I am passionate about behavioral health and have proactively learned a significant amount about trauma-informed care over the past 10 years after going through my own mental health journey. I am also passionate about breaking down disparities and ensuring equitable access to behavioral health services, especially in marginalized communities. I currently work for the largest and oldest telepsychiatry practice, which has been providing behavioral health services to those who would not otherwise have access to care for over 20 years. I have gone through extensive training through my employer on the inequities of behavioral healthcare, the importance of and how to provide culturally competent mental health care, and how racism itself is traumatic and impacts BIPOC individuals and their communities. I am trained in how different communities present their mental health systems and also how to best reach and encourage various communities to prioritize their own wellness.

I have been very involved in civic outreach and nonprofits. I am an active Big Sister though Big Brothers, Big Sisters. I was the Fundraising Chair for Celebrate! RVA, a non-profit that throws birthday parties for disadvantaged children. I was also on the board for Fountain for Youth, an organization that opens and supplies children's libraries throughout the city. I used to also be active in animal rescue and have served on the board for a few rescues. My civic involvement slowed down after having my daughter, but I am ready to get active again and think this is the perfect opportunity to apply what I've learned at work with my passion for community involvement.

My name is William "Shiloh" Jones, and I am writing to express my desire to become a member of the Richmond Behavioral Health Authority Board.

I grew up in Richmond—in a neighborhood that was, at the time, exceptionally rough. My environment did not reward intelligence, hard work, and other virtues of a sort which might have helped me to escape from those environs; to the contrary, it was dangerous to be smart when I was growing up. My mother suffered from severe mental health issues; my father left when I was seven. I experienced instability, hunger, and homelessness.

In the midst of those experiences, I determined that, were I ever to have the means, I would do my utmost to ensure that those living rough in Richmond would have access to resources that I desperately needed growing up. I have since achieved a level of success that I could scarcely have dreamed of as a child. I am now a husband, a father, a foodie, a fitness devotee, and a successful entrepreneur—CEO of five thr

I represent three Richmond-based companies, all of which provide services to residents of Richmond and beyond.

1. HYPE Counseling Services: CEO. HYPE provides a wide array of services including, but not limited to:
 - a. Mental Health Services
 - b. Skill Building Services
 - c. Crisis Stabilization Services
 - d. Substance Abuse Intensive Outpatient Services
 - e. Post-Incarceration Acclimation Support
2. Shiloh Enterprise Properties: CEO. Under the banner of SEP, I buy up real estate and rent out houses—either as single-family dwellings or room by room—at affordable rates. Having had cruel and / or negligent landlords myself, I strive to provide my tenants with an environment that I myself would be content to live in, and to be the kind of landlord to them that I would want to have. I also rent such properties to AOG (see below) for their Fresh Start Program.
3. Central Virginia's Preferred Providers: CO-OWNER. CVPP provides psychiatric care, psychotherapy, and autism services.
