Good afternoon,

As a Richmond resident in the third district, I would like to speak out in favor of eliminating parking minimums. This small change will help facilitate redevelopment in the city, expanding the tax base and bolstering the local economy. Eliminating parking minimums would also help lower the cost of much needed new housing in the city and help the city reach its environmental goals by minimizing impervious surfaces and helping to eliminate urban heat islands. Overall eliminating parking minimums would be a small but significant step toward making Richmond an even better place to live and visit.

Thank you,

Zach Harwood
