VOLUNTEERISM

Environment Coordinator, Pimmit Hills Citizens Association Falls Church, VA

I created the Parks & Environment subcommittee in my neighborhood citizens organization to facilitate litter and trash clean-up events in the neighborhood's 7 county owned parks. I received event funding and resources through various public and private grants, for which my neighborhood and planned activities are eligible, and conducted a multi-tiered communications campaign to recruit volunteers using print, online, social and in-person techniques. In addition to the environmental benefits to the neighborhood and the Potomac River, these now bi-annual events have bolstered community collaboration and morale, fostered cross-generational communication, and provided a residential volunteer activity for local teens. Through the launch and organization process, I helped the citizens association better utilize its web capabilities and email correspondence, restart and secure funding for the defunct print newsletter, develop volunteer programs with nearby schools, and institute a budgeting and financial forecasting process.

*Account Director, Website Redesign Team
Taproot Foundation
Washington, D.C.*

Lead a website redesign pod project for a nonprofit focused on educational resources and job skills for D.C. youth. Ran project management for a team consisting of an editor, marketer, designer and web developer. Conducted a kick-off meeting with the client, developed a stakeholders report outlining the client's needs and vision, and then worked with the other team members to build out a comprehensive proposal. Worked closely with the client to reduce the number of site pages, while bringing clarity and purpose to the written material. Helped the client refocus site architecture and navigation on key visitor priorities.
