WORK EXPERIENCE

Senior Research and Policy Analyst, Congressional Black Caucus Foundation, Inc.
Washington, D.C. December, 2015-March, 2017.

Serving as a vital member of the Congressional Black Caucus Foundation's Center for Policy Analysis and Research (CPAR) team, the Senior Research and Policy Analyst was responsible for developing, implementing and initiating new and existing research and policy analysis and initiatives of the Congressional Black Caucus Foundation, Inc. The Senior Research and Policy Analyst is responsible for the dissemination of information thereof in CBCF's core focus areas of Education, Public Health, Economic Empowerment, Voting Rights, Civil Rights and Environmental Sustainability. Additionally, the Senior Research and Policy Analyst, in-conjunction with the Center for Policy Analysis and Research, oversees the AVOICE digital archive, and conducts grant writing, while engaging with stakeholders and/or partnering with like-minded organizations in cohesion with other CBCF departments.

The Senior Research and Policy Analyst will be responsible for the production of policy analysis and research central to the CBCF's efforts to establish a world class research strategy aimed at eliminating disparities in the global black community. The Senior Research and Policy Analyst is critical to ensuring the successful establishment and progress of the Congressional Black Caucus Foundation's CPAR objectives. As the Senior Research and Policy Analyst I was also responsible for disseminating internal and external deliverables that involved policy analysis, research, data collection and the dissemination of those research findings through publication to relevant stakeholders to inform CBCF partners, think-tank organizations and the general public.

Throughout my tenure with the CBCF I provide a high-level data and policy analysis and served as a key point of contact across the core policy areas for across organization the departments. Additionally, I was also responsible for producing fact sheets, policy reports, and other publications illustrating the impact of public policies critical to the black community. I represented the President and CEO of the agency in her absence at briefings and meetings with members of Congress on Capitol Hill and across businesses and industry throughout the Washington D.C. community. I played a key role in launching new initiatives such as the Policy Now and expanded the CBCF's analysis in STEM education, minority business development, the Affordable Care Act, and environmental sustainability.

Principal, HarryCO., LLC. www.harrycorp.com Richmond, Virginia, June, 2009-Present.

Agency Overview: Through innovative and proven psychiatric counseling interventions highly trained clinicians and therapists under my supervision provided personal counseling and mentoring services to at-risk youths, psychiatric counseling and case management services to disabled adults with behavioral, mental and emotional disabilities. Involved going into the homes, schools, hospitals, assisted living facilities and communities with the adults and youths in order to assist them with making better life choices and connecting clients to change agencies who assist in their ongoing care and stability. Since 2009, my interventions have been instrumental in assisting 250 mentally ill adults with achieving stable housing, education and training opportunities and the coordination of ongoing mental health services. I have connected over 500 youth and their families to educational and counseling interventions that supported family growth, stable functioning and stability throughout the Richmond regions of Virginia that removed the risk of removal from homes and placement in foster care.

Duties included having family sessions with the client and their families, conducting clinical assessments and forensic evaluations of juveniles to help with household rule setting and improving family dynamics; interacting with court systems, mental health organizations, school systems and personnel to ensure success in school; connecting the adults and youths and their parents and caregivers to helping agencies within the community; preparing adults, youths and their parents for employment; and a variety of other services as needed. Responsible for writing service plans, monthly reports, advocating for the family for services. Responsible for and lead the development and implementation of all program services, ensures the ongoing development and oversight of the agency's strategic plan, represents the organization in matter regarding the media, corporate partners and collaborations with government agencies and supervises the administrative and service implementation of a staff of 30.
