinckley expressed concern over traffic and parking overflow affecting the safety of families and children.

Nicholas Pfab described historical noise issues and said enforcement is inadequate to manage frequent outdoor events.

Amanda Murphy stated that community negotiations with the applicant failed because the applicant insisted on amplified music outdoors and large gatherings.

Rachel Pfab expressed concerns with the SUP applying to the property, not the applicant, and stated that future owners could hold even larger events.

Debbie Bragg stated that there were multiple failed attempts to compromise with the applicant and noted the importance of protection of the neighborhood's quality of life.

Krista Mathis stated that the venue's planned use conflicts with current zoning and undermines the intent of noise protection restrictions.

Ryan Oliver stated that the proposed use is not compatible with current zoning and that past events were louder and more disruptive than the applicant claims.

Nancy Oliver concerns about early morning event setup noise and protecting the family oriented nature of the block.

Vince Lovejoy stated that approval of the SUP would set a harmful precedent and weaken neighborhood protections citywide.

Lee Stanfield expressed concerns with the city's ability to enforce decibel limits, stating that the enforcement burden would fall on residents.

Kristine Smetana stated that the business should continue operating indoors only, as outdoor events would permanently impact livability in the neighborhood.

Brandy Jarvis, Jackson Ward Collective Foundation and founder of Dog Adventures, LLC, spoke in support of the proposed SUP, stating that past concerns were addressed, the venue operates responsibly, and the business provides meaningful cultural and economic value to the community.

Nadia Anderson, applicant and owner of Lavender Hill, stated that she follows city guidance, including investment in sound mitigation, and explained that she needs the ability to host outdoor events to sustain her business.

Aaron Foster spoke in support of the proposed SUP, stating that Lavender Hill is a positive community space and that the applicant has made significant efforts to collaborate with neighbors and operate responsibly.

Jolinda Anderson stated that outdoor events are exaggerated by opponents and that the city's process has been confusing and unfair to the applicant.

James Henry Harris stated that the applicant is a person of integrity who has repeatedly faced unfair barriers as a Black woman business owner, and denying the SUP would perpetuate historical patterns of discrimination.

Megan Rollins, The Knot Worldwide, spoke in support of Lavender Hill and noted the venue's economic value to the wedding industry.

Will Rollins provided information stating that very few events took place at Lavender Hill and no noise violations were ever received, arguing that objections to the SUP are not supported by evidence.

Michael Wray spoke about the importance of "ruthless fairness" and suggested the restrictions placed on Lavender Hill amounted to an unreasonable regulatory burden.

Christina Dick stated that opposition to the proposed SUP is driven by fear rather than facts, and praised the applicant's community contributions.

Michael Raven stated that opposition materials circulating in the neighborhood used racially charged language and warned that denial of the SUP could open the city to civil rights litigation.

Demond Davis described the "Beats and Blockbusters" series of events at Lavender Hill as culturally enriching and specifically scheduled to minimize neighborhood disruption.

Tamara Green Jones stated that the business model of Lavender Hill depends on hosting outdoor events and that the city provided inconsistent instructions throughout the process.

Aubrey Fountain, VCU adjunct professor specializing in land use law, stated that the current zoning of the property allows event spaces with conditions and cautioned that NIMBY concerns alone cannot legally justify denial.

Dineen Harris stated that events she attended at Lavender Hill were quiet and professionally run, and asked for equal treatment compared to similar venues in the city.

Grace Carter stated that Lavender Hill has significantly reduced event frequency to meet neighbors halfway, and noted that it is a rare example of a Black owned outdoor venue in the city.

Councilor Nicole Jones asked for clarity on what version of the ordinance Council was actually considering, noting conflicting public statements about event limits and other stipulations.

Kevin Vonck, Director of Planning and Development Review, stated that no amendments had been submitted for Council's consideration and that the only version before Council was the original ordinance recommending approval with conditions based on the staff analysis.

Councilor Andrew Breton stated that months of negotiations between the applicant and neighbors concluded that the parties remained too far apart on a solution, and that he could not support the SUP as written.

Councilor Ellen Robertson stated that Council may want to consider a reduced event compromise and expressed frustration that the applicant's scaled down proposal was not able to be included in a formal amendment.

Councilor Reva Trammell emphasized the importance of protecting long established neighborhoods and stated she could not support amplified outdoor music events near homes.

President Cynthia Newbille acknowledged the extensive engagement from both sides and stated that there is a need for a clear process moving forward.

Councilor Robertson expressed interest in continuing ORD. 2025-215 to allow for the preparation of an amendment, based on the willingness indicated by the applicant to accept reducing the number of events per year.

Councilor Breton moved to call the question, which was seconded.

Councilor Robertson moved to continue ORD. 2025-215 to allow for preparation of an amendment, which was seconded.

President Newbille stated that the first motion would need to be addressed first.

City Attorney Laura Drewry stated that the motion to call the question must be voted on first, as it was made and seconded first.

The motion to call the question was approved: Ayes 5, Breton, Gibson, Trammell, Abubaker, Jordan. Noes 2, Jones, Robertson. Abstentions 1, Newbille.

Discussion ensued regarding what was being voted on, and City Clerk Candice Reid confirmed that no amendments had been introduced and clarified that the next vote would be on whether or not to approve ORD. 2025-215 as read in its submitted form.

Councilor Robertson stated that she would not support the SUP as it appears on the docket and reiterated that she asked for an amendment to the ordinance, noting that her motion for the ordinance to be continued had not been considered.

Ms. Reid stated that she would defer to the City Attorney on whether or not the question needed to be called on Ms. Robertson's motion to continue the ordinance.

Ms. Drewry stated that since the motion to call the question was approved, then the vote on the ordinance itself would be in the correct order.

President Newbille stated that if the ordinance is approved, then there would not be anything to continue.

Council Chief of Staff RJ Warren clarified the order of events as follows:

- The first motion to call the question was made and received a second.
- There was a second motion made to continue the ordinance that also received a second.
- The first motion must be addressed, which is to call the question.
- That motion was approved. Therefore, the only subsequent action is that the question must be called.

Mr. Warren continued, stating that if the question is called and the ordinance is denied, it cannot be continued. He likewise noted that an ordinance that has been approved cannot be continued. Therefore, whatever the result of the question before the Council, the motion to continue would be moot.

ORD. 2025-215 was rejected: Ayes 1, Jones. Noes 6, Breton, Gibson, Robertson, Trammell, Abubaker, Jordan. Abstentions 1, Newbille.
